

President to Faculty: SUNY Plattsburgh is 'Healthy, Vigorous'

In his welcoming speech to the faculty last Friday morning, Dr. Charles Warren reported on the college's progress during the past year, particularly in six areas of concern and focus which he had discussed in his speech to the faculty one year ago.

"This is a healthy, vigorous institution," he began. "And we have much to be encouraged about in the accomplishments of recent years."

In the area of improvement of the freshman experience, Warren reported that the Task Force's "accomplishments to date are both impressive and hopeful, including the establishment of a freshman residence program, a freshman mentor network and a focus on freshmen academic experiences — all highly interdependent and inextricably linked."

Last fall, Warren proposed creation of a Permanent Commission on Women, which was subsequently accomplished. "Thus far," he reported Friday, "the work of the group on all fronts — including recruitment, curriculum development, fairness in personnel procedures, and professional development — has progressed significantly."

He listed numerous efforts made to "heighten multicultural awareness during the past year," and reiterated the contents of the joint statement made last February by the Commission on Women and the College's Affirmative Action Committee, which advocated the importance of educational as well as "fairness" reasons for hiring female and minority professionals.

Warren cited the progress made in revising and improving the college's General Education Program and commended the process through which the new program has been formulated.

Warren spoke last fall of the problems caused by insufficient funding of the college by the state. He reviewed those problems on Friday, and said, "What we must do is to continue to increase our collective efforts to make our case before SUNY Central, the Division of Budget, the Legislature and the

(Continued on page 2)

Second FIPSE Grant in as Many Years Funds 'Transfer Network'

The U.S. Department of Education's Fund for the Improvement of Post-Secondary Education (FIPSE) has awarded SUNY Plattsburgh its second grant in two years.

Over the next three years, the college will receive $252,712 to develop a "New Transfer Student Network" in partnership with 10 two-year institutions. Project directors are Dr. Suzann Buckley, associate dean of arts and science, and Dr. Ingrun Lafleur, associate vice president for academic affairs.

Plattsburgh President Charles O. Warren commented, "We are very proud to announce this latest grant. FIPSE grants are highly competitive and it is extremely rare for colleges to obtain them in consecutive years. Dr. Buckley and Dr. Lafleur are to be commended for their work on the grant application."

Last fall the college received a three-year $369,900 grant from FIPSE in support of its Value-Added Project. The first grant similarly involves inter-institutional collaboration among SUNY units.

Dr. Buckley

Dr. Lafleur

Lafleur explained the latest proposal to receive funding. "Plattsburgh's history as a pioneer in developing articulation agreements with two-year colleges led us to this next important step. This network is designed to raise the quality of academic experience and increase the persistence level of transfer students.

Each year, she said, between 650 and 700 students transfer into SUNY Plattsburgh, most of them as

(Continued on page 2)

Waller's Feud Tells 'Real Story' of Hatfields and McCoys

Feud: Hatfields, McCoys and Social Change in Appalachia, 1860-1900, written by Dr. Altina Waller, professor of history, and published this summer by the University of North Carolina Press, has gone into its second printing.

The book tells the real story of the Hatfields and McCoys and the Tug Valley of West Virginia and Kentucky, placing the feud in the context of community and regional change in the era of industrialization. Waller argues that the legendary feud was not an outgrowth of an inherently violent mountain culture, but rather one manifestation of a contest for social and economic control between local people and outside industrial capitalists.

Waller spent nearly 10 years studying the famous feud and its participants. Much of her research focused on courthouse records that previously had been unexplored by historians. "It was quickly apparent," she said, "that not only was there more than enough material for a book, but that book would provide a whole new interpretation of the feud and its relationship to the social and economic transformation of the region."

The book has received considerable praise. Paul Boyer of the University of Wisconsin wrote, "Deeply researched, engagingly written and intellectually sophisticated, Feud is social history of a very high order." The Library Journal said, "(Waller's) observations are fresh and often demythologizing. . . the work of an enlightened and skeptical intelligence," and "Publisher's Weekly" calls the book "a rich piece of scholarship" and adds, "While Waller's study is invaluable for Americanists, she has written an engaging work that, quite simply, is an enjoyable read."

President Outlines Progress, Concerns (Continued from page 1)

public . . . in a sophisticated, coordinated and unrelenting manner."

He concluded with a discussion of the planning process established during the 1987-88 academic year and distributed the second draft of the resultant plan. Warren encouraged the wide discussion and involvement in its continuing review and revision.

Warren outlined three of the plan's major directions, which will be implemented in the near future. First, he said, a Task Force on Graduate Education will be established in late September with the charge to examine the administration, scope, future, impact and quality of all existing or proposed graduate programs.

Second, the Deans' Cabinet will begin discussions soon with the intention of creating, in October, a Task Force on Teacher Education and the Liberal Arts and Sciences.

Finally, he said, under a FIPSE grant received by Drs. Suzann Buckley and Ingrun Lafleur (see related story, page 1), the college will, in partnership with ten two-year institutions, work toward the creation of a "New Transfer Student Network."

Summing up, Warren said, "We face a future that is filled with challenges, opportunities and frustrations. We will not be able to do all we would want to do nor all that we are doing. We must make our choices based on clear and common values, open and honest communication and with an unyielding and ever stronger sense of quality."

(The full text of President Warren's speech is printed as an insert to this week's "Weekly."

FIPSE Grant Funds Transfer Network (Continued from page 1)

associate degree holders from SUNY's two-year colleges. Additionally, Lafleur said, 50% of each graduating class enter Plattsburgh as transfer students.

Lafleur continued, "SUNY Plattsburgh will work in partnership with its six largest 'sending' colleges — Adirondack, Canton, Clinton, Cobleskill, Hudson Valley and North Country — as well as four colleges chosen in consultation with FIPSE for their special programs and populations. Those four are Monroe, Nassau, Onondaga and LaGuardia. Nine of the participating two-year institutions are SUNY colleges. LaGuardia Community College is a member of the City University of New York."

Buckley described the proposed transfer network. "Based on our analyses of transfer students' needs to become more academically involved, to interact more effectively with faculty, to raise academic skills and to receive better advising, we will work with the 10 two-year institutions to develop a faculty/student mentor program consisting of faculty advisors, study groups, skills tutors, intercollegiate seminars and 'bridge' courses. We will create a Transfer Project Advisory Board with members from each campus. Here at Plattsburgh, we will develop a faculty mentor system in which each faculty participant will work closely with 12 - 18 new transfer students, a Transfer Student Advisory Council, and support services provided through a Transfer Center staffed by a Transfer Coordinator."

The program will serve as a model for all SUNY institutions, as well as for all institutions committed to making access to baccalaureate programs meaningful for two-year college transfer students.

Nine Earn Presidential Scholarships

618 Share $359M in Foundation Scholarships for Academic Year

A record 618 undergraduates began the 1988-89 academic year this week with Plattsburgh College Foundation scholarships or grants totaling $359,177.

As announced by Foundation President Curtis E. Shipman during the year-opening breakfast program last Friday, the total likewise represents a record amount in supplemental financial aid provided by the organization. The Foundation has been raising funds for scholarships (and other purposes) for 25 years, and it has ranked consistently at or near the top among SUNY's Arts and Science Colleges in terms of both number of awards and dollars allocated.

Nine students — six freshmen and three sophomores — began the year as recipients of College Foundation Presidential Scholarships. Presidential Scholars receive the equivalent of full-tuition. The scholarships are awarded solely on the basis of academic merit. Freshmen nominees must have achieved a high school average of at least 92 and combined SAT scores of 1100 or higher; sophomore candidates must have earned a cumulative grade-point average of 3.5 or higher during their first year at the college.

According to Dr. David Mowry, professor of philosophy and director of the college's Honors Program, the mean SAT score and high school average, respectively, for freshmen Presidential Scholars were 1226 and 93.7. The mean gpa for the sophomore recipients was 3.906.

Mowry said that besides test scores and averages, Presidential Scholarship candidates are required to write an essay on a specific topic. Evaluation of the essay is an added factor in selecting the scholarship recipients.

The freshman Presidential Scholars, their majors and hometowns are: Sharon Baker, secondary education mathematics, Cossackie; Michelle Coderre, undeclared, Fairport; Michelle Delaria, environmental science, Amsterdam; Linda Halvorsen, biology, Massapequa Park; Karen Jameson, accounting, Rouses Point; and Jill Jones, biology, Whitehall.

The sophomore Presidential Scholars are: Tanya Cohen, anthropology, Mineville; Michael Dashnaw, business, Peru; and Kelly Kollar, undeclared, Johnstown.

Starr Appointed Assistant Dean of Professional Studies Faculty

Dr. William J. Starr, professor and coordinator of doctoral studies at Delta State University in Cleveland, Mississippi for the past four years, has joined the college as assistant to the dean of the Faculty of Professional Studies. His appointment was effective on August 15.

Starr will be responsible for assisting Dean Nicholas F. Troisi in planning, developing, implementing and monitoring programs and services offered by the Faculty, and for helping to coordinate the human and physical resources that support those programs and services.

Prior to Delta State, Starr served the University of Missouri at St. Louis for 15 years, including the last five as associate professor and chair of the university's department of educational studies. He also taught school for several years at both the elementary and secondary levels.

Starr received the B.S. degree from Clarion State College, the M.Ed from The Pennsylvania State University, and the Ed.D (1970) from the University of Missouri at Columbia.

Zielinski to Direct Center for Art, Music and Theatre

Richard Probert, director of the Center for Art, Music and Theatre at SUNY Plattsburgh, will be on professional leave from the college for the 1988-89 academic year. Dr. Ann Zielinski, professor of art history, has been named acting director of the Center for that period.

Zielinski joined the faculty at Plattsburgh in 1970 and served as acting Center director in 1982. She earned her bachelor's degree, her master's degree and her doctorate from Syracuse University. She has won two grants from the National Endowment for the Humanities to support her research and has published several articles on medieval sculpture. Her current research project involves twelfth century Parisian capitals.

Probert was named to the post of Center director in 1983. He founded and has served as the only conductor of the Champlain Valley Oratorio Society. Probert received his musical training at Wilkes College and Indiana University, and has also studied at the Peabody Conservatory and the Royal Conservatory of Music in Toronto.

'88-'89 Begins With Enrollment on Target, Student Quality Up

SUNY Plattsburgh began the last academic year in its first century of educational service when residence halls opened for new and returning students on Saturday, and enrollment and housing projections point to a banner year as the college prepares to celebrate its centennial in 1989.

Although final, accurate data won't be available for several weeks, preliminary figures based on tuition and room and board deposits show that the college has surpassed its enrollment goal by a comfortable margin, and that residence hall occupancy is slightly above capacity.

"We're where we wanted to be going into the new academic year," commented Richard Higgins, director of admissions at the college. He noted that admissions closed for freshmen on May 10, the earliest ever, and on August 15 for transfer students.

"Looking at deposits, and considering reports from the registrar, bursar and housing offices," Higgins continued, "we see a very bright picture. Allowing

Challenges Here to Stay

While the college's fall semester enrollment goal apparently has been met and quality indicators among new students are expected to increase, admissions Director Richard Higgins says the campus community will continue to face challenges in formulating future enrollment plans.

"Many factors contribute to our success," he said. "Foremost has been a combination of aggressive recruitment, first-rate public relations and publications, the range of services open to students and the availability of financial aid, particularly College Foundation grants and scholarships, and student satisfaction with their programs and instruction.

"However, we have data showing that the number of high school graduates from New York State schools will decline by 35,000 over the next seven years, and we draw roughly 95 percent of our enrollment from this state. To remain competitive, we'll have to support and improve upon initiatives that attract qualified students to our college."

for the expected loss of some students who paid deposits but who will choose another college or not to attend college at all, we believe we are slightly ahead of target, which called for an enrollment of 1,025 freshmen, 650 transfer students and 125 students who have been re-admitted.

Higgins pointed out that the past year's applicant pool of nearly 10,500 prospective students was the highest ever. That, he said, made it possible to be more selective, and selectivity shows up in the academic credentials of the college's newest students. The average freshman came to Plattsburgh with an 85% high school average and with standardized test scores of 980 on the SAT and 22 on the ACT. The typical transfer student earned a 2.85 grade-point average in his or her two-year college curriculum. Minority student enrollment also appears to have increased. Higgins said that of 80 percent of the accepted new students who chose to identify their ethnicity, 4.4 percent indicated they are from minority group backgrounds. The total minority student population at SUNY Plattsburgh is about 3.9 percent.

Meanwhile, students occupying 25 rooms began the academic year in a three-to-a-room situation, and 50 others were on a waiting list for residence hall accommodations. William Laundry, director of campus life, said that "tripling" comes to an end normally through first-semester attrition. But, he added, it will continue until the 50 on the waiting list have secured campus housing.

SUNY Plattsburgh's newest first-time students will be the first to participate in a "Freshman Experience" program instituted this fall as a means to enhance their chances of academic success by easing their transition from high school to college. Thirty all-freshmen floors have been established in campus residence halls, and they are being staffed by 30 specially trained resident assistants. A faculty mentor and two student peer mentors also are assigned to each floor. The program has been defined as "sustained and coordinated activities designed to make the learning experiences of freshmen more meaningful inside and outside the classroom, to increase faculty and student interaction and to help freshmen succeed academically."

The new academic year also marks formal implementation of two new academic programs. With only word-of-mouth promotion, the college's Center for Human Resources has enrolled more than 40 students in the first group of hotel and restaurant management majors. About 30 graduate students are expected to register for the master of science in teaching (M.S.T.) program approved this past summer by the New York State Education Department. It includes tracks in elementary and secondary education, and is designed for graduates who may not have taken courses in education but who have since discovered they want to enter the teaching profession.

SUNY Plattsburgh, founded in 1889 as the Plattsburgh Normal School, became a State Teachers College in 1942 and an original member of the State University of New York with the founding of the University in 1948. A broadly representative campus committee is planning a comprehensive centennial celebration to take place beginning in 1989.

Text of President Warren's Address to the Faculty, August 26, 1988

Maya Angelou recently wrote, "Quality is an ideal. . . always out there in front of you."

Today, we begin our 99th academic session. We do so in anticipation of a grand centennial celebration — a celebration that will reflect on a proud past and that will help us continue to prepare for an even stronger future. As we move toward our centennial year and on toward the close of the century, we also do so with a renewed and a more collectively conscious commitment to greater and deeper dimensions of quality.

This is a healthy, vigorous institution. And we have much to be encouraged about the accomplishments of recent years.

Last year, for example, we outlined six areas of concern and focus. Those areas were: the freshman experience; minority recruitment and retention (students, faculty, and staff); the concerns, status and education of women; the general education program; underfunding in the state budget; and the development of a campus-wide planning process. Over the past 12 months, we have made respectable progress in almost every area — although much remains to be done!

First, the Freshman Experience.

At the September 1, 1987 opening breakfast, we announced the formation of a Freshman Experience Task Force. The purpose of this ad hoc group, with a finite life expectancy, was to build on the discussions and concerns expressed by the campus community over the past several years and to develop a focused, strategic program for enhancing the academic, cultural and social lives of freshmen. In summary, a program of "sustained and coordinated activities designed to make the learning experiences of freshmen inside and outside of the classroom more meaningful, to increase faculty and student interaction, and, most importantly, to help freshmen succeed academically." (And let me underscore: to succeed in a climate of increasingly rigorous and fair academic standards.)

To be concise, the Task Force's accomplishments to date are both impressive and hopeful, including the establishment of a freshman residence program, a freshman mentor network and a focus on freshman academic experiences — all highly interdependent and inextricably linked.

Beginning this year, all resident freshmen will reside on all freshmen floors, each supported by a specially trained resident assistant, one to two peer mentors, and one to two faculty mentors. Enthusiasm and dedication within the mentor network are readily observed. With some nervousness, Cheryl Hogle and Ingie Lafleur began to call for volunteers last April. The response was tremendous! Immediately, forty of you came forth as faculty mentors and the student response was equally heartening. Meeting among the mentors occurred throughout late spring and over the summer, and the network is in place.

Cheryl Hogle is coordinating the overall program, supported by a small steering committee comprised of Cheryl, Ann Hasting, Ingie Lafleur and Lary Shaffer. Lary Shaffer will have the critically important role of working with the deans and many of his teaching colleagues to help insure strong, rewarding, demanding and supportive academic experiences for freshmen. (On that point, I would like to request that those of you who are teaching classes with large freshmen enrollments remain for a few minutes after the breakfast in order to meet with Lary.) The Freshman Program Steering Committee will work closely throughout the year with the Task Force and various faculty and administrative leaders. And yes, an evaluative mechanism is ready to put in place.

These efforts, although central, are just part of our determination to have an enriched, academically centered campus culture. Other directions include the following:

- Resident freshmen will be allowed to register automobiles beginning in the spring semester, unless they are on academic probation.
- Freshmen will be eligible to rush for fraternity or sorority membership in the spring, unless they are on academic probation.
- The establishment of a Writing Center possibly within a new Learning Resources Center has been partially explored by a broadly representative group of faculty and administrators and will be an important agenda item this fall.
- The Office of Student Affairs and the Student Association are expanding their efforts to increase a sense of civic responsibility and social sensitivity among students living in or walking through surrounding neighborhoods.
- No rushing activities will occur within or around residence halls, dining halls, the library or academic buildings.
- An opening convocation, with faculty in regalia and new students in caps and gowns, will be held Wednesday, September 14 to welcome our newly matriculated students and to help underscore serious academic expectations. Rockwell Blake will receive an honorary degree, and our college theme for the next two years, "Scholar and Citizen: Opportunity and Obligation" will be introduced.

and

- Student Association President Jackie Cianfrocco and her co-leaders will launch an intensive, focused program to encourage the responsible use of alcohol.

I have spent some time on the Freshman Experience — not because it should be our singular initiative, but because, as I am sure we all recognize, the linkages between clear expectations for freshmen involvement and success and our ability to achieve new levels of institutional quality are profound.

And, now, to some other profoundly important areas.

The Commission on Women

One of my first acts as president was to endorse the recommendation of a Presidential Advisory Committee to establish a Permanent Commission on Women, whose function would be to assess the impact of policies and practices on female members of the college community and to advise me on gender-related concerns. The permanent commission, co-chaired by Suzann Buckley and Mark Cohen, was appointed and convened in early October. It was empowered to seek information and help from campus offices and from other units in SUNY; to initiate research on gender-related issues; to offer advice concerning procedures and the determination of complaints in respect to gender bias; and to prepare an annual progress and status report for dissemination through the college.

Thus far, the work of the group on all fronts — including recruitment, curriculum development, fairness in personnel procedures, and professional development — has progressed significantly. They have worked well with groups with overlapping concerns to produce a coordinated agenda reflected clearly in our five-year plan.

The Committee on Minority Concerns

Often during the past year, national media focused on what they interpreted to be growing tensions and increasing incidents on college and university campuses involving minorities in conflict with administrations and other student groups. At Plattsburgh, we believe we made substantial progress in heightening multicultural awareness during the past year. Our Minority Concerns Committee, composed of all campus constituencies, was especially active. This group, in cooperation with Akeba, our Black student organization, and our Office of Campus Life, sponsored "Black History Month" in February. The observance included a Pin Points Theatre production of "1001 Black Inventions," a showing of the acclaimed six-part film series "Eye on the Prize," and a speaking appearance by Black activist Bobby Seale. Later, several groups sponsored a Cultural Awareness Week, and two minority student forums. The latter were particularly enlightening in that they focused on two important questions: the extent of progress our campus has made in addressing the concerns of students from ethnic backgrounds underrepresented in our student population, and what should be our priorities for further action. Discussion on the first question clearly showed that a dramatic increase in programming by and for minority students had occurred. It also demonstrated increasing student involvement in student government offices and committees and as orientation and resident assistant staff and members of Faculty Senate committees. Priorities for the future center on the need for more such forums and awareness events, for improvement in the campus communication process and a proposal to extend multicultural affairs services on campus. Such services would include informal counselling, tutoring, peer support and career guidance advisement for minority students. Leaders in this area also would encourage cooperation among minority organizations in planning cultural and social events and activities, support minority recruitment and retention efforts, and, generally promote multicultural awareness. As a result of our interactions last spring, many of us began to understand with greater clarity just how impoverished our campus would be without the presence and contributions of our ethnically diverse students and colleagues.

Clearly, the history and practice of liberal education identify our type of higher education as an ethical enterprise. And no where is what one ought to do in this highly pluralistic, culturally complex world clearer than it is relative to those who have been disadvantaged or discriminated against as a function of gender, race or class. To aspire to claims of high quality is to recognize those pervasively critical challenges and to respond with intelligence, sensitivity and dogged determination. To that end, we happily accepted and established as policy a statement issued jointly last February by the Commission on Women and the College's Affirmative Action Committee.

The statement advocated the importance of educational as well as "fairness" reasons for hiring female and minority-group professionals, particularly to fill teaching ranks. An abbreviated version of the statement's rationale follows:

- Male and female students, minority and white, need to interact with female and minority-group professionals in positions of authority. (They) should be experienced — and comfortable — when they encounter professional women and/or minority individuals.
- (Students' academic) performance is affected by the degree to which barriers of social difference separate student and teacher. It is essential that we broaden the representation of female and minority group faculty if the substantial female and growing minority student populations are to receive equal educational opportunity.

- There must be role models to assist minority and female students who aspire to professional careers. We therefore request that minority and/or female status be considered a valued professional attribute in a candidate because it will contribute to the quality of education provided by this institution.

The General Education Program

A year ago, I asked Jerry Supple, Ingie Lafleur, and Jack Myers, as Chairperson of the Faculty Senate, to take the lead in incorporating three previous years of debate and discussion into the formulation of a revised, improved General Education Program. Shortly thereafter, a special Senate Committee, chaired by Ray Domenico, was formed and the process began in earnest. It was a lively and inclusive process, including chairpersons, directors, staff, faculties as groups, departments, the Senate and open campus-wide meetings. And last May, I received from the Senate, and subsequently signed, a new program, to begin in the fall of 1989, that substantially strengthens the requirements in learning skills, the humanities, sciences, the arts and the natural sciences. Further, it calls for serious emphasis on active learning, new scholarship on women and minorities, global awareness, interdisciplinary courses and high standards.

This year, we must seriously attend to plans for implementation, implications for particular programs and a mechanism for ongoing program assessment and enhancement.

Whether or not we as individuals are directly involved in the teaching of the program, we as college faculty members must share as strong a commitment to this phase of our baccalaureate as we do to education in the major.

An Underfunded State Budget

The next area of concern identified last year remains a chronic, yet increasingly acute concern: that is, an underfunded state budget.

To review:

- We have lost 91 positions in the last 15 years.
- We have increased enrollment by over 1,000 students during that same period, while increasing the diversity and complexity of our curricula.
- In the last few years, we have significantly increased our numbers of part-time students and adult learners. . . and graduate enrollments are again rising rapidly.
- We did not receive 1.1 million dollars and 20 positions approved by the Trustees last October, and we must return approximately $700,000 of an apparent one million dollar increase in our 1988-89 budget.
- The 17-Campus Computer Procurement and Library Automation projects are unfunded at this time.
- Early forecasts predict an even more stringent budget climate for 1989-90.

Should we despair? Well, only momentarily, if for catharsis.

What we must do is to continue to increase our collective efforts to make our case before SUNY Central, the Division of Budget, the Legislature and the public. We must do so in a sophisticated, coordinated and unrelenting manner. Don Garrant and his staff, union officers, College Council members, student and faculty leaders and others are increasingly active, and they are open to ideas and suggestions for initiatives. Please let us hear from you. Mal Lavery is building on a strong tradition of alumni loyalty and has recently reorganized alumni leadership throughout the state and beyond. Alumni Clubs are being formed
(Continued at conclusion of 'this week on campus')

this week on campus

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 1 – THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 8
Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the campus and public.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 1

10 am - 3 pm — Free Gift-Pax. Just show your student ID. Sponsored by the American Marketing Association. Angell Center Lobby.

noon - 3 pm — WPLT Radio Station Open House sponsored by the Opening Week Committee. Open to the campus. Yokum 202D.

4 pm — Faculty of Arts and Science — meeting/reception. Open to members only. Angell Center Orchard Room.

4 pm — Feinberg Library Tour sponsored by the Opening Week Committee. Feinberg Library Main Lobby.

5 - 7 pm — Newman Center Open House and Barbeque. Come meet the staff while enjoying supper. Open to the campus. John XXIII Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

7:30 pm — Slide Presentation — "The Adirondacks: A Place to Be" by William Crosby. Sponsored by the Opening Week Committee. Yokum 202.

8 pm — Interest meeting for a new Greek organization, Phi Sigma. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 2

10 am - 3 pm — Free Gift-Pax. Just show your student ID. Sponsored by the American Marketing Association. Angell Center Lobby.

1 pm — Feinberg Library Tour sponsored by the Opening Week Committee. Feinberg Library Main Lobby.

7 pm — Good-Better-Best Aerobics sponsored by the Opening Week Committee. Open to the campus. Angell Center Ballroom A.

8 pm - midnight — Hawaiian Party complete with music, dancing and tropical refreshments. Sponsored by the Opening Week Committee. Open to the campus. Angell Center Ballroom B.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 3

noon — Trip to Ausable Chasm. Bus transportation provided. Sponsored by the Opening Week Committee. Open to the campus. Tickets $1 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Bus departs from the Angell Center.

1 - 5 pm — "Beatle Magic the Show" — Courtyard Concert sponsored by the Student Association. Angell Center Courtyard.

9 pm - 1 am — 21-Club at the Point sponsored by Marriott. Open only to those over the age of 21. Angell Center Point/Snack Bar.

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 4

1 - 5 pm — Summertime — Anytime Beach Party, starring Ray Boston. Sponsored by the Student Association and the Opening Week Committee. Open to the campus. Angell Center Courtyard.

6 - 8 pm — Open House at the Tutoring Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Room 118.

6:45 & 9:15 pm — Student Association Film Committee presents "Moonstruck" starring Cher. Open to the campus. S.A. members 50¢, faculty/staff $1. Tickets on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 5

3:30 pm - dusk — All professional staff and families are invited to the UUP/Management-sponsored Labor Day Picnic. Admission is $1/person to a maximum of $5/family at the door. Valcour.

8:30 pm — Greek Council meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

10 pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 6

11 am - 3 pm — CV/PH Blood Drive sponsored by Alpha Phi Gamma Sorority. Angell Center Ballroom.

noon — Issues — Ideas — Forum sponsored by the Minority Concerns Committee. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

noon — Reception for Disabled Students sponsored by Special Services Project. Open to the campus. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4 - 6 pm — All-Faculty Meeting to discuss the rationale, intent, and wisdom of amending the Faculty Bylaws to establish a Standing Committee on General Education. Open to members only. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 pm — Triples Workshop sponsored by the Residents' Assistance Program. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 pm — Greek Week kick-off sponsored by Campus Life. Angell Center Ballroom.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 7

4 - 6 pm — Intramural Entries due for Men's and Women's Volleyball, Men's Touch Football. Sponsored by Recreational Sports. Open to the campus. Angell Center Desk.

4 pm — Mandatory meeting for all officers of Sports Clubs seeking active status for the 1988-89 school year. Sponsored by Recreational Sports. Open to the campus. Memorial Hall 301.

4 pm — Men's Soccer vs. Castleton State. Field House Soccer Field.

4:15 pm — "You Can Do It: Survival and Success in College" a workshop sponsored by Special Services Project. Open to the campus. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7 pm — Women's Volleyball vs. Paul Smith's College. Field House.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 8

12:15 pm — Inaugural Women's Studies Forum sponsored by Women's Studies Program and College Auxiliary Services. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4 - 6 pm — Intramural Entries due for Men's and Women's Volleyball, Men's Touch Football. Sponsored by Recreational Sports. Open to the campus. Angell Center Desk.

4:15 pm — "You Can Do It: Survival and Success in College" a workshop sponsored by Special Services Project. Open to the campus. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7 pm — Student Association Organization and Club Fair sponsored by Resident Assistant Programming. Open to the campus. Angell Center Ballroom.

Text of President's Address (Continued)

with a committee structure that will establish groups focusing on government relations, fundraising, admissions, and career life planning.

Along the lines of helping ourselves, the Plattsburgh College Foundation continues to be a source of strength and hope (as you heard earlier from Curt Shipman). And the addition of Dan Milliman as Director of Development adds balance and potential to our fundraising efforts and permits us to move into relatively unexplored areas including special gifts for equipment, improved facilities, endowed chairs, endowed professional activity funds, capital projects and increased planned giving opportunities.

Concurrently, through sponsored programs and research you are to be commended for enhancing institutional quality and advancing knowledge in a most impressive fashion. For 1987-88, you have brought to campus more than 2.5 million dollars, with 22 applications pending.

In short, what we must do is be as internally strong as possible. We must celebrate our diversity by proclaiming an unrelenting commitment to unity.

And that brings us naturally to a discussion of the planning process that was called for a year ago.

The College Planning Process

Our primary goal in strategic planning is to establish an inclusive, thoughtful planning process that establishes major directions and areas of emphasis that are widely known and generally accepted throughout the campus community. The plan should also enable departments, centers and offices to prepare more specific plans that reflect and reinforce its component parts.

NOTES

The Office of Campus Life is sponsoring a Bus to Montreal on Saturday, September 10th from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tickets are $9.00 round trip and on sale at the Angell Center Desk beginning Monday, September 5, 1988. The bus departs from the Angell Center and goes to Dominion Square in Montreal.

Applications for the 1989 In Vitro Cell Biology & Biotechnology Program are currently being accepted. The deadline for submission of applications is October 15. Application materials can be obtained from the Biology secretary in Beaumont Hall 207. Further information about the IVCBB Program and arrangements for a visit to Miner Center can be obtained by calling Dr. William Graziadei at 1-846-7144.

Reception scheduled for new Director of Libraries. Cerise Oberman, Director of Libraries, will be guest of honor at a welcoming reception on Thursday, September 8, from 4 - 6 p.m., in the Cardinal Lounge. College faculty and staff are invited to meet Ms. Oberman, a native New Yorker and SUNY alumna. She comes to Plattsburgh from the University of Minnesota, where she served as Public Services Planning Officer.

To that end, two lead planning teams were formed in early fall. They are the Faculty Senate Committee on Resources and Planning and the President's Council. Many meetings and two retreats were held throughout the year, and there was broad campus participation — including the Faculty Senate, Chairpersons, Directors, Offices, Departments, the entire Faculty of Professional Studies, student leaders and the College Council — in the preparation of and reaction to the first draft of the five-year plan (1988-93). The second draft is presented to you today. Over the next month, it should be discussed widely, including the involvement of the Faculty Senate and the Student Senate. On or around October 1, the 1988-93 plan will be placed in effect. Immediately thereafter, the two lead teams will initiate the process for the development of the 1989-94 plan. Through annual review and extension, we should develop a stronger system of communication and an enhanced sense of mission and common cause. Please, participate fully.

In anticipation of implementing some of the major directions of the plan directly, let me mention three areas of focus — in addition to the writing and learning resource centers mentioned earlier — for the coming year.

Through the leadership of the Deans' Cabinet, a Task Force on Graduate Education will be established in late September. The group will be charged to examine the administration, scope, future, impact and quality of all existing or proposed graduate programs. They will be expected to consult widely and openly and to report in the spring to the Deans' Cabinet and to the Faculty Senate.

Similarly, the Deans Cabinet will soon begin discussions with various colleagues with the intention of establishing, in mid to late October, a Task Force on Teacher Education and the Liberal Arts and Sciences. Dr. Wolfe, other colleagues from the Center for Teacher Education and selected colleagues from the Faculty of Arts and Science and the School of Business and Economics will probably be asked to take the lead in this effort.

Finally, I am very pleased to announce that Suzann Buckley and Ingrun Lafleur and the College are the recipients of a FIPSE Grant entitled, "The New Transfer Student Network: Retention and Quality Through Student-Faculty Interaction."

The three-year, $252,000 program will be carried out in partnership with ten sister two-year institutions and will involve the creation of a coordinated faculty/student mentor program comprised of "bridge" courses, faculty development activities, peer advisement and skills tutoring.

This program is in obvious concert with our freshman program and our overall goal of increased quality. Each year, more than 35 percent of our new students and fifty percent of our graduates transferred from other institutions. Many of you will be asked for advice or to participate. I hope you will respond positively.

Conclusion

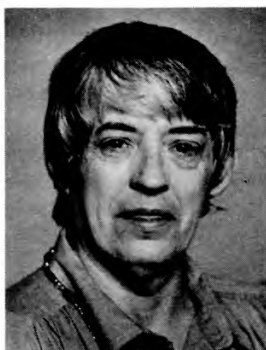

The classical allusion dealing with the worst of times and the best of times is probably a bit too dramatic. . . but we certainly face a future that is filled with challenges, opportunities and frustrations. We will not be able to do all that we would want to do nor all that we are doing. We must make our choices based on clear and common values, open and honest communication and with an unyielding and ever stronger sense of quality.

Welcome back!

Co-op Program Gets Government Funding for 18-Campus Project

SUNY Plattsburgh's highly successful Cooperative Education Program will serve as a model for a cooperative venture with 17 other SUNY campuses, according to Dr. Ann Hasting, associate vice president for student affairs.

Hasting is the project director for a three-year $293,850 "Innovative Demonstration Grant" funded by the U.S. Department of Education. Only four of these grants, described as "designed to demonstrate or determine the feasibility or value of innovative methods of cooperative education," were awarded nationwide during this funding period.

Hasting explained the project, "Eighteen SUNY campuses of diversified orientation and mission — three arts and science colleges, 12 community colleges, and three agriculture and technical colleges — all located in rural settings, will participate. Elements of our program here at Plattsburgh will be implemented at each institution. They will be tested, measured and evaluated, and the outcomes of the successful and unsuccessful implementation for each type of institution will be used to develop a model for a rural co-op program. Each institution will also participate in a placement network, using a centralized data base, to share information on employers and career opportunities."

SUNY Plattsburgh's Cooperative Education pro-

(Continued on page 2)

Weekly

Special Collections
Feinberg Lib., P.O.U.C.
Does Not Circulate

Published by the Office of College Relations and Development for the Plattsburgh College Community • September 7, 1988

Blake to Receive Honorary Degree

First Fall Convocation to Introduce College's Two-Year Theme

The inaugural fall academic convocation, created to welcome the college's newest students and to "help underscore serious academic expectations" of them, will be held next Wednesday (Sept. 14) at 4 p.m. in the Amite Plaza adjacent to the Myers Fine Arts and Angell College Center buildings.

Classes scheduled from 3 to 6 p.m. on Wednesday will be cancelled to allow for full participation by students and faculty. Highlights of the program will include conferral of the State University's honorary degree of Doctor of Music upon noted opera star Rockwell Blake, a North Country native, and introduction of "Scholar and Citizen: Opportunity and Obligation" as the college's theme for the next two years.

"The convocation will set the tone for the entire academic year," remarked President Charles O. Warren, adding that the program, like its spring prototype, will become an annual event. "We encourage the entire college community to turn out in full force."

First-year and new transfer students will sit in groups with their freshman mentors. They will assemble at 3:30 p.m. in Memorial Hall gymnasium. Faculty will gather for the procession in the Angell Center Ballrooms at about the same time. The line of march will differ from commencement programs in that faculty will be expected to sit with departmental colleagues.

An all-college picnic on the field behind Memorial Hall will follow the convocation ceremony. Tickets for the picnic (students need only to present their I.D. cards) are $4 per adult and $1 for children under 8 years of age. They will be available at the buffet line, but faculty and staff are urged to purchase them in advance at the Angell Center Information Desk.

Honorary degree recipient Blake, a graduate of Peru Central High School, specializes in the difficult coloratura singing style called "Bel Canto." In 1978 he received the first Richard Tucker Music Foundation Award, presented in recognition of his outstanding growth potential in music.

Blake sings regularly with the San Francisco Opera, the Chicago Lyric Opera, the Vienna Staatsoper, the Hamburg Staatsoper and the Teatro Carlo Felice in Genoa. This past year he was among ten opera singers selected to perform for the Prince and Princess of Wales.

(In the event of rain on Wednesday, the convocation program will be moved to the Field House. Details about this alternate plan are contained in a memorandum being circulated to faculty and professional staff by the Office of the President.)

Robertson, Sturm Assume New Posts in PEARS Department

The academic and administrative reorganization of the Department of Physical Education, Athletics and Recreational Sports (PEARS) has been completed with the appointment of two persons to key posts.

Robertson

Sturm

Dr. David Robertson has assumed the position as department chairperson, with responsibility for the PEARS academic program, and Phoebe Sturm will serve as assistant director of athletics. Sturm will assist Director of Athletics Peter Luguri in administering the college's intercollegiate sports program.

Robertson, associate professor in the PEARS department and a member of the college's faculty since 1962, has served as head coach of men's and women's swimming and diving since that sport was established at Plattsburgh State 25 years ago. He holds the doctoral degree from The Ohio State University.

Sturm, an assistant professor, joined the college's faculty in 1965 and has served as head coach of women's basketball — a role she will continue — for the past two decades. She holds the M.S. degree from East Stroudsburg State College.

Meanwhile, two newcomers have been appointed to part-time coaching positions. Suzy Johnson, an assistant coach here for the past two seasons, will take the reins of the men's and women's swimming and diving team. Jennifer Kangas, a 1984 Plattsburgh State graduate and former Cardinal volleyball player, will assume coaching duties in that sport.

Academic All-America

Senior cross country and indoor/outdoor track star Kathy Kane receives a plaque from SUNY Plattsburgh President Charles O. Warren signifying her selection to the 1987-88 National GTE Corp. Academic All-America At-large Third Team in both sports. Looking on is Dr. Eldridge Roark, Vice President for Student Affairs. Accounting major Kane was nominated and voted upon by the College Sports Directors of America (COSIDA) on the basis of her athletic ability and her accomplishments in achieving "the highest standards of academic excellence." Kane, from Elmira, is a resident assistant, a former Omicron Delta Kappa "Sophomore of the Year," a member of the SUNYAC Cross Country Hall of Fame, and a 1987 selection by the 49-member-institution New York State Women's Collegiate Athletic Association as one of that year's top 10 scholar-athletes.

Co-op Grant (Continued from page 1)

gram was established in 1982. Since its inception, more than 1,200 students have participated in the program, which allows students to gain hands-on experience in their major field in a paid internship placement.

Articulation Agreement Signed With College of Optometry

SUNY Plattsburgh and the SUNY College of Optometry have signed a formal Memorandum of Understanding intended to "coordinate the education of students in selected programs at both institutions for the proposed optometry studies, and in particular, to facilitate the transition from undergraduate to professional studies."

Under the agreement, students from Plattsburgh who have completed a designated course of study for three years will, upon application, be considered for admission to the College of Optometry. Students admitted to the Optometry program will, upon satisfactory completion of an approved one-year course of study at the College of Optometry, be awarded an appropriate baccalaureate degree (B.A. or B.S.) from Plattsburgh. The agreement will allow students to complete the requirements for both the undergraduate and the professional degree with one less year of study.

Dr. Houngh Liu, dean of arts and science, said that the current affiliation agreement specifies that, to be eligible, Plattsburgh students must major in biological sciences. However, he added that if other major programs are found to dovetail with the College of Optometry's requirements and the first year professional program, those majors may be added to the agreement.

SED Funds Teacher Education Center's 'Q-CARD' Project

SUNY Plattsburgh's Center for Teacher Education and Educational Services has initiated a project that focuses on implementing Regents Action Plan guidelines for elementary and middle school science requirements. The project integrates laboratory skill development with teaching the scientific learning process.

The project is entitled "Q-CARD: Teaching the Scientific Process," with the acronym standing for Question, Collection, Analysis, Results, and Discussion. It is supported by a $34,000 Title II State Education Department grant for a period continuing through next June.

Project director Dr. Michael Wolfe, director of the Center for Teacher Education, explained that the Regents Action Plan advocates "a hands-on approach to learning" with emphasis on "opportunity for experimentation and individual problem-solving." He said that six Plattsburgh undergraduates and 12 practicing teachers from North County schools participated in the summer phase of the project. Other students and professionals will be involved during follow-up training sessions this year.

Gulati Receives Quebec Government Research Grant

Dr. Padmini Gulati, associate professor in the Center for Human Resources, has been awarded a research grant by the Government of Quebec to continue her study of the comparative social services in Quebec and New York.

The project, titled "A Comparative Study of Models of Practice in the Delivery of Social and Health Services in Local Communities in the Province of Quebec and the State of New York," was funded initially with a grant from the Government of Canada.

Dr. Richard Beach, director of the Center for the Study of Canada, said, "We have been informed that many more proposals were received than were funded, and thus Dr. Gulati succeeded in competition with colleagues representing numerous prestigious universities throughout the United States." He added that the Quebec Government only recently established this research grant program, which is patterned after the Canadian Government's program. "Thus far," he said, "we are most encouraged by the fact that all five proposals submitted by Center associates have been funded." To date, all grants submitted to the Canadian Government's program by SUNY Plattsburgh faculty have also been funded.

"The project is novel," he said. "It brings together research scientists from Miner Institute, a private foundation, and SUNY Plattsburgh and pre-service and public school teachers for maximum use of human resources within this geographical area. This cooperation in teaching the scientific process, with an emphasis on practical laboratory experiences, can serve as a model for similar programs across the state."

Campus project coordination is overseen by Karen Larkin and Mary Ellen McTigue, instructors in the Center for Teacher Education, and Dr. Stuart Baum, professor of chemistry. Several faculty in other science disciplines have been, and will continue to be, involved in the project's teacher-training process. Wolfe noted that Miner research scientists Judy Heintz and Paige Smith are responsible for organizing and directing several of the laboratory activities.

Wolfe listed three desired "outcomes" of the project. "We see it as developing a more skilled group of science teachers who will form a network of expertise for additional in-service training. It will expedite compilation and dissemination of specific tools that will help elementary school teachers implement the Regents Action Plan as defined in the new science syllabus. It will help to establish a network of scientists who will visit classrooms or act as consultants for classroom teachers."

Kodak Travelogue, 'World by Sea,' Premieres September 23

"The World by Sea — A Cruise to Discovery" is the title of a multimedia travel extravaganza co-produced by Eastman Kodak and Cruise Lines International Association to be shown at SUNY Plattsburgh on Friday, Sept. 23 at 7:30 p.m. in the E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium in Hawkins Hall.

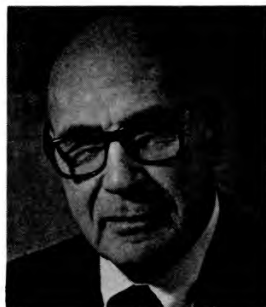

Tickets for the production, an annual fall event at the college, are priced at $2 for all. They are on sale beginning today at the Center for International Studies, 133 Court Street.

In filming "The World by Sea," teams of Kodak photographers sailed aboard a dozen different ships to record panoramic photographs, movies and interviews. The pictures and accompanying sound bring the people and places of the world to life on a 12 by 36-foot projection screen.

More than 2,000 slides and 2,000 feet of movie film are computer-programmed to show the tremendous variety of cruise experiences and ports of call around the world. A Kodak spokesman says the production demonstrates the use of a camera to tell a story . . . to tell how things happen, whether in Tahiti, Israel, the Soviet Union, Thailand, India or Panama.

Byrne, Council Vice Chair, Reappointed for New Term

Wayne Byrne, vice chair of the SUNY Plattsburgh College Council, has been re-appointed to the council by Governor Mario Cuomo for a nine-year term expiring June 30, 1997. Byrne was named to the Council in 1969 and has been re-appointed twice since that time. He has served as vice chair since 1981.

"We are very pleased with Mr. Byrne's re-appointment to the Council," President Charles Warren said. "His long-term service to the college makes him an especially valued member of the Council and we are delighted to know that we will benefit from his counsel for many years to come."

Byrne was presented with a special Service Award last fall by the Associate of College Trustees (ACT) in recognition of "his dedicated and distinguished service to not only the Plattsburgh College Council and ACT, but to the improvement of education as a whole."

He has chaired the council's budget committee for approximately 16 years and is also the council liaison to the Faculty Senate. A member of ACT's board of director since its inception, he is a past chairman of that organization.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Gladys Cleland, admissions counselor, has had an article, entitled "Satellite News Gathering and News Department Operations," accepted for publication in "Journalism Quarterly." Cleland is currently serving as a news consultant for WCFE-TV. . . Two journal articles by Dr. J. Justin Gustainis, associate professor of communication, were recently published. "Analogic Analysis of the Presidential Candidates' Acceptance Speeches at the 1980 National Nominating Conventions" appeared in Speaker and Gavel; "Waist Deep in the Big Muddy: Rhetorical Dimensions of the Tet Offensive" was published in Political Communication and Persuasion. . . Dr. Kenneth Hoeltzel, professor in the Center for Human Resources, has been chosen by the NYS Education Department to serve on an 8-person committee convened to select 10 high school occupational education teachers for the Distinguished Occupational Education Teacher Award. . . Mark Klett, counselor in the Admissions Office, has been elected as a four-year college representative on the SUNY-wide College Admissions Personnel organization for 1988-90. Klett will serve on the executive committee of the 250-member organization with major responsibility for planning and organizing the group's 1990 annual conference. . . Dr. Marshall Onofrio, assistant professor of music, participated in a five-week Summer Institute on Jazz Education which was held at the Newark branch of Rutgers University. Onofrio was one of 22 jazz educators and performers selected to participate. His work, "Come Live With Me and Be My Love," commissioned for a wedding, was performed in August in Florida by the Central Florida Brass and two soloists. . . A chapter co-authored by Dr. William Tooke, assistant professor of psychology, (with Dr. William Ickes) is included in The Handbook of Personal Relationships, published by Wiley-Interscience. The chapter is entitled "The Observational Method: Studying the Interaction of Minds and Bodies". . . The Commission on Secondary Schools of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools has recently published a new Policies and Procedures Handbook. Dr. Nicholas Troisi, dean of professional studies, contributed significantly to the organization and commentary in the handbook and is thanked and commended by Frederick Aho, executive director of the commission, in the handbook's preface. . . Roger Williams, professor of art in the Center for Art, Music and Theatre, has had 25 color photographs focusing on vernacular architecture accepted into the Smithsonian's Collection at the national Museum of American History in Washington, D.C. The work is part of a series dealing with drive-in theatres and is valued for its artistic documentation of a rapidly vanishing segment of 20th century American culture. . . Dr. E. Thomas Moran, assistant vice president for academic affairs, and Dr. Ingrun Lafleur, associate vice president for academic affairs, presented a workshop in June on the role of faculty in the assessment process. The Summer Institute for two-year college faculty was sponsored by SUNY at Albany. . . Two professional staff members have been hired by the Campus Life Office. They are Patricia Perillo, residence hall development coordinator, and Scott Tuller, residence hall programming coordinator. . . Dr. Thomas H. Wolosz, assistant professor in the Center for Earth & Environmental Science, has been notified that his paper, "Variations in Northern Appalachian Basinal Dynamics Determined by Rugosan Coral Reef Successions — Middle Devonian Edgecliff Limestone of New York," has been accepted for presentation at the Annual Meeting of the Geological Society of America. Wolosz will also be an invited speaker at a March Symposium on Paleontological Event Horizons, sponsored by the Paleontological Society, at the Northeastern Sectional Meeting of the Geological Society of America.

Correction

Robert J. Starr, newly appointed assistant dean of Professional Studies, was incorrectly identified as William J. Starr in last week's issue of WEEKLY. The editors regret the error.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 8 — THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 15

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the campus and public.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 8

12:15 pm — Inaugural Women's Studies Forum sponsored by Women's Studies Program and College Auxiliary Services. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4 - 6 pm — Intramural Entries due for Men's and Women's Volleyball, Men's Touch Football. Sponsored by Recreational Sports. Open to the campus. Angell Center Desk.

4:15 pm — "You Can Do It: Survival and Success in College" — A workshop sponsored by Special Services Project. Open to the campus. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7 pm — Student Association Organization and Club Fair sponsored by Resident Assistant Programming. Open to the campus. Angell Center Ballroom.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 9

11 am - 7 pm — Voter Registration sponsored by the Student Association. Open to the campus. Angell Center Lobby.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 10

9 am - 6 pm — Bus to Montreal sponsored by Campus Life. Round trip tickets are $9 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Bus departs from the Angell Center.

1 pm — Women's Tennis vs. Siena. Field House.

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 11

6:45 & 9:15 pm — Student Association Film Committee presents "Bright Lights, Big City." Open to the campus. S.A. members 50¢, faculty/staff $1. Tickets on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

7 pm — Touch Football Team representative meeting. Sponsored by Recreational Sports. Memorial Hall 301.

7:30 pm — Men's and Women's Volleyball Team representative meeting. Sponsored by Recreational Sports. Memorial Hall 301.

8 pm — R.A.P. Training sponsored by Campus Life. Open to members only. Angell Center Blue Room.

8 pm — Rush Orientation sponsored by Campus Life. Angell Center Ballroom.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 12

7 - 8 pm — Tour Guide Training sponsored by Admissions. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8 pm — Campus Poet Series — Open Reading. Sponsored by the Faculty of Arts and Sciences. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

8:30 pm — Greek Council meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

10 pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 13

11:30 am — U.U.P meeting. Open to members only. Angell Center Conference Room.

3 pm — Senior Placement Orientation sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4:15 pm — "How to Improve Your Notetaking Skills" — A workshop sponsored by Special Services Project. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4:15 pm — Tuesday Reflections presents Dr. H.Z. Liu, Dean of Arts and Science speaking on "Public Attitudes Towards Science and Technology." Sponsored by the Faculty of Arts and Science. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 - 8 pm — Tour Guide Training sponsored by Admissions. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 14

9 am - 3 pm — Volunteer Fair sponsored by Campus Life. Angell Center Lobby.

4 pm — First Fall Academic Convocation sponsored by the President's Office. Angell Center Amite Plaza.

7 - 8 pm — Tour Guide Training sponsored by Admissions. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 15

3 pm — "Resumes and Cover Letters" — A workshop sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4:15 pm — "How to Improve Your Notetaking Skills" — A workshop sponsored by Special Services Project. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4:30 pm — First general meeting of the Marketing Association. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

NOTES

"Active Learning in Large Classes" is the topic of a General Education/Active Learning Workshop to be held on Friday, Sept. 9 from 2 - 4:30 p.m. in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge. The workshop leader is Dr. Peter Frederick, professor of history and chairperson of the Division of Social Science at Wabash College. Frederick, a former NEH Fellow and Visiting Fulbright Professor at the University of Vienna, has won numerous awards for excellence in teaching. The workshop is open to teaching faculty.

Applications for the 1989 In Vitro Cell Biology & Biotechnology Program are currently being accepted. The deadline for submission of applications is October 15. Application materials can be obtained from the Biology secretary in Beaumont Hall 207. Further information about the IVCBB Program and arrangements for a visit to Miner Center can be obtained by calling Dr. William Graziadei at 1-846-7144.

The campus Aerobic Program sponsored by Marriott and Campus Life is scheduled to begin on Monday, September 12th. The Fall Aerobics schedule is as follows:

Monday - Friday: 5:30 - 6:30 & 7:30 - 8:30 pm, Friday; 3:30 - 4:30 pm, Saturday: 1:00 - 2:00 pm and Sunday: 3:30 - 4:30 pm. Valid college ID (student or staff/faculty) is required.

College Photographer Robin Brown's twenty-year retrospective exhibition in the Myers Fine Arts Gallery will continue through September 26. The exhibition, entitled "A View of One's Own," opened June 24.

Gallery talks by Brown have been scheduled as follows: 12:15 pm on both Wednesday, Sept. 7 and Tuesday, Sept. 13, and at 4:15 pm on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 20 and 21. Gallery hours in the Myers buildings are 12 to 4 p.m. daily, except Mondays.

Important Dates, 1988-89

FALL SEMESTER

| | |
|-----------------|---|
| Sept. 14 | Academic Convocation |
| Sept. 30-Oct. 2 | Parents' Weekend |
| Oct. 2 | Campus/Community Carnival |
| Oct. 5 | College Night |
| Oct. 14-16 | Homecoming Weekend |
| Oct. 28 | Canada Night |
| Nov. 4-5 | Cardinal Classic—Hockey |
| Nov. 12-13 | Arts and Crafts Fair |
| Nov. 18-19 | Cardinal Classic—Basketball |
| Dec. 16 | Winter Commencement |
| Dec. 17 | President's Reception for Friends of the Foundation |

SPRING SEMESTER

| | |
|-------------|-------------------------------------|
| Jan. 16 | New Student Registration |
| Feb. 17-18 | Winter Weekend |
| April 6 | Career Night |
| April 7 | Recruitment Day |
| April 12 | Activities Day (Tentative) |
| April 15 | Arts and Crafts Fair |
| April 22 | Open House for Prospective Students |
| April 27 | Student Recognition Day |
| April 28-30 | Spring Weekend |
| April 30 | Honors Convocation |
| May 4 | Study Day |
| May 13 | Commencement |

CURRENT JOB VACANCIES

Faculty

Foreign Languages & Literature — Fall '89

Maintenance & Operations — Upholsterer

Employee Assistance Program (EAP) — Keyboard Specialist

Cooperative Education Coordinator — (Research Foundation)

Complete details are available in the Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action.

S.U.N.Y./Plattsburgh is an Equal Opportunity Employer. It is the policy of this College to provide equal opportunity in employment for all qualified persons without regard to race, color, national origin, age, sex, handicap, or veteran status.

THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS is compiled by the Office of Campus Life and published by the Office of College Relations and Development. Items to be listed in THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS must be received in the Office of Campus Life no later than noon on Thursday the week prior to publication.

$177,700 in NSF Equipment Funds Support Two Faculty Projects

Two members of the faculty have been notified that their applications for matching funds from the National Science Foundation (NSF) under that agency's Instrumentation and Laboratory Improvement Program have been funded.

Dr. John W. McCormick, associate professor of computer science, has received NSF support for a project entitled "Computer Controlled Systems" — the title also of a study option in the computer science major. Dr. James F. Olmsted, professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, has received funding for equipment for "Automation of Siemens Type 'F' Diffractometer."

According to Susan Spissinger, director of sponsored research and programs, both grants are significant in that they will have a direct impact on the college's instructional program. Both require an institutional commitment of 50 percent of the cost of the equipment. For the McCormick project, the contribution is about $45,000 each for the NSF and the college; for the Olmsted project, the college matched $13,872 in NSF funds.

McCormick's grant will enable him to purchase two microVAX computers valued at $130,000 from the Digital Equipment Corporation (DEC) (the difference in the value of the equipment and the actual funding, Spissinger noted, represents a "huge discount" from DEC). Digital computers, he said, are becoming commonplace instruments for acquiring data and controlling processes in scientific laboratories and in industrial, but training students to use them has been inadequate.

McCormick

Olmsted

The new, state-of-the-art equipment will enable students to control machinery in a laboratory experiment while learning about "real-time" programming. The machinery they will control is the large model railroad system housed in Hawkins Hall, near the Academic Computer Center. McCormick says he expects to have the equipment operational in time for spring semester classes.

The grant to Olmsted will be used to purchase a computer, interfacing electronics and computer software to automate and "substantially upgrade" the Siemens manual x-ray diffractometer donated to the college about two years ago by Ayerst Laboratories in Rouses Point. Automation, Olmsted said, will allow

(Continued on page 2)

3+2 Physics Engineering Transfers Excel at Clarkson U.

Feedback from Clarkson University indicates that SUNY Plattsburgh physics students who transfer to Clarkson's 3+2 engineering program continue to excel academically.

Dr. Fritz Kissner, professor of physics and a coordinator of the 3+2 engineering option, has been notified that five former physics students here received bachelor of science degrees in engineering from Clarkson in May, and that three graduated with distinction. Kissner received a letter this summer from Dr. Edward Misiaszek, Clarkson's associate dean of engineering, that states, "Your students have always represented Plattsburgh State in excellent fashion. . . . We are looking forward to the transfer of more fine students from your college to Clarkson's Engineering School."

Kissner noted that in both 1985 and 1986 transfers from Plattsburgh's 3+2 physics engineering option earned honors as valedictorians of Clarkson's graduating classes. Besides Clarkson, he added, recent SUNY Plattsburgh physics transfers have entered engineering programs at the University of Colorado, Rutgers University, the University of Massachusetts, the University of Vermont and at the SUNY graduate centers at Buffalo and Stony Brook.

The former Plattsburgh students who graduated from Clarkson with distinction in May are Stephen Gratto and James Yourch, who received degrees in electrical and computer engineering, and James Kanaly, who earned the B.S. in mechanical and industrial engineering. Jean-Pierre Messier and Flemming Saether graduated from Clarkson with degrees in mechanical and industrial engineering.

Spring Term All-Academic Team Includes Three Who Repeat

The college's Department of Physical Education, Athletic and Recreational Sports has announced its All-Academic Team for the spring semester 1988.

The ten-member men's and women's All-Academic Team was instituted last fall as a means to recognize superior scholarship among student-athletes. Eligibility is based on participation in intercollegiate sports competition during the spring term and achievement of a grade-point average (gpa) of at least 3.5 on the 4.0 scale. All-Academic Team "honorable mention" is accorded to student-athletes who earn a gpa above 3.0, and 20 students made that list.

Basketball players and swimmers comprise the men's All-Academic Team; track and basketball performers dominate the women's team. Peter Luguri, director of athletics, pointed out that 104 students competed in spring intercollegiate sports. "We're proud of the 30 who made first team or honorable mention," he said. "They have shown a commitment to excellence in the classroom as well as on the court, ice and track and in our pool."

Three first-team athletes earned a spot also on last fall's initial All-Academic Team. The repeat performers among the men are swimmers Arthur LaMarche of Plattsburgh, now a senior biochemistry-biophysics major who compiled a 3.925 gpa last spring, and Joseph Paulsen of Albany, a junior communication major who earned a gpa of 3.625. Track star Julie Dobert became the first woman athlete to achieve back-to-back All-Academic Team honors. Dobert, an accounting major from Rensselaer, topped all women athletes in academic performance with a gpa of 3.940.

The balance of the spring '88 first team by sport, year in college, major, gpa and hometown:

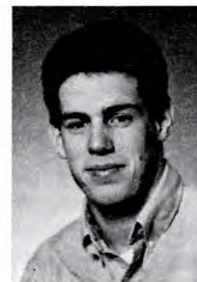

Men — Mark McIntyre, basketball, May 1988 graduate, individualized studies, 4.0, Chandler, AZ; Matt Moore, basketball, senior, special education, 3.923, Waterford; and Neal VanSlyke, basketball, May graduate, child and family services, 3.740, Palatine Bridge.

Women — Kathy Kane, track, senior, accounting, students to conduct experiments and research projects with maximum attention to the science, but with a greatly lessened degree of frustration often encountered in working on complicated analytical procedures.

NSF Grants (Continued from page 1)

"This equipment will allow us to introduce a new x-ray analysis course for chemistry and physics students, we expect by next semester," said Olmsted. "Another result of the project will be that students will learn to understand efficient and productive methods of analysis, and this in turn will help them to use their talents and enrich the educational experience by engaging in interesting scientific studies."

(L-R) Arthur LaMarche, Joseph Paulson and Julie Dobert are repeat members of the PEARS' first-year All-Academic Team.

3.756, Elmira; Beth Kilcoyne, basketball, senior, elementary education, 3.494, Brazer Falls; Tamara Nightingale, swimming, senior, management, 3.450, Clifton Park; and Aimee Gomlack, basketball, junior, international business, 3.423, Buffalo.

The men's honorable mention All-Academic Team is composed of (by sport): Basketball — Timothy Bond, Timothy Penix and Derrick Satterwhite; Hockey — Craig Barnett, Daniel Marshall and John Schratz; Swimming — Brian Driscoll, Chris Godlewski and Ronald McKay; and Track — Patrick Clear, Andrew Hill and Richard Wisneski.

The women's honorable mention team: Basketball — Margaret Crotty; Swimming — Carolyn Schultz, Kristine Smith and Paula Utsch; and Track — Desiree Peart, Lori VanAllen, Katrina Washburn and Christine Yacko.

Malpass Chairs New Division in Applied Psychology Assn.

Dr. Roy Malpass, professor of behavioral science, is chairing the newly created Division of Psychology and Law of the International Association for Applied Psychology (IAAP).

The new division is intended to bring together psychology/law researchers from around the world in a single organization. Among its major responsibilities will be organizing the psychology/law section of the program for IAAP meetings and producing a newsletter.

Malpass prepared and submitted the proposal for the new division on behalf of an organizing committee of scholars from England, Germany, Canada and the USA. The division was formally approved by the IAAP Executive Committee during a recent meeting of the International Congress of Psychology, which was held in Sydney, Australia. Malpass will chair the division until its formal inauguration in 1990, and will continue as its first secretary-treasurer.

Alumni Campaign Kicks Off Annual Phonathon Fund Drive

Telephones around the state and nation will begin ringing next week, as the Annual Alumni Phonathon moves toward its goal of $100,000. Mal Lavery, director of alumni affairs, said, "We've been very pleased with the responses to our past phonothons and we hope that this year's will be the best yet."

In addition to the Alumni Phonathon, which this fall runs from September 19 through the end of October, a two-week Parents' Phonathon is planned for early November.

Sophomore Doug Sloane is serving as student coordinator of both phonothons. "We will have nearly 30 students working on the fund drive," Sloane explained. "We're all very pleased to be able to help raise money for the college, since many of us have received scholarships from the Alumni Association." A political science major from Palmyra, Sloane is a member of the Undergraduate Alumni Council, the Judicial Review Board, and Phi Eta Sigma, the national honor society for freshmen.

"Doug is doing a superb job for us," Lavery said. "In addition to trying to raise a record amount of money, we are hoping to see a significant increase in the number of graduates and parents who make a contribution. Doug's enthusiasm, along with his organizational skills, are sure to help us meet both of our goals."

Booster Club Membership Drive Begins With $23,675 Goal

The Cardinal Booster Club's annual fall fund drive is underway with a goal to achieve $23,675 in contributions from past supporters and new members.

The goal represents a 10 percent increase in the amount generated a year ago. The Booster Club, an affiliate of the SUNY Plattsburgh Alumni Association and the Plattsburgh College Foundation, raises funds in support of the college's intercollegiate sports program.

"We've provided more than $40,000 to the sports program in the last two years alone," commented John Carpenter, '73, who is club vice president and chairperson of its membership committee. Besides substantial spending for items such as team uniforms and equipment, Booster Club expenditures typically supplement coaches' student-athlete recruitment budgets and support major projects such as the Plattsburgh State Sports Hall of Fame, which it created five years ago. "However," Carpenter added, "we recently received the coaching staff's 'wish list' for 1988-89, and it's clear that the demands for our support will be greater this year than in any other."

Booster Club memberships require a minimum contribution of $50. Members at that level receive a card

(Continued on back page)

Sophomore Doug Sloane (c), flanked by Development Director Dan Milliam (l) and Alumni Affairs Director Malcolm Lavery, will coordinate fall phonothons.

Visiting Sociologist Headlines Programs on Women's Issues

A noted sociologist, formerly a member of the SUNY Plattsburgh faculty, will return to campus tomorrow (Sept. 15) to spearhead discussion and debate on two issues of critical importance to women.

Dr. Margaret Duncombe, chairperson of the Department of Sociology at Colorado College and a member of the SUNY Plattsburgh sociology faculty from 1973 to 1975, will speak on "Eating Disorders: Anorexia and Bulimia" at a Women's Studies Forum scheduled for 12:15 p.m. on Thursday in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge. Duncombe, who is in the final stages of a research project on body images and eating behavior among college students, specializes also in the sociology of mental health and gender roles.

Duncombe will participate also in a 7:30 p.m. program that will focus on the consequences of cultural definitions of female attractiveness. Following a showing of the provocative, award-winning film "Miss . . . or Myth," she will lead a panel discussion that will explore ways in which images of female beauty reflect the norms of the dominant culture and their impact on women's self-concepts.

The film and the panel discussion will be held in room 232 of the Myers Fine Arts Building. Besides Duncombe, panelists will include Dr. Nancy Church, assistant professor in the School of Business and Economics, Dr. Richard Robbins, associate professor of anthropology, and Janet Saunders, director of personnel and affirmative action at SUNY Plattsburgh.

A reception will follow the evening program. Both the afternoon forum and the evening film-discussion program are open to the public.

Volleyballers Surprise Larries in Otherwise Dismal Sports Week

The weekend was dismal for Cardinal fall sports teams, as only the women's volleyball unit enjoyed any measure of success in competition involving all intercollegiate squads.

The men's and women's soccer teams were shut out in their SUNYAC openers. The men lost to Binghamton, 3-0, to fall to 3-1 on the season. The women were drubbed, 7-0, by Cortland to even their record at 1-1. The Cardinal tennis team suffered a similar fate, losing to Siena, 9-0.

Meanwhile, the men's and women's cross country teams dropped their first meet of the fall, both losing to the University of Vermont, 19-43 and 15-50, respectively. Kathy Kane ran the three-mile course in 18:32 to finish first for the Cardinal women and second overall in the meet. Jim Miller was the top Plattsburgh runner for the men, finishing eighth over the five-mile course with a time of 28:19.

In volleyball, the Cardinals made it to the semi-finals of the Cortland Red Dragon Classic before losing to Potsdam. However, the Plattsburgh spikers managed to defeat top-seeded St. Lawrence in the opening round and sandwiched a victory over Skidmore between losses to New Paltz and Alfred. Melanie Torhan led the tournament scoring for the Cardinals with 42 points, nine aces and eight kills, and Aija Griffith chipped in with 23 points, 19 kills, 25 assists, seven blocks and two aces.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Dr. Donald Adams, professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, is the author of "Nitrogen Gas Supersaturation in the Recent Sediments of Lake Erie and Two Polluted Harbors," which appears in Water Resources, Vol. 21, No. 11, November, 1987. . . J. Derek Allan, director of facilities, was appointed second vice president of the SUNY Physical Plant Directors Association at the association's annual summer conference at Geneseo. . . An article by Dr. Nancy Church, assistant professor in the School of Business and Economics, entitled "Get the Dog's Opinion When Researching Dog Food," appears in the August 29 issue of Marketing News, the bi-weekly publication of the American Marketing Association. The article describes a marketing research project carried out by Church's students during the fall of 1987. . . "Strategic Control Systems for Strategic Management," a paper by Dr. Helen Deresky, associate professor in the School of Business and Economics, has been accepted for presentation at the Eighth Annual Strategic Management Society Conference to be held in October in Amsterdam. . . Dr. Padmini Gulati, associate professor in the Center for Human Resources, delivered a paper entitled "The Client-centered Model and the Community-centered Model-alternate Models for the Delivery of Social Services" at the annual meeting of the Society for the Study of Problems, held recently in Atlanta. . . Dr. Roger P. Hamernik, professor of hearing and speech science and physics, presented a seminar on "Morphological Correlates of Noise Induced Hearing Loss" in July for the Department of Biology at Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznan Poland. In August, he presented a paper entitled "The Influence of Whole Body Vibration on Noise-induced Hearing Loss: A Review of Animal Experiments" during the Third International Conference on the Combined Effects of Environmental Factors held in Tampere, Finland. The paper was co-authored by Drs. William A. Ahroon and Robert I. Davis of the college's Auditory Research Laboratory. Hamernik served both as chairperson and co-organizer of the conference. . . Dr. Keng D. Hsueh, research assistant professor in the college's Auditory Research Laboratory, is co-author of "Design Strategies for the Development of a Model Helicopter Impedance Test Facility," which appears in the publication, Vertica. . . Dr. John Lewis, professor of physics, presented a paper on "Scattering of a Wave Packet from a Potential" at an August Conference on Computers in Physics Instruction held at North Carolina State University in Raleigh. . . "Saving Tab Time at the National Forensic Association's National Individual Events Tournament: A Study Comparing Score-Exclusion and Full-Score Tabulating from 1974 to 1987" is the title of an article co-authored by A.R. Montanaro, associate professor of communication, which will appear in the fall 1988 issue of the National Forensic Journal.

Booster Club (Continued from page 3)

that gives them free admission for the bearer to regular season home basketball and hockey contests. Carpenter said that many members — more than 110 last year — join as contributors of $100 or more. They receive a College Foundation Century Club card that entitles them to free admission for two persons to regular season basketball and hockey games, plus other benefits that apply for Century Club members. All benefits at both levels are provided courtesy of the SUNY Plattsburgh Student Association, which funds the college's intercollegiate sports program.

The Cardinal Booster Club headquarters is in the Office of College Relations and Development, 8th floor of the Kehoe Building, telephone: 564-2090.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 15 — THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 22

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the campus and public.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 15

12:15 pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Margaret Duncombe, PhD. of Colorado College speaking on "Eating Disorders: Anorexia and Bulimia." Sponsored by Women's Studies and CAS. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

3 pm — "Resumes and Cover Letters" — A workshop sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4:15 pm — "How to Improve Your Notetaking Skills" — A workshop sponsored by Special Services Project. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4:30 pm — First general meeting of the Marketing Association. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 16

3 - 5 pm — Coping with Caregiving. Part of a series (2nd) which will address topics and issues concerning Alzheimer's Disease. Sponsored by the Alzheimer's Disease Assistance Center, Yokum 205.

4 - 6 pm — AKEBA Welcome Reception. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4 - 7 pm — Lovers of the North Country proudly present Adirondack Acoustic Musicians Roy Hurd (formerly Poncho) and Junior Barber in the Angell Center Courtyard (rain or shine). Sponsored by Campus Life and the Student Association.

6 - 8 pm — Sigma Phi Fraternity Rush. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

9 pm - 1 am — WPLT's Inaugural Charity Ball. Tickets are $1 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballroom.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 17

2 pm — Women's Soccer vs. New Paltz. Field House.

9:30 pm — AKEBA Back to School Dance. Tickets: Students $1, faculty/staff/public $2 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballroom.

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 18

6:45 & 9:15 pm — Student Association Film Committee presents "D.O.A." Open to the campus. S.A. members 50¢, faculty/staff $1. Tickets on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

8 - 10 pm — R.A.P. Training sponsored by Campus Life. Open to members only. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8 pm — Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity Rush. Open to the campus. Angell Center Billiard Room.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 19

10 am - 3 pm — U.S. Marine Officer Selection Program sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Angell Center Lobby.

7 pm — Opening social of Faculty Women's Organization. All faculty women are invited to attend. President's Home, 134 Court Street.

7 pm — Admissions' Office Open House Tour Guide Training. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8:30 pm — Greek Council meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

10 pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20

10 am - 3 pm — U.S. Marine Officer Selection Program sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Angell Center Lobby.

11:30 am — U.U.P. Meeting. Open to members only. Angell Center Conference Room.

3 pm — "Targeting Your Job Search" — A workshop sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4 - 6 pm — Study Abroad Informational sponsored by the Center for International Education. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4 pm — Women's Soccer vs. St. Lawrence. Field House.

4:15 pm — Faculty Senate Meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Orchard Room.

7 pm — Admissions' Forum. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 pm — Admissions' Office Open House Tour Guide Training. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 21

10 am - 3 pm — U.S. Marine Officer Selection Program sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Angell Center Lobby.

3 pm — "Interview Techniques" — A workshop sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4 pm — Men's Soccer vs. St. Lawrence University. Field House.

4:15 pm — "Reading Your Textbook — Increase Your Concentration and Comprehension" — A workshop sponsored by Special Services Project. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

9 - 11 pm — Theta Kappa Beta Fraternity Rush. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 22

3 pm — "Considering Graduate School" — A workshop sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4:15 pm — "Reading Your Textbook — Increase Your Concentration and Comprehension" — A workshop sponsored by Special Services Project. Open to the campus. Angell Center Blue Room.

NOTES

Applications for the 1989 In Vitro Cell Biology & Biotechnology Program are currently being accepted. The deadline for submission of applications is October 15. Application materials can be obtained from the Biology secretary in Beaumont Hall 207. Further information about the IVCBB Program and arrangements for a visit to Miner Center can be obtained by calling Dr. William Graziadei at 1-846-7144.

The campus Aerobic Program sponsored by Marriott and Campus Life is scheduled to begin on Monday, September 12th. The Fall Aerobics schedule is as follows:

Monday - Thursday: 5:30 - 6:30 & 7:30 - 8:30 pm, Friday: 3:30 - 4:30 pm, Saturday: 1:00 - 2:00 pm and Sunday: 3:30 - 4:30 pm. Valid college ID (student or staff/faculty) is required.

Monday, September 19 through Friday, September 23 — Sign up for Intramural Men's and Women's Tennis Singles Tournament. For more information call the Recreational Sports Office in Memorial Hall.

The Centennial Committee is planning to produce an 18-month Centennial Calendar, to run from January 1989 through June of 1990. Dates of historical importance will be listed, as well as dates for events during that time period. Groups, departments, etc. that wish to have upcoming events listed on the calendar should submit dates to Annette Manganel, Centennial Committee Chairperson, on or before October 10.

"Autumn Ephemeris," to be shown at 7:30 and 8:30 p.m. on Friday, September 16, is the title of the first in a series of SUNY North Country Planetarium presentations scheduled through the remainder of the fall semester. Tickets for the show (required because of limited seating in the Planetarium) are free to the campus community and the public, and may be picked up in the Hudson Hall Physics Department Office between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. (An ephemeris is an astronomical almanac of events visible in the night sky; the first show of the fall is an introduction to the autumn skies of 1988.)

The Protestant Campus Ministry at Plattsburgh State will hold religious worship services on Thursdays at 5:30 pm in the Newman Center, 92 Broad St. All are welcome.

Special Services Project is looking for experienced tutors of Mathematics. Students must be able to tutor Mathematics 101, 102, and 221. Call Janice Beach 564-2810

The Forensic Union will hold a reception on Monday, September 19th in the Cardinal Lounge, beginning at 7:00 pm. Returning members, new members, and all those interested in learning more about forensics (competitive public speaking) are welcome to attend. Refreshments will be served.

CURRENT POSITION VACANCIES

Faculty

Foreign Languages & Literature — Fall '89

Art, Music & Theatre — (Vita Bank)

English — (Vita Bank)

Complete details are available in the Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action.

S.U.N.Y./Plattsburgh is an Equal Opportunity Employer. It is the policy of this College to provide equal opportunity in employment for all qualified persons without regard to race, color, national origin, age, sex, handicap, or veteran status.

THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS is compiled by the Office of Campus Life and published by the Office of College Relations and Development. Items to be listed in THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS must be received in the Office of Campus Life no later than noon on Thursday the week prior to publication.

Convocation Address:

President Warren Expounds 2-year Theme for Campus Community

SUNY Plattsburgh President Charles O. Warren has challenged the campus community to "explore ideas and connections" over the next two years embodied in the theme, "Scholar and Citizen: Opportunity and Obligation."

In remarks during last Wednesday's inaugural year-opening academic convocation, the president called attention to the conflict in society "between extreme individualism and the unrelenting need for community." There is no place in society more appropriate to debate the conflict than the academy, he said, since the academy embodies both a social ideal and an ongoing public trust.

A sudden downpour failed to dampen the spirits of members of the class of 1992, who were formally matriculated as SUNY Plattsburgh students during the academic convocation.

"That trust is accompanied by the responsibility to forthrightly examine issues that are vital to our common future and essential to a decent and principled society," stated Warren. "As this college approaches its 100th year as an institution of higher learning, it seems fitting that we engage one another in serious discourse centering around the theme, 'Scholar and Citizen: Opportunity and Obligation.'"

President Warren suggested that discussions on the theme occur over the next two years, from a disciplinary perspective or within the context of general education — in the classroom, in residence halls and in other informal settings. "Distinguished visiting professors and other knowledgeable visitors could be asked to speak to the theme, common readings . . . could be adopted, and there is every reason to believe that we could publish at least two issues of learned papers on the topic, prepared by faculty, students and other members of our community.

SUNY Trustee Judith Lasher Duken '59 (r.) conferred an honorary Doctor of Fine Arts degree upon opera singer Rockwell Blake (c.). Plattsburgh President Charles O. Warren (l.) helped straighten Blake's new academic regalia.

Earlier in the day, Rockwell Blake was inducted as an honoris causa member of the campus chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa, the national leadership honor society. Blake (r.) is seen here with ODK officers (l. to r.) treasurer Bruce VanSchaick, president Michael Bamdad, and vice president Brian Burke.

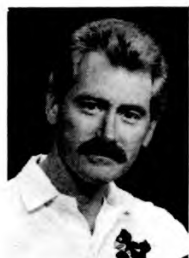

"Finally," he said, "I trust that our conversations and discourse would be controversial and challenging and would recognize the ever-increasing complexity and interdependence of our world . . . complexities including the rights and status of women and an enhanced understanding of cultural, racial and ethnic diversity. Approaching this theme in such a comprehensive fashion should instruct us collectively and individually, as scholars and citizens."

The convocation served as a means for faculty,

(Continued on page 2)

Three Will Be Inducted to Sports Hall of Fame at Homecoming

A North Country native who pioneered SUNY Plattsburgh's ice hockey program, an educator who never struck out in a four-year career in varsity baseball, and an all-round woman athlete who also holds a place in the college's academic history will be inducted into the Plattsburgh State Sports Hall of Fame next month.

Jennings

Cummings

Pleau

A committee representing the Cardinal Booster Club, which created and sponsors the Hall of Fame, the college's Alumni Association and its Department of Physical Education, Athletics and Recreational Sports has selected Howard E. Jennings Jr. of Cadyville, C. Thomas Cummings of Patchogue, and Emily Jones Pleau of Rochester for membership. All three hold both bachelor's and master's degrees from SUNY Plattsburgh. They will join 18 others honored previously as individuals "who have participated in the athletic program at the college and whose achievements and contributions exemplify the ideals of good citizenship." Hall of Fame induction staff and administration, in full academic regalia, to formally and officially welcome freshmen and new transfer students to the college, and, in spite of a downpour that required the ceremony to be moved from Amity Plaza to the Angell Center ballrooms, hundreds participated. The program also served as a means to award the honorary degree of Doctor of Music to world-renowned tenor Rockwell Blake. On receiving the honorary degree from SUNY, Blake expressed gratitude to his hosts for "... vesting your trust in my abilities and accomplishments." He referred to President Warren's convocation theme, saying the words "opportunity" and "obligation" are close to his heart.

Convocation

(Continued from page 1)

In essence, he said, the words represent what put him into the world of music. "I believe when an opportunity is given to you, you have an obligation to follow it through, to try it. Otherwise, you will always have that small part of you that says, 'I could have been.'" ceremonies are scheduled for 9:30 a.m. on Sunday, October 16 as a capstone event to Homecoming Weekend at Plattsburgh State.

Earlier in the day, Blake, a Plattsburgh area native, was inducted into the SUNY Plattsburgh Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa, the national leadership honor society, as an honoris causa member.

Jennings, who captained the Cardinal club hockey team from 1972-75 while a graduate student, and who was the first skater in school history to score more than 100 career points (117 on 47 goals and 70 assists), becomes the first player in that sport to earn Hall of Fame recognition. He received the bachelor's degree in behavioral science in 1969 and the master's in education in 1985.

A teacher of special needs students at Northern Adirondack Central School, where he has been employed for the past 19 years, Jennings also ran track and was a charter member of SUNY Plattsburgh's club football program that debuted in 1968 and folded in the mid-1970s. He is an award-winning photographer who is credited as being a founder of youth hockey in the Plattsburgh area, and from 1983-86 he coached the region's Special Olympics polo hockey team that won four consecutive state championships.

Besides a talent for wearing down opposing pitchers, Cummings compiled a .350 career batting average as a Cardinal while starting every game at shortstop or second base from 1953 through 1956. He co-captained the Cardinals in 1955 and 1956, and he was brilliant as a junior — batting .400 and leading the team in stolen bases with 15 while committing only one error at second base during the 8 - 3 season. He also played basketball and soccer at Plattsburgh State.

Cummings, who is assistant superintendent for business for the Patchogue-Medford School District, received the bachelor's degree in elementary education and the master's in educational administration from Plattsburgh in 1956 and 1959, respectively. A former teacher and elementary principal, he served Canajoharie Central School as business administrator and junior high school principal from 1966-87.

Pleau, originally from Plattsburgh, was an outstanding performer for four years in field hockey and basketball who also played intercollegiate softball and golf. A dean's list student and a member of student government as an undergraduate, she received the bachelor's degree in chemistry in 1969. Three years later, she became the first recipient of a master's degree in chemistry from Plattsburgh State.

Pleau taught chemistry at the college during 1972-73, then spent three years as a research chemist under a U.S. Navy research grant. In 1975 she joined the Eastman Kodak Company in Rochester, and for the past three years she has served as unit director of molecular spectroscopy for research and development for Kodak. In Rochester, she is a member of a Peace and Justice Action Committee and volunteer for Alternatives for Battered Women.

College Rejects Verdantique Proposal But Backs It in Concept

The SUNY Plattsburgh College Council has unanimously endorsed a recommendation by President Charles O. Warren that the college reject the City of Plattsburgh's current Verdantique Park proposal that incorporates development of riverfront property bordering the campus.

The recommendation, however, leaves the door open for campus land use in park development in a manner different than specified in the original plan.

Phase one in creation of the park, which called for development of property along the Saranac River from the mouth of the river to the SUNY Plattsburgh Field House complex, was scheduled to begin this summer. However, the college held forums during the spring semester to discuss and debate the proposal — its positive features as well as concerns for safety and security, and for students' privacy. The project included development of the path that winds near the tower residence complex.

The Council-approved response to the Verdantique Park proposal, signed by President Warren, is as follows:

"Last November we received a specific proposal . . . that would incorporate campus riverfront property into the planned Verdantique Park. Since that time, we have conducted a thoughtful, inclusive and detailed review of the proposal. Because of serious and rational concerns about personal and environmental safety, we are unable to accept this specific proposal and the attendant timetable.

"We remain strongly committed to the concept of an aesthetically conceived park that would substantially revitalize our downtown area, and we remain serious to incorporating campus property — in an appropriate way at the appropriate time — that would be supportive of that goal. We look forward to participating in planning a park that will serve well and effectively our city, its future and all of its citizens."

Canada Center Gets $69M in 3 Grants from as Many Sources

The Center for the Study of Canada has received financial support from three different sources, according to Director Richard Beach.

The U.S. Department of Education has awarded a three-year International Education Grant to the Center, in consortium with the University of Vermont and the University of Maine, to support a national resource center on Canada. Beach said the grant, which will provide approximately $56,000 during the first year, will support center staffing, faculty travel, library acquisitions, and summer workshops for teachers. "In 1985," Beach said, "the three institutions won a similar grant to create a national resource center. This new grant allows us to continue to provide basic information on Canada, primarily to educational institutions."

The Government of Canada has bestowed a $9,000 "program development" grant upon the Center for the 1988-89 academic year. Beach said the money will be used to support general operations.

Additionally, Imasco Ltd., one of Canada's leading conglomerates, has contributed $4,000 to the Canadian Studies program. Beach said the money will support scholarships, Canadian-oriented events, a guest speaker program, research and teaching on Canada, and outreach coordination. Some of the funds will also be placed in the Imasco Endowment Fund.

"We're extremely pleased with and grateful for the breadth of support our program is receiving," Beach said. "Increasingly we are receiving backing from both the private and the public sectors on both sides of the border."

Suspected Animal Fossil Find May Date to Ice Age

A new dimension has been added to very early history of the Champlain Valley, with the discovery this summer of an intriguing fossil.

Dr. David Franzi, assistant professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, was called in mid-July by the owner of a gravel pit in Westport. The caller had found what appeared to be a fossil. Franzi investigated. "We have several sections of spine and part of a hip. We think it's a caribou and that it dates from between 12,500 and 13,500 years ago."

The importance of the discovery, Franzi said, is that it may help scientists, with the help of radio-carbon dating, to determine more accurately the rate at which glacial ice left the Champlain Valley. "It's extremely rare," he said, "to find non-marine vertebrate fossils, so we have very few radio-carbon dates to define the glacial history of this area."

The fossil is currently undergoing tests in the New York State Museum in Albany.

Soccer Teams in Scoring Drought; Volleyballers Avoid Shutout

A lack of offense continues to plague the college's women's and men's soccer teams.

The Cardinal women lost to Clarkson University, 3-1, last Wednesday, but came back on Saturday to battle SUNY rival New Paltz to a 1-1 standoff at the end of regulation time. Two 15-minute overtime periods produced no further scoring, meaning the contest will count officially as a tie. However, in the event the outcome of the game could determine final conference standings and a chance to complete in post-season play, the Cards and the Hawks went at it in a shootout. Six Plattsburgh players ripped the nets in the shootout, giving them the edge for season record purposes.

The Cardinal men endured consecutive 1-0 defeats during the past week, losing to SUNY conference foes Albany on Wednesday and Cortland on Saturday. They are now 3-3 on the season.

In volleyball, the Plattsburgh women managed to win one of five matches at the Potsdam North Country Invitation Tournament last weekend. They bowed to Union, Potsdam (twice) and St. John Fisher before trouncing St. Rose in two straight games, 15-7 and 15-4.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

"Consumer Awareness, Perceptions, and Knowledge of Immediate Healthcare Centers: The Case of Two Immediate Care Centers" is the topic of an article by Dr. Nancy Church, assistant professor in the School of Business and Economics, that has been accepted for publication next summer in the Journal of Hospital Marketing. The article is the result of a research project conducted by students in marketing research for Urgicare during the spring semester of 1988. . . Dr. Geoffrey Guest, assistant professor in the Center for Human Resources, is the author of "The Boarding of the Dependent Poor in Colonial America," an article that will appear in the June 1989 issue of Social Service Review. . . Dr. Roger P. Hamernik, professor of hearing and speech science and physics, presented a paper entitled "The Interaction of Impulse and Continuous Noise Energy and Spectral Consideration in Production of Hearing Loss" at the Fifth International Congress of Noise as a Public Health Problem, held in late August in Stockholm, Sweden. Co-authors of the paper included Dr. William A. Ahroon and George A. Turrentine of the college's Auditory Research Laboratory. Hamernik, who served both as a chairperson and as a member of the advisory committee for the Congress, also received a second place ribbon for a poster illustrating "The Quantitative Relations between Sensory Cell Loss and Hearing Thresholds." Ahroon and Turrentine were among the collaborators on Hamernik's prize-winning poster. . . Dr. Roy S. Malpass, professor of Behavioral Science, gave a colloquium recently in the Psychology Department of the University of Newcastle on the topic, "Basic Problems in Cross-Cultural Research," and a departmental seminar on "Fairness and Bias in Eye-Witness Identification". . . Dr. Charles Mitchell, professor in the Center for Teacher Education and Educational Services, is listed as a prize winner in the Novice Class in the Ward Foundation News' account of the Foundation's 1988 World Championship Wildfowl Carving Competition held last spring in Ocean City, Md. Mitchell's winning entry in the juried competition, which attracted more than 2,100 entries from more than 900 carvers, including artists from as far away as Norway and Japan, was a lifesize carving of a loon. . . Dr. Robert Quesal, assistant professor of hearing and speech science, is the author of "Inexact use of 'disfluency' and 'dysfluency' in stuttering research," in a letter to the editor that appears in the August 1988 issue of the Journal of Speech & Hearing Disorders. . . Rick Salzman, associate professor of art, participated in the summer Pratt Center National Conference entitled "The New Designer," held in New York City. The conference dealt with computer graphs for designers in lectures, seminars and in "hands-on" workshops.

Video Equipment Gift

Associate professor of communication Lawrence Arcarese accepts a gift of a laser video-disc player from Linda Fountain-Cane, vice president and general manager of Bill Santa Pontiac, Inc. in Plattsburgh. The device, valued at about $1,100, will be used to demonstrate video-disc technology for students in television production classes. At Santa Pontiac, the player has been used to train employees in areas such as auto repair and to demonstrate automobile features and performance for customers.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 22 — THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 29

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the campus and public.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 22

12:15 pm — Women's Studies Forum presents the SUNY Plattsburgh Sexual Harassment Committee leading a discussion on "Advertising Images of Women" along with the movie, "Still Killing Us Softly." Sponsored by Women's Studies Program and College Auxiliary Services. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

3 pm — "Considering Graduate School" — A workshop sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4:15 pm — "Reading Your Textbook — Increase Your Concentration and Comprehension" — A workshop sponsored by Special Services Project. Open to the campus. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4:30 pm — Organizational meeting for all students interested in swimming and diving. Open to the campus. Memorial Hall 301.

4:30 pm — "Meet the Professors" from the schools of business and economics. Sponsored by the Business and Economics Clubs. Refreshments will be served. Open to the campus. Angell Center Orchard Room.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 23

3:30 pm — Freshman Network Program Workshop sponsored by the Freshman Experience Program. Open to members only. Angell Center Ballroom.

3:30 pm — Seeding meeting for tennis singles tournament sponsored by the Recreation Sports Office. Memorial Hall 220.

4 pm — AKEBA meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7:30 pm — Kodak Travelogue, "World By Sea-A Cruise to Discovery." E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium. Tickets are $2 and are available at the Center for International Studies, 133 Court Street.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 24

9 am — Adirondack Bike Trip — Departs from the Saranac Parking Lot. Overnight stay at Twin Valleys. Sponsored by Campus Life. For more information, call 564-3824.

noon — Men's and Women's Cross Country Teams host the Cardinal Classic. Field House.

1 pm — Women's Tennis vs. Middlebury College. Field House Courts.

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 25

6:15 & 9:45 pm — Student Association Film Committee presents "Masquerade." Open to the campus.

Tickets: S.A. members 50¢, faculty/staff $1 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 26

3 pm — Women's Tennis vs. Potsdam State. Field House Courts.

8:30 pm — Greek Council meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

10 pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 27

11:30 am — U.U.P. meeting. Open to members only. Angell Center Conference Room.

3 pm — Women's Soccer vs. Albany. Field House.

3 pm — "Resumes and Cover Letters" — A workshop sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4:15 pm — Tuesday Reflections presents: Dr. John L. Meyer, Communication Department, speaking on "Sabbatical Odyssey: A Journey Through the Emerging Study of Organizational Communication." Sponsored by the Faculty of Arts and Science. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8 pm — Center for Art, Music and Theatre's Music Council sponsors the Champlain Trio. Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 28

3 pm — "Senior Placement Orientation" — A workshop sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

3 pm — Women's Tennis vs. St. Lawrence University. Field House Courts.

4 pm — Men's Soccer vs. Potsdam State. Field House.

4:15 pm — "How to Write an 'A' Paper" — A workshop sponsored by Special Services Project. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 29

12:15 pm — Women's Studies Forum presents the S.U.N.Y. Plattsburgh Sexual Harassment Committee leading a discussion on "Advertising Images of Men" along with the movie, "Stale Roles and Tight Buns." Sponsored by the Women's Studies Program and College Auxiliary Services. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

3 pm — "Targeting Your Job Search" — A workshop sponsored by the Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4 pm — Marketing Association general meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:15 pm — "How to Write an 'A' Paper" — A workshop by Special Services Project. Open to the campus. Angell Center Blue Room.

7-9 pm — Nu Theta Gamma Billiards Rush. Open to the campus. Angell Center Billiard Room.

NOTES

Applications for the 1989 In Vitro Cell Biology & Biotechnology Program are currently being accepted. The deadline for submission of applications is October 15. Application materials can be obtained from the Biology secretary in Beaumont Hall 207. Further information about the IVCBB Program and arrangements for a visit to Miner Center can be obtained by calling Dr. William Graziadei at 1-846-7144.

The Centennial Committee is planning to produce an 18-month Centennial Calendar, to run from January 1989 through June of 1990. Dates of historical importance will be listed, as well as dates for events during that time period. Groups, departments, etc. that wish to have upcoming events listed on the calendar should submit dates to Annette Manganel, Centennial Committee Chairperson, on or before October 1.

The Protestant Campus Ministry at Plattsburgh State will hold religious worship services on Thursday at 5:30 pm in the Newman Center, 92 Broad St. All are welcome.

Special Services Project is looking for experienced tutors of Mathematics. Students must be able to tutor Mathematics 101, 102, and 221. Call Janice Beach 564-2810.

Through Friday, September 23 — sign up for Intramural Men's and Women's Tennis Singles Tournament. For more information call the Recreational Sports Office in Memorial Hall.

September 26 through October 2 — Round I of the Burghy Residence Hall All Star Games. See Residence Hall Councils for times and events. Sponsored by the Recreational Sports Office.

The Office of Campus Life is sponsoring a bus to Montreal on Saturday, October 1. The bus departs campus at 9:00 a.m. with a destination at Dominion Square and returns to campus by 6:00 p.m. Tickets are $9.00 round trip and on sale at the Angell Center Desk beginning Monday, September 26.

The Center for Earth & Environmental Sciences will be hosting the New York State Geological Association Field Trip Meeting on October 7 - 9. Information on field trips and registration forms can be obtained at the Center Office (102 Hudson), or by calling extension 2028 or 2050.

All students who intend to graduate in December 1988 must apply for a diploma in the Registrar's office by October 14, 1988.

September 30 - October 2 Parents Weekend

CURRENT POSITION VACANCIES

Faculty

Foreign Languages & Literature
(Spanish F/T) — Fall '89

Art, Music & Theatre
(Stage Carpenter & Seamstress — (Vita Bank)
English (P/T) — (Vita Bank)

Civil Service

General Mechanic
Grounds Worker

Upholsterer

Keyboard Specialist (P/T) — (Psychological Services)

Complete details are available in the Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action.

S.U.N.Y./Plattsburgh is an Equal Opportunity Employer. It is the policy of this College to provide equal opportunity in employment for all qualified persons without regard to race, color, national origin, age, sex, handicap, or veteran status.

Weekly

Plattsburgh College
Does Not Circulate

Published by the Office of College Relations and Development for the Plattsburgh College Community • September 28, 1988

Record Turnout Expected for Annual Parents' Weekend Events

This weekend is Parents' Weekend and record numbers of parents are expected to participate in the various activities scheduled.

The weekend's activities run from Friday through Sunday and include planetarium shows, a blood pressure screening clinic to be conducted by student nurses, a tour of the campus galleries with Gallery Director Edward Brohel, a chemistry "Magic Show" by Dr. Ed Miller, and a gala reception and dinner hosted by President and Mrs. Charles Warren.

Friday's headline event will feature an appearance by comedian Rich Hall, creator of the best selling "Sniglets" books who gained fame as a regular on the popular "Saturday Night Live" television series.

Hall's performance will be at 8:15 p.m. in Giltz Auditorium in Hawkins Hall.

Following the dinner on Saturday evening, Time Machine will perform in the Point, Lita Kelley will sing in the Blue Room and a piano bar, featuring Jim Cotter, will be offered in the Orchard Room.

This year for the first time, parents can help their students earn "Burgly Points" by signing in at the residence halls. Burgly Game Coordinator Leith Bardon said that points will be awarded based on the percentage of students whose parents sign in.

Additional information about the weekend is available in the Office of College Relations and Development.

PSTV Initiates 'Open Forum' Series on Issues of Current Concern

Television viewers bored with standard network programming might want to take a chance on PSTV Channel 10, the community access channel allocated to the campus by the area's cable franchise. They might see and hear from someone they know (or should know), and they might learn about something on campus they should know about.

Channel 10, says Doris Candussi, assistant professor of communication, has initiated a nightly, half-hour "open forum" program featuring interviews and discussion sessions on topics of widespread campus and community interest or concern. The program airs at 9:00 p.m. on weekdays, says Canducci, and it is the product of the skill and collective imagination of ten enterprising SUNY Plattsburgh students, most of them majors in communication.

One recent program, Candussi says, featured college President Charles Warren and City of Plattsburgh Mayor Carleton Rennell in a discussion about the town-gown controversy on student behavior and the newly enacted "noise ordinance." Others have focused on the importance of campus cultural events and happenings, and on the local impact of grants for sponsored research. "We are open to suggestions for program topics — from campus people and community residents alike," says Candussi.

Candussi emphasizes proudly that Channel 10 programming reflects the creativity "and plain hard work" of the ten students who make it work (managers, she says, can earn two academic credits while "crew" can earn one). "The Beat," a music-video program shown at 9:30 Mondays through

Students in communication make final preparations for telecast of PSTV's new "Open Forum" program.

Fridays, is the title of another locally produced PSTV production. Soon to debut is the "Plattsburgh State Dating Game," a takeoff on the popular commercial television syndicated series, which will be shown at 10 p.m. each night.

PSTV is on the air daily from 9 to 11 p.m. Hours will be expanded, says Candussi, when the winter intercollegiate sports season begins. Suggestions for Channel 10 forum topics may be directed to Candussi at 564-4289 (or 2111).

A Hearty Welcome to Parents' Weekend Visitors!

SEFA Campaign Begins Soon; LaRose Appointed to Direct It

The campus drive in support of the State Employees Federated Appeal (SEFA) will begin next week, and Clara LaRose, senior account clerk in telecommunications, has been appointed to direct it.

LaRose, designated the campaign's "loaned executive" by President Charles O. Warren, said the organizational meeting of volunteers representing every campus department, center and office will be held next Tuesday, adding that gift solicitation will begin shortly thereafter. A year ago the college community donated $22,465 to SEFA, leading all regional agencies by a substantial margin. LaRose said she is hoping that this year's campus drive will generate at least $26,000 in contributions. "That's a realistic goal, and one we could easily surpass," she said. "SUNY Plattsburgh could give more than double that amount if every employee gave or pledged $1 per week during 1989."

SEFA is the only authorized fund-raising campaign among state employees. Eligible beneficiaries include 19 local United Way agencies, five Clinton County health agencies, 19 international service agencies, seven Health Agencies of New York, and three independent agencies. Literature describing the purposes of each agency will be distributed with gift/pledge materials by campaign volunteers.

LaRose noted that nearly 85 percent of all monies contributed to SEFA for current year operations were designated for use by area agencies, and she emphasized that donors may designate specific agencies they wish to support or specify those they wish to exclude. She also emphasized the convenience of payroll deduction as a means for giving, and as a means for giving more than possible with a one-time cash donation.

"People don't feel the pinch when they have their gifts deducted from their paychecks," said LaRose. "We're hoping, also, that faculty and professional staff will be extra generous this fall in that their negotiated salary increases will soon become effective."

Reunion in Boston

Patrick Kane '81 and Dawn Fratangelo '82 raffle SUNY Plattsburgh College Store merchandise for about 60 alumni residing in the greater Boston area who attended a reunion hosted by the college's Alumni Association and held last Friday at the Boston Marriott in Newton. Participants from the college included President Charles O. Warren, who spoke briefly on "the state of Plattsburgh State," Alumni Relations Director Malcolm Lavery, and Don Garrant, assistant to the president for college relations and development. Also in attendance was Dr. Wallace Feldman, dean of the School of Business and Economics, who was visiting Boston last weekend. Kane, a district manager for the Eveready Battery Company in Westboro, is president of the Boston Alumni Club. Fratangelo is the weekend news anchor for WCVB-TV, Channel 5 in Boston.

Jones 'A Voice of My Own' to Debut in Studio Theatre

The first college theatre presentation of the semester, "A Voice of My Own," by Elinor Jones, will be presented in the Studio Theatre at 8 p.m. October 5 - 8 and 12 - 15.

Dr. Charles Kline, who is directing the production, said, "it is a perceptive theatrical mosaic of important facts about the lives of women writers. Five actresses portray a sisterhood of two dozen novelists, poets, and playwrights ranging from Sappho to Lillian Hellman. The show is woven together musically with guitar selections played by Anne Smith and Cathy Supple."

Cast members are Eileen Egan Mack, Lara Jean Froelich, Elizabeth Bonnabeau, Tina Caron and Christine Moore.

Expert on American Elections to be Visiting Professor Here

Dr. Milton Cummings, professor of political science at Johns Hopkins University and an expert on the American election process, will be a Distinguished Visiting Professor on campus from October 5 through October 14.

Cummings will meet with faculty, lecture in political science classes, and present two public lectures. On Wednesday, October 5 in the Angell Center Ballroom, he will be speaking on "The Strategic Environment of the U.S. Presidential Election." The following Wednesday in the Cardinal Lounge, Cummings will discuss "Government and the Arts." Both lectures will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will be free and open to the campus community and the public.

Cummings has written and edited many books on American politics, including Congressmen and the Electorate and Democracy Under Pressure. The latter is used as a textbook on the Plattsburgh campus.

Crosby Exhibit Opens Wednesday

An exhibit of paintings and photographs by William Crosby, professor in the Center for Art, Music and Theatre, will open with a reception in Crosby's honor from 4 to 7 p.m. on Wednesday, October 5. The exhibit, titled "Images: A Quarter Century," is a review of 25 years of Crosby's artistic work, paralleling his years at SUNY Plattsburgh.

Gallery Director Edward Brohel said, "The art works in this exhibition are from the '60's, '70's, and '80's, comprising the latest eras to become entrenched as American art history. Crosby's painting is of this time and its events. He is comfortable using his artistic heritage as a stylistic vocabulary of his visions and feelings. Whether abstract or realistic, his work records his continual involvement with the North American landscape."

Crosby's work will be exhibited in the Myers Fine Arts Gallery and the Lounge of the Myers Building through November 9.

Faculty Senate Meeting Report

The Faculty Senate held its first meeting of the fall semester last Tuesday. President Charles O. Warren reported on the 1988-89 budget and expressed his appreciation for faculty participation in the first Fall Academic Convocation.

Dr. Taher Zandi was elected to chair the Standing Committee on General Education. Zandi, together with the Senate Executive Committee, will soon appoint 12 members to the committee.

Senator James Dawson, who chairs the Senate Committee on Resources and Planning, presented a report on the updated Five-Year-Plan. His report will be distributed to all faculty members.

Senate Chair Ray Domenico announced that the Faculty Senate office has been relocated to Feinberg Library room 308.

Cummings holds a Ph.D. from Harvard and was a Rhodes Scholar from 1954-56.

Campus Centers Unite to Offer Business Development Training

SUNY Plattsburgh's Center for Lifelong Learning and its Small Business Development Center are joining forces to offer a seven-week "training program" designed to provide entrepreneurs with knowledge and skills they need to better understand business or to develop a new business.

The first program in the series, on the topic of "The Realities of Starting and Owning a Business," will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, October 4 in Sibley Hall on the Plattsburgh State campus. Subsequent programs will be held on consecutive Tuesdays at the same hour and at the same location through November 15. Each will have a special focus — ranging from marketing strategy and making key decisions to venture financing and making a business plan work.

Instructors and guest speakers will include successful area merchants, bankers, accountants and financial planners. Instruction will be augmented by video presentations and printed materials that outline a step-by-step procedure for persons who are thinking about going into business, who have recently started a business, or who are in business and want to expand or diversify.

The cost of the program is $75. Additional information and registration materials may be obtained by contacting SUNY Plattsburgh's Center for Lifelong Learning in Room 106 of Hawkins Hall, 564-2050.

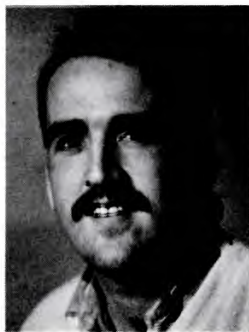

Nexus Series Speakers Program to Spotlight Legal Concerns

Next Wednesday's (Oct. 5) third program in the Alzheimer's Disease Assistance Center's Nexus Speakers Series will feature Albany attorney Leonard Koldin in a discussion of several topics of concern to senior citizens and caregivers. The public program will be held from 7 - 9 p.m. in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Koldin, who is on the Board of Directors of the Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders of Syracuse and Central New York and who is former chief attorney for the Onondaga County Department of Social Services, will outline the process of obtaining medical assistance; cover spousal responsibility; review the recently passed Medicare catastrophic law and its impact on the public; discuss Medicaid and Medicare and the legal rights of individuals; and relate how to plan in advance to preserve one's resources. More information about the program may be obtained by contacting the Alzheimer's Center at 564-3377.

Former Pro-prospect Emery Named New Assistant Hockey Coach

Robert Emery of Somerville, Mass., a former Boston College defensive specialist who played hockey professionally in the NHL Quebec Nordiques and Boston Bruins organizations, has been appointed assistant hockey coach of the SUNY Plattsburgh Cardinals.

Head coach Steve Hoar said Emery will handle the Cardinal defense, serve as coordinator of recruitment and monitor the academic progress of student-athletes. He succeeds Glen Giovannucci, who resigned the position during the summer to accept an assistant's post at Division I West Point.

Emery, who received the B.S. degree in marketing from Boston College in 1986, played four years of hockey for the Eagles, including the '85 team that advanced to the NCAA Division I "final four," and he was elected as a team tri-captain as a senior. Following graduation, he signed a contract with the Nordiques and played the 1986-87 season for the Fredericton, N.S. Express of the American Hockey League. He spent the following year playing defense for the AHL Maine Mariners, an affiliate of the Boston Bruins Hockey Club. From March through May of this year, Emery was a head coach in the New England College Development Hockey League in Hingham, Mass., a six-team league organized to train high school players for college-level hockey.

Women Harriers Classic Champs; Men's Soccer Team Wins 2 of 3

The women's cross country team captured the 1988 Cardinal Classic meet on Saturday to highlight another so-so week on the Plattsburgh State fall sports scene. The Cardinal women placed six runners among the top ten finishers to easily out-point Johnson State and St. Michael's College, respectively. Kathy Kane finished first for the Cards in 21:17, followed by Julie Dobert with a time of 22:47. The men runners didn't keep pace in their meet, however, finishing fifth in the eight-team field behind St. Lawrence, St. Michael's, Norwich and Clarkson.

In soccer, the Cardinal men won two of three matches last week, blanking highly regarded St. Lawrence and Utica Tech by identical 2-0 margins. On Saturday, they dropped a tough 3-2 decision to Oneonta State, falling to 0-3 on the season against SUNYAC competition. For the Cards, Greg Alario and Brian Bourgeois tallied against St. Lawrence, and Doug Bruce and John Clancy accounted for the scoring in the win over Utica.

The women's soccer team, nipped 1-0 by nationally ranked St. Lawrence on Tuesday, regrouped to battle conference rival Binghamton to a scoreless tie on Saturday. For the second consecutive week, however, the Cardinal women managed to eke a 5-3 advantage in a penalty-kick tie-breaker.

Plattsburgh State's volleyball team came up winless in the six-team SUNYAC Invitational Tournament hosted by New Paltz last weekend. The Cardinal tennis team endured a similar fate, losing to Middlebury on Saturday, 10-0.

'Conversation' Program Focus on Foreign Language, Culture

"Foreign Language Study and Cultural Literacy" will be the topic of a two-day conference to be held on campus next March, which will be funded through a Conversations in the Disciplines Grant from the SUNY Research Foundation. The co-authors of the grant are Dr. Jurgen Kleist, assistant professor of German in the department of foreign languages and literature, and Dr. Joanne Bujes, assistant professor of English.

The program, according to its planners, "will bring together specialists from a variety of disciplines to review the role of foreign language education as a basis for cultural literacy and for the development of analytic thought. Conferees will be invited to define the problem of foreign language education in three areas, the history of foreign language study in the United States, pedagogical theory and practice, and language education and cultural literacy."

Sue Spissinger, director of sponsored research, commented, "Twelve proposals were received from arts and science colleges and only six received funding. 'We're very pleased that one of those six grants was submitted by SUNY Plattsburgh faculty members.'"

The conference is scheduled for March 24 - 25 and more information will be forthcoming.

Memorial Hall Trophy Case Honors Memory of Rutkowski

A ceremony to dedicate a volleyball trophy case in the Plattsburgh Field House to the memory of the late Lynne Rutkowski will be held at 12:45 p.m. on Saturday, October 1 in the field house lobby.

Rutkowski, a freshman member of the volleyball team, was killed last November in a car accident. Members of the team and coach Joanne Johnson raised the money to purchase the trophy case.

President Charles O. Warren will formally dedicate the trophy case and Johnson will offer brief remarks. The ceremony is open to the campus and community.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 29 — THURSDAY, OCTOBER 6
Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the campus and public.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 29

12:15 pm — Women's Studies Forum presents the S.U.N.Y. Plattsburgh Sexual Harassment Committee leading a discussion on "Advertising Images of Men" along with the movie, "Stale Roles and Tight Buns." Sponsored by the Women's Studies Program and College Auxiliary Services. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

3 pm — "Targeting Your Job Search" — A workshop sponsored by the Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4 pm — Marketing Association general meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:15 pm — "How to Write an 'A' Paper" — A workshop by Special Services Project. Open to the campus. Angell Center Blue Room.

7 - 9 pm — Nu Theta Gamma Billiards Rush. Open to the campus. Angell Center Billiard Room.

8 pm — Circle K weekly meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room 3.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 30

7 - 9:30 pm — Drop-In Volleyball (men and women) sponsored by the Recreation Office. Open to the campus. Hawkins Hall Gymnasium.

8:15 pm — Comedy Show featuring Rich Hall sponsored by the Student Association. Tickets: S.A. members $3, public/faculty/staff $6 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 1

9 am - 6 pm — Women's Volleyball hosts the Cardinal Invitational (St. Lawrence, McGill, Clarkson, St. Michael's). Field House.

9 am - 6 pm — Bus to Montreal sponsored by Campus Life. Open to the campus and public. Round trip tickets are $9 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Bus departs from the Angell Center.

10 - noon — Blood Pressure Screening Clinic sponsored by the Student Nurses Association. Angell Center Conference Room.

3 pm — Men's Soccer vs. New Paltz. Field House.

4 pm — Phi Eta Sigma National Freshman Honor Society Induction. Angell Center Orchard Room.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 2

10 am - 5 pm — Campus/Community Carnival sponsored by Campus Life. Angell Center Amity Plaza.

6:45 & 9:15 pm — Student Association Film Committee presents "Red Heat." Open to the campus. Tickets: S.A. members 50¢, faculty/staff $1 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

8 pm — R.A.P. Training sponsored by Campus Life Residence Assistance Programming. Open to members only. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 3

8:30 pm — Greek Council meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

10 pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 4

3 pm — "Interview Techniques" — A workshop sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4:15 pm — Tuesday Reflections. Dr. William Hartnett on "Physics, Mathematics and Divorce." Sponsored by the Faculty of Arts and Science. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 - 8:15 pm — U.S. Customs Lecture — A speaker will discuss duty limits, penalties and answer questions. Sponsored by Campus Life. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 - 9 pm — Nu Theta Gamma Rush. Angell Center Conference Room.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 5

11 am - 3 pm — CVPB Blood Drive sponsored by Delta Phi Epsilon. Angell Center Ballroom.

3 pm — "Considering Graduate School" sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4 - 6 pm — Intramural Entries due for Men's Broomball, Men's and Women's Indoor Soccer and Fall Bowling Leagues. Sponsored by Recreational Sports Office. Open to the campus. Angell Center Desk.

4:15 pm — "Conquer Your Midterm Exams — Test Taking Skills" — A workshop sponsored by Special Services Project. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:30 - 6 pm — Don Benjamin, owner and manager of Windows on the Bay and the Royal Savage will be speaking on "The Management of Restaurants and Financing Your Own Business." Sponsored by the Society for the Advancement of Management/ROTARACT. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

ROTARACT. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

7 - 9:30 pm — Drop-In Volleyball (men and women) sponsored by the Recreation Office. Open to the campus. Hawkins Hall Gymnasium.

7 - 9 pm — NEXUS Speaker's Series features Leonard Koldin speaking on "Medicaid and Medicare for Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders." Sponsored by the Alzheimer's Disease Assistance Center. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7:30 pm — Meeting of Club International. Angell Center Conference Room.

8 pm — "A Voice of My Own" by Elinor Jones, a College Theatre Production sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre. Tickets: S.A. members $1, public $4, faculty/staff $3. Contact the Hartman Theatre Box Office 564-2283. Hartman Studio Theatre.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 6

12:15 pm — Courtyard Concert (limited seating) sponsored by the Music Council for the Center for Art, Music and Theatre. Winkel Sculpture Court, Myers Fine Arts Building.

12:15 pm — Women's Studies Forum presents the Commission on the Status of Women: Agenda 1988-89. Sponsored by College Auxiliary Services and Women's Studies Program. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

3 pm — "Cooperative Education and Internships" — A workshop sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4 pm — Women's Soccer vs. Green Mountain College. Field House.

4 - 6 pm — Intramural Entries due for Men's Broomball, Men's and Women's Indoor Soccer and Fall Bowling Leagues. Sponsored by Recreational Sports Office. Open to the campus. Angell Center Desk.

4:15 pm — "Conquer Your Midterm Exams — Test Taking Skills" — A workshop sponsored by Special Services Project. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8 pm — Circle K weekly meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room 3.

8 pm — "A Voice of My Own" by Elinor Jones, a College Theatre Production sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre. Tickets: S.A. members $1, public $4, faculty/staff $3. Contact the Hartman Theatre Box Office 564-2283. Hartman Studio Theatre.

NOTES

September 26 through October 2 — Round I of the Burghy Residence Hall All Star Games. See Residence Hall Councils for times and events. Sponsored by the Recreational Sports Office.

The Office of Campus Life is sponsoring a bus to Montreal on Saturday, October 1. The bus departs campus at 9:00 a.m. with a destination at Dominion Square and returns to campus by 6:00 p.m. Tickets are $9.00 round trip and on sale at the Angell Center Desk beginning Monday, September 26.

The Covenant Players, a nationally known dramatic touring group, will appear as part of the Protest Worship Service at the Newman Center, 92 Broad Street, on Thursday, September 29 at 5:30 p.m.

The Covenant Players present lively, imaginative dramatic performances about the Christian faith in contemporary society. The public is invited to attend. A free-will offering will be taken to support the work of the players. Their appearance is sponsored by the Protestant Campus Ministry.

Internships: Sociology and Criminal Justice students interested in registering for internships for the spring 1989 semester are requested to attend an informational meeting on Thursday, October 6 at 4:00 in Room 239 Redcay. General inquiries welcome. Contact Dr. Robert P. Weiss, Ex. 3310.

The Faculty of Arts and Science has announced the composition of its Faculty-wide committees. The committee rosters, including dates when terms of service expire, are:

FACULTY AFFAIRS — Donald Adams (1989), William Culver (1990), Lawrence Gillett (1989), William Graziadei (1990), Peter Hornby (1989), Kenneth Loach (1989), Craig Sample (1990), Ann Tracy (1989), Altina Waller (1990), and Timothy Palkovic (alternate, 1989). COURSES AND PROGRAMS — Raymond Doyle (1990), Jeanne Kissner (1989), H. Charles Kline (1990), Howard Miller (1989), James Olmsted (1989), Noel Smith (1989), Paul Szydluk (1990), and Donna Carr (alternate, 1989).

The Physics Seminar Series presents Dr. Robert Cotellessa, former Dean of Engineering and Academic Vice President at Clarkson University, who will speak about "The Engineering Transfer Program at Clarkson" on Thursday, October 6th, at 4:30 pm in room 219 of Hudson Hall.

The Student Health Center will be offering a Flue Immunization Clinic for students, faculty and staff. Influenza vaccine is recommended for those with chronic pulmonary, cardiovascular or renal disease. It is also recommended for those with diabetes mellitus and severe chronic anemia (such as sickle cell disease), and for people who just cannot afford to be incapacitated by illness.

Pre-sign up and pre-payment is mandatory before October 10 at the Student Health Center. Students with Health Fee, $2.00; students without Health Fee, $5.00; faculty and staff, $5.00. Immunizations will be given for students November 14 to November 8 during Clinic walk-in hours. Faculty and staff — November 16, 4:30 - 6:00 pm. You may call 564-2187 with any questions.

Physics Seminar on the topic, "Neutrinos from Super Novae: Numerical Simulation of Stellar Core Collapse," to be held at 2 p.m. on Friday, September 30 in Room 221 of Hudson Hall.

Dr. Eric Myra of the University of Virginia will be the guest speaker at a Physics Seminar.

CURRENT POSITION VACANCIES

Faculty

Foreign Languages & Literature

(Spanish F/T) — Fall '89

Art, Music & Theatre

(Stage Carpenter & Seamstress) — (Vita Bank)

English (P/T) — (Vita Bank)

English F/T — (Journalism) — Fall 89

Civil Service

Cleaner

General Mechanic

Grounds Worker

Upholsterer

Complete details are available in the Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action.

S.U.N.Y./Plattsburgh is an Equal Opportunity Employer. It is the policy of this College to provide equal opportunity in employment for all qualified persons without regard to race, color, national origin, age, sex, handicap, or veteran status.

THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS is compiled by the Office of Campus Life and published by the Office of College Relations and Development. Items to be listed in THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS must be received in the Office of Campus Life no later than noon on Thursday the week prior to publication.

Foundation Receives Gift of Hudson-Blessant-Yokum Harpsichord

The Plattsburgh College Foundation is the recipient of a unique gift, the Hudson-Blessant-Yokum Harpsichord. The harpsichord was commissioned in the 1960s by the College-Community Orchestra, which was then under the direction of Dr. Angelo LaMariana, and acquired with funds raised by a series of benefit concerts and private gifts. It was dedicated at a public concert on October 20, 1968 in what is now the E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium in Hawkins Hall.

The harpsichord is described as "relatively young in years, (but) a museum piece of high quality and increasing value." It honors the works and inspirational personalities of three men who were leaders in musical organization, teaching and performance in the Plattsburgh area through two generations.

Dr. Charles F. Hudson (1859-1937), a well-known music educator in local high schools, organized and/or directed the Plattsburgh Symphony, the Plattsburgh Men's Glee Club and the Clinton County Chorus. Peter Blessant (1892-1963) was the band director at Mount Assumption Institute for more than 20 years. He, too, began several musical organizations in the local community.

Dr. George Yokum (1917-1963) joined the music faculty of SUNY Plattsburgh in 1950 and taught here until his death in 1963. In addition to being the conductor of the College Chorale and the musical director of the All-College Musicals, he was the founder of the Lakeside Chorale and a founding member and first vice-chairman of the Council on the Arts.

Dr. Arthur Cardany (l), professor emeritus of education, and Dr. Angelo LaMariana, professor emeritus of music, were two of the original members of the Hudson-Blessant-Yokum Harpsichord Memorial Board.

Members of the Memorial Board wrote in the gift statement, "It is appropriate that we perpetuate the

(Continued on page 2)

Calendar Shortened for Payment of UUP Discretionary Increases

Short notice from SUNY Central Administration of the payment calendar for UUP discretionary salary increases for 1987-88 has mandated adoption of a shortened calendar for the review process for faculty and professional staff.

Faculty are scheduled to receive guidelines for preparation of applications for the discretionary increases within the next few days, with Wednesday, Oct. 12 being the final date for submission of individual evaluative files to department chairpersons, academic supervisors or center directors. Professional staff will follow procedures in effect in past years, but they should consult with their supervisors regarding the evaluation timetable.

The president's decision on discretionary awards for both faculty and professionals will be made on Friday, Nov. 11, with notification to individuals on Monday, the 14th.

Successful Parents' Weekend

Gallery Director Edward Brohel conducted a tour of the campus galleries for parents who visited campus during last weekend's highly successful Parents' Weekend.

Strumpf '69 to Return as Distinguished Visiting Professor

Dr. Neville E. Strumpf, a member of SUNY Plattsburgh's Class of 1969, will enjoy an early Homecoming next week on appointment as a fall semester Distinguished Visiting Professor.

Strumpf, associate professor in the School of Nursing at the University of Pennsylvania and director of that university's Gerontological Nurse Clinician Program, will conduct seminars, meet with faculty and students and present three public lectures during a term that begins next Tuesday (Oct. 11) and continues through Friday (Oct. 14).

On Tuesday, she will discuss "Images of Aging in Contemporary Society" at 7:30 p.m. in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge. The following day, at 7:30 p.m. in Ballroom B of the Angell Center, she will discuss her research in a talk entitled "Physical Restraint of the Institutionalized Elderly: A Report of Two Studies and Their Implications for Practice." On Thursday at 12:15 p.m., she will be the guest speaker at a Women's Studies Forum program scheduled for the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge. Her topic will be "The World of Older Women."

Strumpf, who holds the Ph.D. in nursing from New York University, is a recipient of the University of Pennsylvania's Lindback Award for Distinguished Teaching. She has written extensively on gerontology and gerontological nursing, including ethics and older women, and she has given many speeches and presentations in this country and abroad. In the past three years she has received grants for gerontological research and programs totaling more than $925,000.

Plattsburgh State Calling...

Twenty-four students have been recruited to telephone alumni during the fall 1988 Annual Alumni Fund phonothon campaign, and in eight nights of calling from the Kehoe Building Board Room they have been successful in generating more than $21,000 from more than 1,000 receptive Plattsburgh State graduates (the total could be substantially higher since about 350 who responded affirmatively to the appeal would not disclose how much they would give). The phonothon, which operates from 6:30 to 9 p.m. on Monday through Thursday each week, began September 19 and will continue into late October.

Center to Host 200 From NYS Geological Assn. this Weekend

SUNY Plattsburgh's Center for Earth and Environmental Science will host the 60th New York State Geological Association meeting this weekend, according to Dr. Thomas Wolosz, assistant professor in the center and president of the association.

Wolosz said that about 200 geologists are expected to participate in the three day conference, which will consist primarily of field trips in the Adirondacks, Vermont, and the Province of Quebec. Topics include glacial geology, Paleozoic stratigraphy and structure in the Champlain Valley, Adirondack geology and the Cretaceous Montereian Hills, and a trip covering the history of the iron mining industry of northern New York.

Members of the Plattsburgh faculty who will be among the field trip leaders are Dr. David Franzi, Dr. James Olmsted, Dr. James Dawson, Dr. John Moravek, and Dr. Gordon Pollard.

Dr. James McLelland, professor of geology at Colgate University, will be the guest speaker at Saturday's dinner meeting. McLelland will discuss "The Geochronology of the Adirondack Mountains."

Harpsichord Gift (Continued from page 1)

memorial and the trust by transferring (the harpsichord) to the Plattsburgh College Foundation (which is) closely bound to the university of Plattsburgh, having strong bonds with the Plattsburgh community and a corporate sensitivity. Those assure that the spirit which brought the instrument to Plattsburgh will continue..." Members of the Hudson-Blessant-Yokum Harpsichord Memorial Board are Warren M. Slocum, Irma K. Bird, Robert T. Booth, Arthur T. Cardany, Warren L. Chase, and Angelo LaMariana.

Planning Underway for Innovative 'Showcase '89' Celebration

Preliminary plans are underway for "Showcase '89," an innovative day-long program of presentations, poster displays, informal and formal performances intended to recognize and celebrate the scholarly and creative efforts of the faculty, students and staff of SUNY Plattsburgh. "Showcase '89," is

Two from Administrative Staff to Address October ACT Parley

Two members of the administrative staff will play prominent roles in the 18th annual meeting of SUNY's Association of Council Members and Trustees (ACT) in Albany on Saturday, October 8.

President Charles O. Warren will make a presentation on the freshman experience on a panel entitled, "Facing the Future." Dr. Warren will be one of three SUNY presidents discussing new programs on their campuses. The panel moderator will be former Plattsburgh President, and now SUNY Provost, Joseph C. Burke.

Don Garrant, assistant to the president for college relations and development, will serve on a panel discussing the topic, "Council Members and Their Relationship With Government." This panel will discuss ways in which Council members can become more effectively involved in governmental relations. That panel will be moderated by Plattsburgh Council member James Campbell, '76.

The annual ACT session is usually attended by upwards of 250 members of college councils and boards of trustees at SUNY's 64 campuses, and by the SUNY Board of Trustees.

Simpson Presentation Leads Off Fall Sociology Colloquium Series

The fall semester Sociology Colloquium Series will debut next Wednesday (Oct. 12) from noon to 1:15 p.m. in the Angell Center Conference Room with a presentation on "Family Narratives and the Construction of Meaning" by Dr. Charles Simpson, associate professor and chair of the sociology department. Simpson's talk will focus on ways to preserve family traditions and lore.

Future programs in the series will feature Dr. John Tomlin, associate professor, who will discuss "Student-Student Criminal Victimization" on Nov. 9, and Dr. Robert Weiss, also an associate professor, who will speak on "Convict-Leasing in the South from 1840-1940" on December 7. These programs will also be held in the Angeol Center Conference Room. Sponsored by the sociology department and the Sociology Club, the series is open to the campus community.

scheduled for April 12, 1989 and all members of the campus community are invited to be part of the celebration.

Several faculty members have already volunteered to be on the program. Committee chairperson Edward Miller said, "Events promise to be as varied as the disciplines on campus. For instance, Dr. Fritz Kissner and his physics students may demonstrate mouse-trap powered cars. Kathryn Stuart, working with Rick Mikkelson, has proposed to have open rehearsals and informal musical performances during the day, and the annual Sigma XI Student Minisymposium will also be part of the schedule."

While some events have been scheduled, the program is still open and members of the organizing committee will be contacting centers, departments, and organizations during the next few weeks to solicit participation and ideas. Anyone wishing to take part or sponsor an event should contact one of the committee members, who are: Miller, James Armstrong, Suzann Buckley, Nancy Church, Beverly Forster, William Laundry, Rick Mikkelson, Thomas Moran, Anna Nardelli, Eldridge Roark, Carolee Smith, and Sue Spissinger.

The committee will also sponsor a logo contest, details of which will be announced shortly.

Dedication Event

Members of the Plattsburgh State women's volleyball team join President Charles O. Warren and former coach Joanne Johnson (second from left) at Parents' Weekend ceremony dedicating a Field House trophy case to the memory of Lynne Rutkowski, a member of the 1987 team who died last fall in an auto accident. Coach Johnson and the Cardinal volleyball team raised the funds to purchase the trophy case.

Soccer Teams Continue Slide; Women Runners 3rd at LeMoyne

In men's and women's soccer, the name of the game is f-r-u-s-t-r-a-t-i-o-n. Leading Potsdam with the only goal scored until late in the contest on Wednesday, the Cardinal men let the visiting Bears tie it up with time running out, then lost in a penalty-kick tie-breaker, 4-3, following two scoreless overtime periods. On Saturday, Plattsburgh came out flat to lose to New Paltz State, 3-1. The Cardinals, 5-5-1 overall, have yet to win in SUNY Conference play in five outings. The week was equally disappointing for the Cardinal women, who dropped 1-0 and 2-0 decisions to Albany State and Oneonta State, respectively.

The Cardinal women's cross country team made an excellent showing over the weekend in the highly competitive LeMoyne Invitational meet, finishing third in the eight-team field behind Ithaca College and the University of Rochester, ranked 3rd and 5th in national polls. Kathy Kane finished third in the meet for the Cardinal women — one tenth of a second out of second place. The men's team, meanwhile, wound up 10th among 13 teams in the LeMoyne meet, with Andy Hill the top Cardinal finisher in 32nd place with a time of 30:09.

The women's volleyball team placed fourth among six teams that participated in a Parents' Weekend tournament held on campus. The Cardinals lost to McGill and Concordia, which finished 1-2 in the tournament, but rallied to defeat St. Lawrence, St. Michael's and Clarkson. Valerie Rochleau led Plattsburgh with 26 points, seven aces, 12 kills and two assists.

The women's tennis team continues winless, losing matches to Potsdam, 1-8, and St. Lawrence, 0-9, during the week.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Dr. Donald Adams, professor of environmental science, is co-author of "Gas cycling in surficial sediments of Hamilton Harbour," a paper he presented at a special workshop on Hamilton Harbour-Restoration at the annual meeting of the International Association of Great Lakes Research in Hamilton, Ont., Canada. . . Dr. Donna M. Carr, assistant professor of mathematics delivered three lectures on "strongly normal ideals over P-kappa-lambda" to the Set Theory Seminar at the Instituto Venezolano de Investigaciones Cientificas (IVIC), held in Caracas in June. In August, she and a colleague from York University (Toronto) jointly presented a paper "Towards a structure theory for ideals over P-kappa-lambda (continued)" at the American Mathematical Society Centennial Celebration in Providence, R.I. . . Mr. Carl Chiasson, instructor of hearing and speech science, is the author of "Medicaid, Medicare, & Audiology Services: A Review of Coverage Guidelines," which was published in the July Edition of The Hearing Journal. This article reviews the criteria under which hearing aids and audiological services such as hearing tests can be covered by Medicaid and Medicare, and also describes the circumstances under which the private practitioner can be reimbursed. . . Dr. George Flynn, assistant professor of physics, was among school and college teachers from all over the United States who met for six days this past summer in various New Jersey locations at the invitation of The College Board and Educational Testing Service to evaluate more than 425,000 Advanced Placement essay booklets. Flynn was a reader for the AP essays in physics. . . Dr. Dennis Kimmage, librarian, is the author of a two-part article entitled "Glasnost in Soviet libraries" that appears in the July-August and September issues of American Libraries, the official publication of the American Library Association. The article, according to a credit line in the publication, was "inspired by (Kimmage's) 1987 trip to Russia". . . Dr. Jurgen Kleist, assistant professor of German, is the author of "Die Akzaptanz des Gegebenen. Zur Problematik des Kunstlers in Peter Handkes 'Der kurze Brief zum langen Abschied,'" which appears in Modern Austrian Literature, a journal devoted to Austrian literature and culture of the 19th and 20th centuries. His article, "Siddhartha' in Big Sur. Zur Wirkungsgeschichte Hesses in den USA: Eine Erganzung," has been accepted for publication next year in Seminar, a journal of Germanic studies. Kleist also is the author of a book, "Da Dilemma der kritischen Kunst: Zur Kunst- und Kunstler-problematik in der deutschsprachigen Prosa nach 1945," to be published in 1989 by New York, Bern, Frankfurt, Munich, Berlin: Lang. . . Dr. Martin Lubin, professor of political science, is the author of "New England, New York and Their Francophone Neighborhood," a chapter in the book Perforated Sovereignties and International Relations. . . Dr. Roy S. Malpass, professor of behavioral science, attended the recent 9th Congress of the International Association for Cross-Cultural Psychology held in Newcastle, New South Wales, Australia. At the Congress he presented a paper entitled "Computer — Based Communications Among Cross-Cultural Researchers"; chaired an invited symposium on "Convergences in Methodology from Anthropology and Psychology"; and presented a paper in the symposium. Dr. Malpass presently chairs the Association's Publications Committee and serves on the executive council. . . Cerise Oberman, director of libraries, is vice chair/chair elect of the American Library Association, Association of College and Research Libraries Bibliographic Instruction Section.

Varied Events Highlight Homecoming Weekend '88

A salute to SUNY Plattsburgh graduates of classes dating back 60 years and farther and a series of social events for students will highlight Homecoming Weekend 1988, which gets underway this Friday and continues through Sunday morning. Homecoming Weekend is a joint undertaking of the college's Alumni Association and the Student Association (SA).

Malcolm Lavery, director of alumni relations, said that record numbers of alumni are expected to return to campus for Homecoming, including the best-ever turnout of alumni from "honored" anniversary classes (those from class years ending in 3 or 8, dating to 1928). "Years ago we were thrilled to host alumni from Golden Anniversary classes," he said, "and that's still the case today as about 30 graduates of the Normal School Class of 1938 have registered for their reunion. However, we're making reunion luncheon plans for a dozen members of the Class of 1928, and another alumna who will attend that function is Annie Laurie Scribner, who graduated from Plattsburgh 72 years ago."

A 7 - 9 p.m. reunion buffet on Friday in the Angell Center Ballroom will launch Homecoming festivities for alumni. Other major events for this constituency includes Saturday's luncheons for anniversary classes at many area restaurants and a 6:30 p.m. President's Reception for alumni in the Angell Center Blue Room, followed by the Homecoming banquet and dance in the Ballroom.

On Sunday, three alumni will be inducted into the Plattsburgh State Sports Hall of Fame in ceremonies scheduled for 9:30 a.m. in the Angell Center Ballroom. C. Thomas Cummings '56, Howard E. Jennings '69 and Emily Jones Pleau '69 will join 18 others installed previously as "individuals who have participated in the college's intercollegiate athletic program and whose achievements and contributions exemplify the ideals of good citizenship."

Weekend activities for students begin tomorrow with election of the 1988 Homecoming king and queen, then continue with a bang at 9 p.m. on Friday with a fireworks display in the vicinity of Memorial Hall field sponsored by the SA and College Auxiliary Services. More than 25 floats and several marching bands will wind through downtown Plattsburgh to the SUNY Plattsburgh campus in the traditional SA parade, on the theme "Nursery Rhymes," scheduled for a 10 a.m. start on Saturday from Plattsburgh Plaza on Cornelia Street. Chosen by the SA for the honor to lead the parade as its "Grand Marshall" is Mrs. Ruth Angell, widow of the late Dr. George W. Angell, president of SUNY Plattsburgh from 1954-74 and for whom the College Center is named.

Ruth Angell (foreground), shown at the fall 1984 dedication of the city street that honors the memory of her late husband and former SUNY Plattsburgh State president, is the Student Association's choice as Grand Marshall of this Saturday's Homecoming parade. (File photo)

Soccer will occupy the Saturday afternoon spotlight as the women and men Cardinals entertain McGill University at noon and 2 o'clock, respectively, at the Field House. That evening's 10 o'clock semi-formal buffet dinner and dance in Memorial Hall gymnasium will cap Homecoming happenings for students.

Two academic unit Homecoming events are planned. The Department of Nursing will hold an open house from 3 to 5 p.m. on Saturday in Room 209A of Hawkins Hall. The Center for Human Resources will host a 4 to 5:30 p.m. reception that day in Ward Hall for alumni of its programs in home economics, food and nutrition, child and family services, human services and counseling.

Nursing Alumni to Give Workshop for Students, Professionals

Three nursing alumni from the Class of 1968 will be on campus Friday (Oct. 14) to lead a three-hour workshop for students and professionals on "Nursing in the 21st Century." The program will be held in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge beginning at 1 p.m.

The instructional team will consist of Dr. Nancy Quinn Beardslee, Linda A. Saunders and Linda K. Schwartz. Their presentations will focus on changes in society that affect health care today, changes in the nursing profession and in nursing methods and changes in nursing education required to meet the needs of future students. Additional topics to be covered include the AIDS crisis, ethical dilemmas,

30 Inducted to Phi Eta Sigma About 350 Comprise Membership

Thirty students were inducted into the campus chapter of Phi Eta Sigma, the national honor society for freshmen, during a recent ceremony. Students earn membership in Phi Eta Sigma by earning a grade point average of 3.5 or higher (out of a possible 4.0) during at least one semester of their freshman year.

New members, their major fields of study and their hometowns are: Julie Ames, elementary education, Mayfield; Amy Bobar, speech and hearing handicapped education, Broadalbin; Matthew Burgin, environmental science, Delhi; Sheri-Ann Gowie, international business, Brooklyn; Kerry Diamond, English, Staten Island; Regina DuBois, chemistry, New Paltz; Marcia Duval, secondary education/English, Mellenville; Kathleen Dzenis, accounting, Honeoye Falls; Deborah Hoffman, psychology, Lockport; Dawn Irwin, speech and hearing science, South Burlington, VT; Lisa Kilfoyle, human services, Saranac Lake; Douglas Leonard, anthropology/art, Red Hook; Elie Mak, mathematics, Ellenburg Depot; Lynette McCann, undeclared, Deposit; Lisa Beth Moore, geology, Cape Vincent; Elizabeth Morgan, business, Cadyville; Julie Oppedisano, child/family services, Albany; Steven Piccolino, liberal arts, Glenmont; Francis Poore, psychology/philosophy, Massena; Anja Rothhaar, psychology, Cadyville; Kristen Sauer, communication, Poughkeepsie; Juli Schaller, psychology, Delmar; Lucian Schmit, individualized studies, Plattsburgh Air Force Base; Steven Scribner, accounting, Gloversville; Douglas Sloan, political science, Palmyra; Susan Sventeck, undeclared, Chazy; Elizabeth VanSant, international policies/Spanish, Homer; Mark VanSchaick, political science, Cape Vincent; Joyce Waite, undeclared, Plattsburgh; and Matthew Zeitler, anthropology, Holtsville.

Founded in 1983, the SUNY Plattsburgh chapter of Phi Eta Sigma has approximately 350 members to date.

motivation to enter the nursing field, quality of care and implications of the nurse shortage.

Beardslee, who holds the Ed.D. from the University of Colorado, is an assistant professor of nursing at the University of Northern Colorado. She has published widely on ethics in the nursing profession. Saunders, who has served as a school nurse, staff nurse and as an instructor of medical assistants since graduating from Plattsburgh, teaches nursing at Truckee Meadows Community College in Reno, Nev.

Schwartz is program coordinator and staff nurse for the Senior Day Treatment Program at Marin General Hospital in Greenbrae, Cal. She serves also as a nursing consultant for several organizations, including Planned Parenthood.

The workshop is being co-sponsored by SUNY Plattsburgh's Department of Nursing and its Center for Lifelong Learning. A registration fee of $7.50 per person is required.

Gallery Docents

The SUNY Plattsburgh Art Gallery docents were honored last week at a luncheon hosted by President and Mrs. Charles Warren for their six years of service to the college. The 25 docents give tours and gallery talks, publish "The Kent Collector," maintain a museum shop, assist with installation of various exhibits and will soon begin publishing a newsletter. Seen here are: (1. to r. 1st row: Evelyn Prespare, Frances Krinovitz, Phyllis Freedman (docent director), Cecily Feldman, Ruby Demoulin, Gallery Director Edward Brohel. 2nd row: Marian Suway, Iris Freedman, Esther Tortorelli, Mimi McDowell, Jackie Sabourin. 3rd row: Tarley Lieberthal, Helen Rock, Evelyn Heins, Evelyn G. Marks. Back row: Mary Jane Carroll, Helen Colver, Nancy Manning, Kathleen VanBuskirk.

14 Students from Britain Here; 16 of Ours Studying There

Fourteen British students are attending SUNY Plattsburgh this year, while 16 Plattsburgh students are studying in England. Dodie Giltz, the college's study abroad coordinator, said, "This is the largest group of exchange students to participate in this unique educational opportunity."

Giltz explained that the college has had an exchange program with Chester College in England for 13 years. Liverpool Institute began exchanging students with Plattsburgh in 1986, and a new agreement with Lancashire Polytechnic took effect this fall. Students involved in the program, she said, "trade places at each other's institution, earn credits toward graduation, participate in all aspects of college and community life, and offer an international dimension on all four campuses."

Chester College students studying at Plattsburgh this fall and their major programs are: Judith Dewar (education/English), Bryan Hiller (education/math), Helen Kelly (education/art), Sarah Ridgeway (education/drama), Lara Smith (education/physical education), and Caroline Turner (education/art). Plattsburgh students at Chester are: Tanya Cohen (anthropology), Lauri Kazlo (elementary education), Paula Kessler (psychology), Colleen Halloran (elementary education), Tom Reger (English), Christine Reynheer (special education), and Deborah Tuohy (elementary education).

Lancashire Polytechnic students at Plattsburgh are: Joanne Calton, Shaun Cooper, Howard Nowell, Michael Sullivan and Daniel Taylor, all business majors, and Claire McLean (business/computer science). Plattsburgh students at Lancashire for the semester are: Maureen Costello and Carol Cummings (elementary education), Denise Demick and Nikki St. Mary (communication arts), and Heather Tracey (international business).

Fourteen British exchange students are spending the year on the SUNY Plattsburgh campus. Front row (l. to r.): Judith Dewar, Mike Sullivan, Caroline Turner, Claire McLean. 2nd row: Howard Nowell, Pauline Roberts, Joanne Calton, Elaine Coggins. 3rd row: Daniel Taylor, Sara Ridgeway, Shaun Cooper, Bryan Hiller, and Helen Kelly. Missing: Lara Kellett Smith.

Liverpool Institute exchange students are: Elaine Coggins (geography/American studies) and Pauline Roberts (English/American studies). Studying at Liverpool this semester are Paul Coffey (business), Patricia Pizzo (sociology/criminology), Sally Slavinski (biology), and Carmella Sollecito (elementary education).

Students interested in Study Abroad for next year should contact Giltz at 133 Court Street.

SUNY Central Memo a Reminder of Political Activity Policy

SUNY Chancellor D. Bruce Johnstone has circulated an Executive Chamber policy memorandum to University presidents that focuses on limitations on political activities by New York State employees. "With state and local elections approaching," wrote the chancellor, "it is appropriate to transmit . . . this advisory (for) campus staff and faculty."

The memo states that while employees are not discouraged from taking part in the political process, a clear separation must exist between political activities and the proper discharge of duties. It cautions against the conduct of political activities on paid state time and against the use of state equipment, vehicles and office space for other than official business.

Further, the memo was accompanied by copies of sections of the Election Law and the Civil Service Law that delineate prohibited activities. Persons interested in reviewing the memorandum and the copies of the laws may do so by contacting Don Garratt, assistant to the president for college relations and development, Kehoe 807, ext. 2090.

Forensic Team to Host Its 18th 'South of the Border' Tourney

SUNY Plattsburgh will host its eighteenth annual "South of the Border" Forensic Tournament October 14-16, according to Al Montanaro, chairperson of the communication department. Approximately ten to fifteen colleges will participate.

Debate competition will take place on Friday and Saturday, while Individual Events will take place on Saturday and Sunday. Individual events will include prose interpretation, poetry interpretation, after-dinner speaking, persuasion, expository speaking, dramatic duo interpretation, extemporaneous speaking, impromptu speaking, rhetorical criticism, and epideictic speaking.

Individual awards will be presented in each category. Team awards will be based on points accumulated in the various events.

SPOTLIGHT

Dr. Melvin W. Donaho, professor of communication, has been appointed by the Roxbury Publishing Company of Los Angeles as a member of the Editorial Advisory Board for the new edition of The Speech Communication Workbook: Exercises and Activities, a work designed to help students in the applied aspects of learning communication. Donaho, recently appointed vice president for public relations for the Adirondack Council, Inc., Boy Scouts of America, serves as editor of the Council's newsletter, Adirondacker, and as its training chairperson. . . Dr. Leonard Fontana, associate professor of sociology, will be presenting a paper, "Margaret Thatcher and the 'Crisis' in the National Health Service" to the European Community Studies Association in Washington, D.C. The paper is based on research Fontana conducted while in residency at the University of Reading in England. . . Dr. Ralph Hunkins, professor in the Center for Teacher Education and Educational Services, presented a slide/lecture on Pioneers in Teacher Education from Northern New York and Vermont at a chapter meeting of Phi Delta Kappa, an honorary group of local educators, held on October 5 at the Valcour Center. . . Dr. Roy S. Malpass, professor of behavioral science, recently attended the 24th International Congress of Psychology, in Sydney, Australia. He was a speaker/discussant in an all-day International Forum on "Issues and Pitfalls in the Comparison of Data from Different Cultures." . . Dr. Marshall Onofrio, assistant professor of music, was one of twenty-three jazz performers and educators chosen to participate in the first Summer Institute on Jazz Education. The month-long Institute took place on the Rutgers University-Newark campus. On August 6, Onofrio's

"Come Live With Me and Be My Love" was premiered in Orlando, Fla. by the Central Florida Bass Quintet and two soprano soloists. The work was commissioned by Ralph and Lori Barclay for the occasion of their wedding. In addition, Documents: The Life of Sid Chafetz, a film for which Onofrio composed and produced in the music, is being shown as part of a forty-year retrospective of printmaker Chafetz' work. The exhibition is taking place on the Ohio State University campus and runs through October 12.

'Voice' Ends Run This Week

Four Hartman Studio Theatre performances remain of "A Voice of My Own," the one-act, one-scene, 90-minute play by Elinor Jones that traces the historical emergence and growing influence of women in literature by interweaving excerpts from the works of 24 outstanding women writers. Five student actresses play 24 different parts of the production, scheduled for 8 p.m. today through Saturday, and the five are (l-r) Lara Froelich, Christine Moore, Elizabeth Bonnebeau, Tina Caron and Eileen Mack.

Adult Learning Services Now a Student Affairs Component

The Office of Adult Learning Services, formerly under the Center for Lifelong Learning, is now a part of the Student Affairs Division.

Coordinator Bette S. Brohel explained, "The Adult Learning Services Office has been relocated from the seventh floor of Kehoe to the office of the Vice President for Student Affairs, which is on the second floor. As part of the Student Affairs Division, we join a number of other professionals and offices providing advisement and counseling services. We will continue to provide those services to prospective and currently enrolled adult students. We will also continue to work with various offices within the college to raise their awareness of the special needs of adult students, which may differ from those of the traditional student body."

The new address of the Adult Learning Services Office is Kehoe 202 and the telephone number is 564-2280.

CURRENT POSITION VACANCIES

Faculty

Art, Music & Theatre

(Stage Carpenter) — (Vita Bank)

Art, Music & Theatre — (Technical Director) — Fall '89

Arts and Science — Vita Bank

Communication (2) (Mass Comm. & Public Speaking) — Fall '89

English (P/T) — (Vita Bank)

English F/T — (Journalism) — Fall '89

Foreign Languages & Literature (Spanish F/T) — Fall '89

Mathematics (2) — Fall '89

Philosophy — Fall '89

Sociology — Fall '89

Complete details are available in the Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action.

S.U.N.Y./Plattsburgh is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 13 — THURSDAY, OCTOBER 20
Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the campus and public.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 13

8 am - 8 pm — Homecoming King and Queen election sponsored by Student Association Activities Coordination Board. Angell Center Lobby.
11:30 am — U.U.P. Executive Board meeting. Members welcome. Angell Center Conference Room.
12:15 pm — Women's Studies Forum presents D.V.P. Neville Strumpf, PhD, R.N., speaking on, "The World of Older Women." Sponsored by Women's Studies Program and College Auxiliary Services. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.
3 pm — "Senior Placement Orientation" — A workshop sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.
4 pm — Marketing Association general meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.
4 pm — Men's Soccer vs. Green Mountain College. Field House.
4:15 pm — "Memory Devices" — A workshop sponsored by Special Services Project. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.
8 pm — Circle K weekly meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room 3.
8 pm — "Overnight Backpacking" presented by Mr. Jim Wagner, Manager of THE MOUNTAINEER in Keene Valley, N.Y. Sponsored by the Adirondack Experience Club. Yokum 205.
8 pm — "A Voice of My Own" by Elinor Jones, a College Theatre Production sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre. Tickets: S.A. members $1, public $4, faculty/staff $3. Contact the Hartman Theatre Box Office at 564-2283. Hartman Studio Theatre.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 14

1 - 4 pm — "Nursing in the 21st Century" sponsored by the Department of Nursing and the Center for Lifelong Learning. Workshop fee: $7.50. For more information, contact the Center for Lifelong Learning. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.
7 - 9 pm — "Come as You Are" — Class reunion buffet sponsored by the Alumni Association. Open to alumni and guests. Tickets are $6.00/person with a cash bar available. Tickets on sale at the door. Angell Center Ballroom.
8 pm — "A Voice of My Own" by Elinor Jones (see Thursday, October 13 for details).
9 pm — Homecoming Fireworks Display sponsored by the Student Association and College Auxiliary Services. Memorial Hall Field.
10 pm — Caribbean Night sponsored by AKEBA. Tickets: S.A. members $1, faculty/staff/public $2 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Point.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 15

10 am — Annual Homecoming Parade featuring more than 25 floats, marching bands, clowns and much, much more! Sponsored by the Student Association. Parade route follows Cornelia Street, Margaret Street, Broad Street and Rugar Street.
noon — Women's Soccer vs. McGill. Field House.
2 pm — Men's Soccer vs. McGill (exhibition). Field House.
3 - 5 pm — Nursing Department Open House. All alumni and guests are invited. Hawkins Hall Room 209A.
4 - 5:30 pm — Human Resources Reception. All alumni and guests are invited. Ward Hall Lounge.
6:30 pm - 1 am — President's Reception and Dinner Dance. Tickets are $15.00 per person. Call 564-2090 for reservations. Sponsored by the Alumni Association. Angell Center Blue Room and Ballroom.
8 pm — "A Voice of My Own" by Elinor Jones (see Thursday, October 13 for details).
10 pm — Homecoming Semi-formal: "Till the Clock Strikes Twelve." Sponsored by the Student Association. Includes a buffet dinner. Open to the campus. Tickets are $3 for S.A. members and faculty/staff. Memorial Hall Gymnasium.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 16

9 am — Hike up Porter Mountain sponsored by the Adirondack Experience Club. Open to the campus. Tickets are $1 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Leave from in front of the Angell Center.
9:30 am — Annual Sports Hall of Fame Brunch. Call 564-2090 for reservations. Sponsored by the Cardinal Booster Club. Open to the campus. All tickets are $6. Angell Center Ballroom.
6 pm — Moffitt Hall 4th floor dinner. Angell Center Orchard Room.
6:45 & 9:15 pm — Student Association Activities Coordination Board Film Committee presents "Big Business." Open to the campus. Tickets: S.A. members 50¢, faculty/staff $1 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Giltz Auditorium Hawkins Hall.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 17

8 am - 6 pm — Senior portrait proof drop-off table sponsored by Cardinal Yearbook. Angell Center Lobby.
8:30 pm — Greek Council meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.
10 pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 18

8 am - 6 pm — Senior portrait proof drop-off table sponsored by Cardinal Yearbook. Angell Center Lobby.

noon - 1:30 pm — "Labels and Attitudes Involving the Handicapped." Sponsored by the Renaissance Club. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

3 pm — "Considering Graduate School" — A workshop sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

7 pm — Women's Volleyball vs. Middlebury College. Field House.

8 pm — College Concert: Sinfonia, Chorale, Cardinal Singers, Jazz Ensemble, Symphonic Band. Sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre and the Music Council. Angell Center Ballroom.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 19

3 pm — "Resumes and Cover Letters" — A workshop sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

7 pm — Club Canada weekly meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7 - 9:30 pm — Drop-In Volleyball (men and women) sponsored by the Recreation Office. Open to the campus. Hawkins Hall Gymnasium.

7:30 pm — Club International meeting. Open to members only. Angell Center Conference Room.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 20

11 am & 1 pm — New York State Comptroller Informational Session sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

3 pm — "Interview Techniques" — A workshop sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

6:30 pm — "Make It — Take It Extravaganza" — A workshop for teachers sponsored by the Center for Lifelong Learning and the Center for Teacher Education. Workshop fee is $30. Contact the Center for Lifelong Learning for more information. Sibley Cafetorium.

8 pm — Visual Artist Series presents Serina Bocchino, Painter. Sponsored by Art Resources Association. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8 pm — Circle K weekly meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room 3.

8:15 pm — Opportunity in International Business — The Program at Plattsburgh, Internships Available and Outside Opportunities. Sponsored by the International Business Club. Open to the campus. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

NOTES

Do you feel stressed? The Psychological Services Center is running a Stress Management Clinic. Students will be taught on an individual basis to relax and control their tension using relaxation techniques and biofeedback equipment. The clinic services are open to all students and are free of charge. You may phone ahead for an appointment (564-3086) or further information. Walk-ins are welcome. The clinic is located at the Psychological Services Center in the Infirmary. Staff trainers are Patty Perillo and Judy Traynor under the supervision of Dr. Jacquelyn Connelly.

Wellness Fair sponsored by Student Health Center on Thursday, October 27, 1988 from 10 am to 3 pm in the Angell Center Ballroom. Informational booths, physical fitness unit, including lung volume, blood pressure, percentage body fat, cholesterol screening, exam demonstrations and more. Door prizes!

R.A. Applications for 1989-90 positions will be available at the Angell College Center Desk October 19 and the deadline is December 4. There are currently no positions available for January. However, candidates who wish to be considered if vacancies occur should submit an application and indicate they wish to be considered for January 1989.

The Office of Campus Life will sponsor a bus trip to Montreal on Saturday, October 22. The bus departs campus at 9 am for Dominion Square and returns by 6 pm. Round-trip tickets are $9 and are on sale at the Angell Center Information Desk.

Plattsburgh's Annual Canada Day to Focus on Province of Ontario

The Annual Canada Day celebration sponsored by SUNY Plattsburgh's Center for the Study of Canada will be held on Friday, October 28. This year's primary focus will be on the province of Ontario.

Heroux Is One of 12 Finalists for 'Great Montrealers' Award

Dr. Lise Heroux, assistant professor in the School of Business and Economics, has been selected as one of twelve finalists for the Prix d'Excellence de l'Academie des Grands Montrealais (Award of Excellence of the Academy of Great Montrealers).

The award is presented by the Montreal Chamber of Commerce to someone considered to have made outstanding contributions to the selected field of endeavor. This year's field is education and Heroux was one of 400 people nominated for the award. The award will be presented in November.

Heroux, a member of the faculty at SUNY Plattsburgh since the fall of 1987, earned her doctorate in marketing from Concordia University. Her dissertation was named the best doctoral paper of 1987 by the Administrative Sciences Association of Canada.

A specialist in industrial marketing, Heroux has published numerous articles and made many invited presentations on various aspects of that topic. She has been invited to present two papers at upcoming conferences — the International Conference on Services Marketing (to be held later this month in Cleveland) and the International Symposium on Pacific Asian Business (scheduled for mid-January in Honolulu).

In her first year at SUNY Plattsburgh, Heroux received a Professional Development and Quality of Work Life New Faculty Development Award, an In-House Mini-Grant, and a New Faculty Research Program Summer Stipend for Students Award.

She is an associate of the Center for the Study of Canada and a member of the Canada-U.S. Advisory Council. She is also a member of the American Marketing Association and the American Statistical Association.

Special guest speakers will include Walter Stothers, Agent General, Ontario House in New York City, and Jeffrey Simpson, journalist for the "Toronto Globe and Mail."

Stothers, who was appointed Agent General to the United States in 1987, will address members of the Canada/U.S. Business Advisory Council on the subject of "Canada/U.S. Economic Issues" during a private luncheon. A former senior partner with the accounting firm of Clarkson Gordon, Stothers also chairs the Ontario Lottery Corporation Board of Directors.

Simpson, a well-known political columnist, is the author of The History of Political Patronage, a book which takes an indepth look at Canadian politics. He will deliver a public address at 4:15 p.m. in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

An exhibit of photographs of the Anishabe Indian tribe by Jane Mundy will be on display in the Cardinal Lounge throughout the day. Mundy will discuss her work and her experiences with the tribe during a special Women's Studies Forum presentation at 12:15 p.m.

At 1:30 p.m., Dr. Marcel Rousseau, professor
(Continued on page 2)

50th Year Reunion

Thirty-two members of the Class of 1938 returned to campus last weekend to observe their Golden Anniversary reunion. The group convened for its reunion luncheon at the Valcour Educational Conference Center with class advisor Dr. Edward E. "Doc" Redcay (front row, third from left).

Seven Join College Staff; Five in U.S.E.D.-Funded Positions

Several new staff members have been added to the college community during the past few weeks.

Vangerl E.H. Dupigny has been named Coordinator of the Cooperative Education Demonstration Project, which is funded by the U.S. Department of Education. Dupigny was most recently the Division Fiscal Director of the department of Public Health/Division of Dental Health and the Office of Non-Smoking and Health in Boston, Massachusetts. She has also worked as a financial accounting and management system consultant for the N.I.C.E. Day Care Center of Boston. Dupigny has a bachelor's degree in management from the University of Massachusetts in Boston and has done graduate work at Lesley College.

Deborah Kaseman, a former secretary for the Defense Intelligence Agency in Amman, Jordan, will be the project secretary, and Paula Adams Jenkins, a counseling student, will serve as a graduate assistant in the project office.

Jeannette Randy has been hired as Coordinator of the "New Transfer Student Network" which has won funding from the U.S. Department of Education's Fund for the Improvement of Post-Secondary Education. Randy holds a master's degree in systems management from the University of Southern California and a bachelor's degree (summa cum laude) from SUNY Plattsburgh. She is an adjunct faculty member at Clinton Community College and is a former consultant on management information systems and computer applications.

Margarita Boyd has accepted the post of part-time secretary in that office.

Ted R. Johnson has been hired as an admissions counselor for the Admissions Office. Johnson has a master's degree in counseling from the University of Northern Iowa and a bachelor's degree from the University of Iowa. For the past two years, he has worked at the Instituto Tecnológico y de Estudios

Dupigny

Johnson

Randy

O'Brien

Superiores de Monterrey, a college preparatory school in Chihuahua, Mexico. Johnson also spent two years as a financial aid counselor for the University of Northern Iowa.

Kelly L. O'Brien is the new financial aid advisor in the Financial Aids Office. O'Brien earned an M.S. at SUNY Potsdam and a B.S. from St. Lawrence University. She served for two summers as a temporary financial aid assistant at SUNY Potsdam and earlier held several positions with the Winchester Savings Bank in Massachusetts.

Wagner to Give 4 Presentations

Sally Roesch Wagner, a research affiliate at the University of California at Davis, will make four presentations on campus on Sunday and Monday (Oct. 23-24) under sponsorship of College Auxiliary Services and the Women's Studies program.

At 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge, she will give a full costume performance of "An Evening with Matilda Joselyn Gage," the 19th Century feminine suffragist and associate of Susan B. Anthony. Wagner will make three presentations on Monday. At 11:30 a.m. she will give a Brown Bag luncheon lecture and slide presentation on "The Oz Books" in the Angell Center Amnesty Room. At 3 p.m. in the Cardinal Lounge she will give a lecture on "Influences and Themes in the Oz Books," and she will conclude her appearance here at 7:30 p.m. with another character performance in costume, this one on Elizabeth Cady Stanton.

All presentations by Wagner are free and open to the campus and the general public.

Canada Day (Continued from page 1)

emeritus at the University of Ottawa, will lecture on "Canada's Policies Toward Latin America." William Carr, acid rain advisor for Ontario's Ministry of the Environment, will speak at 3 p.m. on environmental issues as they impact on both sides of the border.

From 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., a variety of films produced by the National Film Board of Canada and focusing on the Province of Ontario will be available for viewing. SUNY Plattsburgh is the official United States distribution center for the National Film Board and houses an extensive collection of films and videotapes.

Also throughout the day, Club Canada will sponsor an information booth featuring free maps and brochures, and the Government of Ontario will present an acid rain exhibit. All activities will take place in the Angell College Center.

The visit of Dr. Jose Valencia, Distinguished Visiting Professor, scheduled for October 24 through December 2, has been cancelled due to illness. His visit may be rescheduled for the spring semester.

'Wellness Fair' Will Focus on Health Risks, Healthier Choices

A Wellness Fair, sponsored by the Student Health Center, with assistance from the Student Nurses Association, will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Thursday, October 27, in the Angell College Center Ballroom. "The purpose of the fair," said Sally Stay, wellness coordinator, "is to make members of the college community more aware of the risks of unhealthy lifestyles and to help them make healthier choices."

"We will provide a physical fitness assessment unit," Stay said, "which will test your blood pressure, heart rate, cardiovascular endurance, flexibility, lung volume, grip strength and percentage of body fat. We'll also offer cholesterol screening and vision testing. Additionally, information will be available on smoking cessation, eating disorders, sexually transmitted diseases and how to do self-tests for breast and testicular cancer."

New York State Police are expected to demonstrate the Seat Belt Convincer, a device that simulates a head-on car crash at a low rate of speed.

Stay said that all aspects of the wellness fair are free and open to all members of the campus community.

Academic Affairs Announces Adoption of '89-90 College Calendar

The Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs has announced adoption of an official academic year college calendar for 1989-90.

Residence halls will open for new students on Saturday, August 26, 1989, and fall semester classes will begin on Monday, the 28th. Classes will not be held on Monday and Tuesday, October 9-10 in observance of the long-weekend Columbus Day break. Thanksgiving vacation will begin with the end of classes on Tuesday, November 21, and classes will resume on Monday, the 27th. The fall semester will end at noon on Friday, December 15, with winter commencement taking place at 2 p.m. that day.

Visiting Professor from Egypt to Speak at 'Awareness' Forum

Dr. Aida Beshara, professor of the Faculty of Women at Ain-Shams University in Cairo, Egypt, will address the college's International Awareness Forum next Wednesday (Oct. 26). The Forum is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

The public lecture by Beshara, who is visiting professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science this year, is entitled "How Academic and Cultural Experiences at American Colleges Can Strengthen International Relations: A Personal Perspective."

Beshara holds the Ph.D. in geography and regional planning from Durham University in Great Britain, and her research interests reflect those topics as well as women's studies. Her most recent work includes "Geography and Development" in The Geography of Egypt, and "The Role of Women in Integrated Development in Egypt" in Geography and Gender in the Third World.

The lecture is being jointly sponsored by the Office of the Dean of Arts and Science, the Center for the Study of Canada and International Education, and the Multicultural Committee.

Residence halls will open for the spring term of 1990 at noon on Sunday, January 16, and classes will meet on the following Tuesday. Spring break begins with the end of classes on March 9, and ends when classes resume on Monday, March 19. Final examinations are scheduled from May 4 - 11, when the semester ends. Spring commencement exercises are scheduled for 11 a.m. on Saturday, May 12.

Exhibition of Wood Sculptures by Leavitt Opens Next Thursday

An exhibit of wood sculptures by the late Teddy Leavitt will open next Thursday in the Rockwell Kent Gallery. Leavitt was a member of the faculty of the mathematics department from 1960 until his untimely death last fall. The exhibit will include 30 pieces of work of various images, including an interesting group of walking sticks created by Leavitt.

Dr. Houngh Liu, dean of the faculty of arts and science, said, "Teddy Leavitt was an accomplished sculptor. He loved art and his works of art reflect his personality. He was sincere, he was earnest, he was loyal, and above all, he was a warm friend whom the college community will always remember."

Dr. Edgar Barton, professor emeritus of art, said, "One day, Ted's curiosity caused him to wander into a woodcarving class of mine. He became hooked and the next semester was a member of the class. . . It was clear from early on that he was sensitive to the basic nature and distinct character of the various woods that he chose, and he treated them with appropriate respect. The results are evident. I am pleased to see his college recognize him with this sampling of his works."

The show will open with a reception on Thursday, October 27 from 4 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. in the Rockwell Kent Gallery and will remain open through December 11.

McCormick Gets Two More Grants for Instructional Enhancement

Dr. John W. McCormick, the recipient earlier this fall of a substantial National Science Foundation instrumentation grant, has recently received two more grants valued at more than $30,000 combined that will likewise enhance instruction in computer science.

McCormick, associate professor of computer science, said the grants have allowed him to obtain Computer Aided Software Engineering (CASE) tools. The Index Technology Corporation has awarded him two copies of its CASE tool, "Excelsior/RTS," valued at $16,800, and the NASTEC Corporation has awarded him two copies of its "CASE 2000," which has a value of $13,800.

"Like the proverbial shoemaker's children," commented McCormick, "computer scientists have gone for a long time without software to meet their needs. These particular CASE tools facilitate the analysis and design phase of a large software system. They can cut system design time by 50 percent over manual methods while improving the quality of an application by reducing errors and improving specification alignment with user requirements."

McCormick said the new tools are being put into use in several classes this semester. He added, "They will serve as a framework for the newly designed courses in software engineering being offered by our department."

Co-op Program Gets $12,000 in Additional Agency Funds

The Cooperative Education Program has received an additional $12,721 for the U.S. Department of Education, according to Dr. Ann Hasting, associate vice president for student affairs.

The money, a supplemental grant designed to assist in the expansion and improvement of the co-op program, will be used to upgrade computer capabilities and on-line data information relative to co-op employers.

Hasting said, "Since 1984, the college has received $71,173 in co-op supplemental funding. We are very pleased to have this funding and find it very beneficial to our program."

Earlier this year, the college's Cooperative Education Program received a major grant from the Department of Education to develop a demonstration model for cooperative education programs for colleges in rural areas.

Hall of Famers

President Charles O. Warren (r) was among nearly 200 alumni, faculty and staff, friends of the college and guests who saluted (l-r) C. Thomas Cummings '56, Howard E. Jennings Jr. '69 and Emily Jones Pleau '69 on their induction as the newest members of the Plattsburgh State Sports Hall of Fame. Last Sunday's brunch and induction ceremony, sponsored by the Cardinal Booster Club, culminated Homecoming Weekend events at the college.

CURRENT POSITION VACANCIES

Faculty

Art, Music & Theatre
(Stage Carpenter) — (Vita Bank)
Art, Music & Theatre — (Technical Director) —
Fall '89
Arts and Science — Vita Bank
Communication (2) (Mass Comm. & Public Speaking) —
Fall '89
English (P/T) — (Vita Bank)
English F/T — (Journalism) — Fall '89
Foreign Languages & Literature (Spanish F/T)
Fall '89
Mathematics (2) — Fall '89
Philosophy — Fall '89
Sociology — Fall '89

Professional

Senior Counselor (Psych. Services) — Spring '89

Civil Service

Minority Vita Bank (Cleaner) — Maint. & Oper.

Complete details are available in the Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action.

S.U.N.Y./Plattsburgh is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Support for J.V. Program Among Recent Booster Club Actions

SUNY Plattsburgh will field a junior varsity intercollegiate basketball team, thanks to support provided by the Cardinal Booster Club.

At a recent meeting, the organization's Board of Directors voted to allocate $2,000 per year to the program over the next three years. The Booster Club, an affiliate of the Plattsburgh College Foundation, conducts a membership drive annually that produces funds to support the needs of intercollegiate sports teams that cannot be met by any other source. The 1988 membership campaign is in progress and will continue through December.

"Funding junior varsity basketball is one of several coaching staff priorities we have acted upon at recent board meetings," commented John Carpenter '73, Booster Club vice president and membership chairperson. "We also approved a project to renovate Memorial Hall locker rooms for the women's basketball and men's and women's swimming and diving teams, and we purchased gloves and shoulder pads for the Cardinal hockey team. These items, combined with jayvee basketball, represent an expenditure of $8,400."

Carpenter said that only last week the Booster Club okayed a proposal to meet the request of a major donor (Richard Semmler '68) that his gift be used to fund a special project. The club will spend $3,200 to purchase sweatsuits for the 40-member men's and women's cross country and track teams.

"We also approved partial funding of requests for student-athlete recruitment support for the men's and women's soccer teams. Our ability to support the full

Expert on Population Issues to Lecture Here on Tuesday

Werner Fornos, president of The Population Institute in Washington, D.C., will be a guest lecturer on campus on Tuesday, October 25. He will deliver a public address on the topic of world population at 4 p.m. in CL200.

Fornos' talks focus on such crucial issues as infant and maternal mortality, environmental degradation, socio-economic underdevelopment and threats posed to global security and stability. His dedication to the issue of population growth has made him an internationally recognized leader in that field. He received Population Dynamics' 1980 Distinguished Population Service Award and was nominated for the 1987 United Nations Population Award.

Prior to affiliation with the Population Institute, Fornos was an assistant professor at George Washington University and headed the university's global Population Information Program. His lecture is free and open to the campus community and the public.

requests as well as those we will review later on for recruitment monies for men's basketball and hockey will depend upon how much support we receive in the next two months."

Exclusive of this fall's appropriations, the Booster Club has spent more than $40,000 in support of Cardinal sports in the past two years. Booster Club headquarters is in the Office of College Relations and Development (564-2090).

Parents' Fund Phonothon Begins; Supports Late-night Study Room

The phonothon component of the third annual Parents' Fund campaign began Monday with student solicitors calling parents of current undergraduates to ask their support of an ongoing project to refurbish the late-night study room in Feinberg Library. Solicitation by mail began early in the month.

"We're beginning to see some results from the direct mail appeal," said Daniel Milliman, director of development, "but the key to success will be the telephone follow-up effort." Milliman explained that the first two Parents' Fund campaigns generated enough in gifts to lay about $12,000 of carpet in the late-night study room on the ground floor of the library. The objective now, he said, is to raise an additional $15,000 that will be used to purchase new furniture for the facility.

Twenty-five students are placing the calls Monday through Thursday evenings from the sixth floor board room of the Kehoe Administration Building. The phonothon will continue for about three weeks. Co-chairpersons of the 1988 drive are Mr. and Mrs. David Belair of Allegany and Mr. and Mrs. Franklyn J. Bullis of Roscoe. They are the parents, respectively, of junior Cassandra and sophomore Joanne Belair and Michele Bullis, also a junior.

Crosby Gallery Talks Scheduled

Three informal gallery talks by William Crosby, professor in the Center for Art, Music and Theatre whose exhibit, "Images: A Quarter Century," is on display in the Myers Fine Arts Gallery through November 9, are scheduled for the coming week and early next month.

"On Paintings" is the topic of Crosby's talk at 3 p.m. on Sunday (Oct. 23) in the Myers Gallery; he will speak "On Photography" at 8 p.m. on Tuesday (Oct. 25) in the Myers Lounge (Room 232); and at 8 p.m. on Thursday, Nov. 10, he will discuss "Notes, Thoughts and Slides on Alaska" in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge. All three gallery talks are open to the public.

Kane Finishes 1st in SUNYAC Championships as Cards Take 2nd

With Kathy Kane leading the way, the Cardinal women's cross country team finished second behind Cortland in the weekend's SUNY Conference championships hosted by SUNY Binghamton. Kane, already a member of the conference Cross Country Hall of Fame, crossed the line first in 19:07. Other Cardinal runners with strong performances included Julie Dobert, who finished sixth in 19:48, and Judy Serth, who was ninth with a time of 20:48. The men harriers didn't fare nearly as well, however, winding up 9th in the 11-team championship field.

The men's soccer team enjoyed its best week of the season, blanking St. Rose, 3-0, nipping Green Mountain College, 2-1, and tying NCAA Division I calibre McGill University, 1-1, in a Homecoming exhibition encounter. The women booters continued to flounder, losing to St. Michael's, 2-0, and McGill, 3-0.

SPOTLIGHT

An Instructor's Manual by Janice Beach and Kathleen Schaffer of the Special Services Project, developed to accompany Wesner/Nustad's Intermediate Algebra with Applications, has been published by William C. Brown of Dubuque, Iowa. . . Dr. William Graziadei, professor of biology, has been selected for a second time to be included in Who's Who in America. His paper, "Professional Training in Biotechnology," has been published in a recent issue of Biology Education, a quarterly journal of higher education sponsored by the University Grants Commission. Also, he presented two seminars recently at SUNY Oswego: "Regulation of Interferon synthesis: Cell Enucleation, Reconstruction and Cloning Experiments," and "Career Opportunities in In Vitro Cell Biology & Biotechnology: AIDS Research." Graziadei reports that former student Lynn Zaumetzer will visit campus on October 27 to present a seminar entitled "Polymerase Chain Reaction and AIDS Screening." The 1987 graduate of the IVCBB program is employed by Upstate Medical Center in Syracuse as a research assistant on AIDS screening. . . Dr. Ann C. Hasting, associate vice president of student affairs, has been commended by the U.S. Department of Education for her assistance last February in reviewing applications submitted to the department for its Cooperative Education Program, which will provide $13,787,000 in funding to the higher educational community during the current academic year. . . "New England, New York, and Their Francophone Neighborhood" is the title of a chapter by Dr. Martin Lubin, professor of political science, that has been published in Perforated Sovereignities and International Relations. . . Department of Accounting Chair Raymond Thoren reports that about 25 department staff and students attended a recent presentation in Burlington by Ernst & Whinney, the national CPA firm, in anticipation of St. Lawrence enhanced its 6th place national rankings in volleyball on Tuesday with three straight over the Cardinal women. In weekend action, the Cards finished fourth among five teams entered in the SUNYAC East tourney in Cortland, but they managed to whip arch-rival Potsdam for the first time in four meetings this season.

Pre-season practice has begun for the men's and women's basketball teams and the Cardinal hockey squad. A preview encounter among the Plattsburgh skaters — the annual Red vs. White scrimmage — will take place at 7:30 p.m. today at Stafford Arena. The event is free and open to campus and community hockey fans.

Honored at Homecoming

Members of the Plattsburgh State women's tennis team and Coach Diane Alexander (third from left) accept the President's Award for Academic Excellence for having achieved the highest team aggregate grade-point average (3.08) during the 1987-88 academic year.

an upcoming visit to this campus by firm representatives for the purpose of recruiting SUNY Plattsburgh students. . . Dr. Mary L. Roark, associate professor in the Center for Human Resources, presented a pre-conference workshop on "Preventing Campus Violence" at the Kansas Student Personnel Conference held recently in Kansas City. . . President Charles O. Warren is among six area individuals elected to three-year terms as members of the Board of Directors of the Plattsburgh and Clinton County Chamber of Commerce.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 20 — THURSDAY, OCTOBER 27

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the campus and public.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 20

11 am & 1 pm — New York State Comptroller Informational Session sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

12:15 - 1:15 pm — "There is a Word" — A 30-minute film about the life and work of Matilda Joslyn Gage, 19th century feminist/suffragist and introduced by P. Bentley. Sponsored by the Women's Studies Forum. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

3 pm — "Interview Techniques" — A workshop sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4:30 - 9:30 pm — 9th Annual Reading Conference sponsored by the Center for Lifelong Learning. Registration fees: students/faculty/staff $10, public $35. Contact the Center for Lifelong Learning, Hawkins 106. Sibley Gymnasium.

5:30 pm — Improve Your Etiquette I.Q.: How Not to Embarrass Yourself. A series of five seminars, this week — "Rules for Proper Dining." Enjoy a rock Cornish game hen dinner and learn how to eat problem foods, how to use appropriate utensils and general tips for good table manners. Sponsored by Hospitality and Nutrition Services and the Marketing Club. Tickets are $10. Contact J. Janson 4172 or N. Church 4187. Clinton Dining Hall Lounge.

6:30 pm — "Make It — Take It Extravaganza" — A workshop for teachers sponsored by the Center for Lifelong Learning and the Center for Teacher Education. Workshop fee is $30. Contact the Center for Lifelong Learning for more information. Sibley Cafetorium.

8 pm — Visual Artist Series presents Serina Bocchino, Painter. Sponsored by Art Resources Association. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8 pm — Circle K weekly meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room 3.

8:15 pm — Opportunity in International Business — The Program at Plattsburgh, Internships Available and Outside Opportunities. Sponsored by the International Business Club. Open to the campus. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 21

8 am - 4:30 pm — 9th Annual Reading Conference sponsored by the Center for Lifelong Learning. Registration fees: students/faculty/staff $10, public $35. Contact the Center for Lifelong Learning, Hawkins 106. Sibley Gymnasium.

11 am - 3 pm — Halloween trick-or-treat bags for sale for $1. Will deliver on and off campus. Sponsored by the Organization of Education Majors. Angell Center Lobby.

7 pm — Program and Reception for New Faculty-Staff sponsored by Omicron Delta Kappa and College Auxiliary Services. Open to the campus. Angell Center Blue Room.

10 pm — Caribbean Night sponsored by AKEBA. All tickets are $2 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballroom.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 22

8:30 am — Native American Symposium sponsored by the Anthropology Department and the Center for Lifelong Learning. Call 564-2050 for ticket information. Angell Center Ballrooms.

9 am - 6 pm — Bus to Montreal, sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Bus departs from the Angell College Center and travels to Dominion Square. Tickets are $9.00 round trip, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Open to the campus and public.

6 - 11 pm — Champlain Valley Symposium Banquet sponsored by the Anthropology Department, AKWEKON and the Clinton County Historical Association. Banquet tickets are $10. For more information call 561-0340. Angell Center Orchard Room.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 23

1 pm — Women's Soccer vs. Colgate. Field House.

3 pm — College Chorale and Cardinal Singers sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre and the Music Council. Open to the campus and public. St. Peter's Church.

6:45 & 9:15 pm — Student Association Film Committee presents "Rambo III." Open to the campus. S.A. member tickets are 50¢, faculty/staff $1 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

7:30 pm — An Evening with Matilda Joslyn Gage: A character performance in costume by Dr. Sally Roesch Wagner. Sponsored by Women's Studies and College Auxiliary Services. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 24

11 am - 3 pm — Halloween trick-or-treat bags for sale for $1. Will deliver on and off campus. Sponsored by the Organization of Education Majors. Angell Center Lobby.

11:30 am - 1 pm — Brown Bag Luncheon Lecture and Slide Presentation: The Oz Books. Background and family/social context by Sally Roesch Wagner. Sponsored by Women's Studies and College Auxiliary Services. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

noon - 3 pm — "Celebrating Differences" — Cultural Awareness Week features AKEBA's food booth. Sponsored by Campus Life. Angell Center Lobby.

3 pm — Influences and Themes in the Oz Books. A public lecture by Sally Roesch Wagner, University of California. Sponsored by Women's Studies and College Auxiliary Services. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 - 9 pm — "Celebrating Differences" — Cultural Awareness Week presents a Multicultural Forum sponsored by Campus Life. Angell Center Orchard Room.

7:30 pm — Elizabeth Cady Stanton: A Character Performance in Costume by Dr. Sally Roesch Wagner. Sponsored by Women's Studies and College Auxiliary Services. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8:30 pm — Greek Council meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

10 pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 25

11 am - 3 pm — Halloween trick-or-treat bags for sale for $1. Will deliver on and off campus. Sponsored by the Organization of Education Majors. Angell Center Lobby.

11:30 am — U.U.P. Executive Board meeting. Members welcome. Angell Center Conference Room.

noon - 3 pm — Cultural Awareness Week features "El Pueblo's Food Booth" sponsored by Campus Life. Angell Center Lobby.

2 pm — Men's Soccer vs. Johnson State. Field House.

3 pm — English Department Colloquium Series features Dr. Anna Battigelli: "Ideology in Dryden's Couplets." CVH Commons.

3 pm — "Senior Placement Orientation" — A workshop sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4:15 - 5:30 pm — Tuesday Reflections presents Werner Fornos, President of Population Institute speaking on "Gaining People, Losing Ground: Can the Balance be Equalized?" Sponsored by the Faculty of Arts and Science. Yokum 200.

7 - 9 pm — Cultural Awareness Week presents guest speaker Dr. Culver. Sponsored by Campus Life and El Pueblo. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7 - 9 pm — Albany Semester Program — Student Information Session sponsored by Cooperative Education. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

7 pm — Women's Volleyball vs. Siena College. Field House.

8 pm — "Blizzard of Bucks" show sponsored by the Student Association. General admission tickets are $1 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballroom.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 26

9 am - 11 am — Albany Semester Program — Faculty Information Session sponsored by Cooperative Education. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

11 am - 3 pm — Halloween trick-or-treat bags for sale for $1. Will deliver on and off campus. Sponsored by the Organization of Education Majors. Angell Center Lobby.

noon - 3 pm — Hillel Food Booth is featured for Cultural Awareness Week. Sponsored by Campus Life. Angell Center Lobby.

3 pm — "Considering Graduate School" — A workshop sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

3 - 4:30 pm — Intramural entries are due for floor hockey, volleyball, women's basketball and men's and women's racquetball. Sponsored by the Recreational Sports Office. Intramural Office, Memorial Hall.

4:15 pm — "Finding Five References for Your Paper" — A workshop sponsored by Special Services Project. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 - 9:30 pm — Drop-In Volleyball (men and women) sponsored by the Recreation Office. Open to the campus. Hawkins Hall Gymnasium.

7 - 8:30 pm — Club Canada weekly meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7 - 9 pm — "Experiences in Israel" — A Cultural Awareness Week Presentation. Sponsored by Campus Life and Hillel. Angell Center Orchard Room.

7 pm — Right to Life Presentation on Abortion sponsored by Campus Life. Open to the campus. Macomb Hall Main Lounge.

7:30 pm — Club International meeting. Open to members only. Angell Center Conference Room.

7:30 pm — International Awareness Forum: Professor Aida Beshara, Visiting Professor speaking on "How Academic and Cultural Experiences at American Colleges Can Strengthen International Relations: A Personal Perspective." Sponsored by the Dean of Arts and Science. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 27

10 am - 3 pm — Wellness Fair — Informational booths, physical, fitness unit, exam demonstrations and more plus door prizes. Sponsored by the Student Health Center. Angell Center Ballroom.

11 am - 3 pm — Halloween trick-or-treat bags for sale for $1. Will deliver on and off campus. Sponsored by the Organization of Education Majors. Angell Center Lobby.

noon - 3 pm — Club International's Food Booth is featured as part of Cultural Awareness Week. Sponsored by Campus Life. Angell Center Lobby.

12:15 - 1:15 pm — Women and Rural Politics in Quebec by Heather Keith-Ryan. Sponsored by Women's Studies Forum. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

3 - 4:30 pm — Intramural entries are due for floor hockey, volleyball, women's basketball and men's and women's racquetball. Sponsored by the Recreational Sports Office. Intramural Office, Memorial Hall.

3 pm — "Resumes and Cover Letters" — A workshop sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4 pm — Marketing Association meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:15 pm — "Finding Five References for Your Paper" — A workshop sponsored by Special Services Project. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:30 pm — Improve Your Etiquette IQ: Cocktail Party Etiquette, third in a series of five seminars. This program includes the art of conversation, proper forms of address, introductions and small talk. Sponsored by Hospitality and Nutrition Services and the Marketing Club. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 pm — Benefit Concert for Freedom School featuring Roy Hurd (Poncho) and Kilimanjaro — "Jazz at its Best." Sponsored by AKWEKON. S.A. member tickets are $3, faculty/staff/public $5 and on sale at the Myers Box Office and at the door. E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

7 pm — Ames Department Store Information Session sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 - 9 pm — Cultural Awareness Week presents "Experience Our World" sponsored by Campus Life and Club International. Angell Center Orchard Room.

7 - 9 pm — Financial Planning for Your Child's College Education. Sponsored by the Center for Lifelong Learning. Call the Center for Lifelong Learning to pre-register at 2050. Yokum 205.

8 pm — Circle K meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room 3.

NOTES

The College Work-Study Program has openings for the 1988-89 academic year, effective immediately. If you are interested in working on campus for 8 to 15 hours per week, you are encouraged to see the Work-Study Coordinator in the Financial Aid Office, Kehoe 406. An assessment of your financial need will be done and your eligibility for the program will then be determined.

A representative sample of a wider variety of available job sites include Feinberg Library, Center for Teacher Education, Biological Services, Foreign Languages and Literature, History, Sociology, Maintenance and Operations, Admissions, Office of Institutional Research, and Sponsored Research. Salary is the federal minimum rate.

R.A. Applications for 1989-90 positions will be available at the Angell College Center Desk October 19 and the deadline is December 4. There are currently no positions available for January. However, candidates who wish to be considered if vacancies occur should submit an application and indicate they wish to be considered for January 1989.

Saturday, October 29 the Adirondack Experience Club is sponsoring a Whitewater Rafting Trip on the Black River. Tickets on sale at the College Center Desk through October 21. $60/person includes transportation, raft trip and barbeque.

Policy Recommending Smoking Regulations to Come Under Review

President Charles O. Warren is in general agreement with recommendations advocated in a detailed report submitted recently by a Labor/Management Committee on Smoking.

The president said that students, faculty, staff and the College Council will have opportunities to discuss the proposal over the next four-to-six weeks. A final policy, stemming from more than six months' work and study by the six-person Labor/Management Committee, would become effective campus-wide prior to the beginning of the 1989 spring semester.

Dr. J. Stallard Waterhouse, who chaired the committee, said that the group approached the task "to develop a smoke-free environment" on campus from the perspective that "passive smoking" is dangerous. While the report deals with specifics related to the issue, building by building, Waterhouse said the committee's intent was to be non-threatening. A positive aspect is a proposal calling for support for smoking cessation clinics each semester to help employees and students kick the habit.

The report identifies buildings where smoking would be prohibited completely and those that would have designated smoking areas. It deals with smoking in individual and multiple occupancy offices, and it recommends spaces within buildings where smoking would be prohibited at all times.

Persons interested in reviewing the specific proposals in the report are invited to contact the committee members individually or inquire in the President's Office. Waterhouse, professor of biology, represented United University Professions on the Labor/Management Committee. Others and their affiliations included Stephen Adams, personnel and affirmative action; Gerald Dominy, maintenance and operations; Philip Galarneau, Council 82; Diane Gadway, CSEA; and Janine Silverman, who represented the Student Association. Waterhouse confirmed that one committee member is a smoker.

Speech & Hearing Center, Mayo Clinic, Begin Practicum Pact

SUNY Plattsburgh's Speech and Hearing Center has signed a contract of affiliation that will allow its graduate students in speech pathology and audiology to complete their off-campus practicum at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn.

"We have clinical affiliations at about 50 sites from Rhode Island to Winnipeg," commented Donald Zoss, clinic coordinator at the college's Speech and Hearing Center in Sibley Hall, "but none as prestigious perhaps as the Mayo Clinic." Christine Morris of Hicksville will be the first Plattsburgh graduate student to study at the Mayo Clinic.

Zoss explained that to be eligible for licensure, teaching certification or certification by the American Speech Language and Hearing Association, graduate students in speech pathology or audiology must complete a minimum of 50 clock hours in an off-campus clinical setting. "It takes at least two months to complete this requirement at an affiliated clinic," he said.

Master's candidates must log a minimum 300 clock hours in a clinical practicum to complete degree requirements. Zoss said that most SUNY Plattsburgh master's program students complete 400 or more clock hours enroute to the degree.

CANADA DAY — FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28

9 am - 5 pm — Canadian Information Booth & Acid Rain Exhibit. Angell Center Lobby.

9 am - noon — Exhibition of Jane Mundy's photographs of Anishabe Indian Life. Cardinal Lounge.

10 am - 3 pm — Canadian Film Festival. Angell Center Room 103.

12:15 - 1:15 pm — Women's Studies Forum. "Elders of the Anishabe," by photographer Jane Mundy. Cardinal Lounge.

1:30 - 2:30 pm — "Canada's Policies Toward Latin America," Dr. Marcel Rousseau, University of Ottawa. Ballroom.

3 - 4 pm — "Canada-U.S. Environmental Issues," William Carr, Acid Rain Advisor, Ministry of the Environment, Ontario. Cardinal Lounge.

4:15 - 5 pm — Keynote Address by journalist Jeffrey Simpson, Toronto Globe and Mail. Ballroom.

All listed events are free and open to the campus and community.

Centennial Celebration Taking Shape; Ideas Still Being Sought

With the college's 100th anniversary year inching closer, its Centennial Celebration Committee is zeroing-in on specific events and activities that will ensure an exciting and memorable observance of the institution's past and point it, to quote the centennial motto, toward "a strong future."

"Our committee is now meeting weekly," said chairperson Dr. Annette Manganel, professor emeritus of education. "Several projects are underway and others are at various stages of development, but we continue to be eager for ideas and input from faculty, staff and students."

Among the first centennial projects to be completed is a video history of the college, written and produced by Doris Candussi, assistant professor of communication. Manganel said that a policy statement governing the use and distribution of the video is now being developed.

Others underway include development of a pictorial centennial calendar and purchase and sale of centennial memorabilia through the College Store. Lapel pins depicting the centennial logo are in circulation, a historical plaque is being prepared for erection and unveiling on Founder's Day next June, and the Feinberg Library is coordinating plans for a time capsule to be placed under the historical marker sometime next fall.

Events being planned for the spring and summer of 1989 include a Centennial Ball in May; events to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the French Revolution; an alumni week of educational, cultural and recreational activities and a reunion of alumni from the former Campus School, both scheduled for July; and campus appearances by three outstanding speakers. "We don't want to divulge the names of the speakers until all three have verified they will participate in the celebration," said Manganel.

The Centennial Celebration Committee chairperson reminded faculty and staff and campus and student organizations that guidelines and applications for funds to support centennial events are available in the President's Office. Applications on hand will be reviewed next on Dec. 22 and thereafter on March 14, May 17 and Sept. 6 in 1989.

Persons having ideas or suggestions relative to the centennial celebration may contact Manganel at 561-3023 or otherwise speak to members of the committee, which consists of: Patricia Bentley, Bruce Butterfield, Doris Candussi, Kevin Days (student), Beverly Forster, Don Garrant, Robert Garrow (College Council), Jane Gore, William Laundry, Betty Lennon, Clark Mitchell, John Myers, and Douglas Skopp.

Gore's Symbols Promote Safe Farming in Underdeveloped Nations

Farmers in underdeveloped nations may have a safer life, thanks to work done by Dr. Peter Gore, professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science.

Gore recently completed a project to develop pictograms to promote the safe use of pesticides and his symbols have been accepted for use by the ICI Chemical Company, the British firm which funded Gore's symbols have been tested extensively in Ecuador, with the help of two former students. Charles Border '83 assisted in the testing during the summer of 1983 and Joseph Prunier '88 continued the work last spring.

Gore will continue to work with ICI to develop educational materials which will be used to train farm workers on the safe use of pesticides. ICI is one of the world's largest pesticide companies.

Agricultural safety symbols devised by Dr. Peter Gore include (1) one warning against ingesting liquid and another that urges storing toxic materials out of the reach of children.

their development. Gore, who has worked on the pictogram development for several years, won the grant from ICI about 18 months ago. "We've developed 15 symbols which are now being used by ICI on their new products," Gore said.

138 Named Foundation Scholars

Financial Aid Director Suzanne Sokolowski announced this week that 138 new students were named Foundation Scholars and presented with $500 awards this fall.

Sokolowski said that 122 freshmen and 16 transfer students won this year's grants. The Freshmen and Transfer Foundation Scholarships are awarded to students on the basis of academic achievement and financial need.

To qualify for the awards, incoming freshmen must have a high school average of 85 or better, and transfer students must have received their associate's degree with a 3.0 or better grade point average.

Thorne '72 Succeeds Takacs as Alumni Association President

Rolando A. Thorne of Miami, Fla., a 1972 SUNY Plattsburgh graduate, has been elected as president of the college's 22,000-member Alumni Association.

Thorne, who is assistant director of the Center on Adult Development and Aging at the University of Miami, was chosen for the post by the association's Board of Directors at the board's recent Homecoming Weekend annual meeting. He succeeds Daniel Takacs '58, who had served as association president for the past seven years. Takacs will continue to serve the policy-formulating body as a member of its board.

Also elected to association posts were Susan Rauscher '75 of New Hartford, vice president; Nancy McGaulley '51 of Plattsburgh, treasurer; and Stasia Arcarese '62 of Plattsburgh, secretary. The remainder of the board includes Arnold Amell '53 of Scotia; Douglas Brown '73 of Chittenango; Gary Butler '64 of Plattsburgh; Jacqueline Cianfrocco '87 of Rome; C. Thomas Cummings '56 of Patchogue; Virginia Damianos '50 of Stony Brook; Annamarie Kelley '54 of Walden; John Longware '56, Peru; Douglas McManus '89, Bayville; F. Ward Patton '64, Ballston Lake; Louis Testa '76, Albany; and Bernard Watkins '54, East Patchogue. Ex-officio members are Donald Garrant, executive director of the Plattsburgh College Foundation; Dr. Charles O. Warren, president of SUNY Plattsburgh; and Adrian H. Wood '39 of Chateaugay, president emeritus of the Alumni Association. Malcolm Lavery serves as the College's director of alumni affairs.

Association President Thorne has been in his current position since 1987. Previously, he had been program officer for four years for the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation in Princeton.

Besides setting policy affecting the college's entire alumni body, the Alumni Association officers and board approves the organization's budgeting annually and participates in program planning. The latter includes special events such as Homecoming and area reunions, annual fund strategy, and association activities designed to benefit the college, including governmental relations and assistance to the institution's admission and placement programs.

Plattsburgh's Levitin, Portugal's De Andrade to Read on Monday

Portuguese poet Eugenio de Andrade will present a reading of his works at 8 p.m. on Monday, October 31 in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge. De Andrade will read his poetry in the original Portuguese, while Alexis Levitin, associate professor of English, will read the works in English.

The reading is part of an extensive tour of the country by the two men, which includes readings at Brown, Harvard, Dartmouth and the University of Minnesota as well as in Montreal and Toronto. The tour marks de Andrade's first visit to the United States.

De Andrade has published 20 volumes of poetry, three collections of prose writings and two children's books. Numerous recordings of his poetry have been made and many of his poems have been set to music by Portugal's leading contemporary composers. His work has been translated into at least 20 languages. In 1986, de Andrade won the "Premio da Critica" from the International Association of Literary Critics.

Levitin has published three volumes of translations of de Andrade's works, Inhabited Heart (1985), White on White (1987), and Memory of Another River (1988). His translations of works by other contemporary Brazilian, Portuguese and Spanish poets and authors have appeared in more than 100 literary magazines and in numerous anthologies. He recently won a Van DeBovenkamp-Armand C. Erpf Translation Award from the Columbia University Translation Center.

Translation Center.

The reading by de Andrade and Levitin is free and open to the campus and community. Refreshments will be served. Bilingual editions of de Andrade's works will be on sale and the poet will autograph copies after the reading.

Senate Elects Zandi to Chair Committee on General Education

Dr. Taher Zandi, assistant professor of psychology, has been elected by the Faculty Senate to chair the Senate's General Education Committee.

Zandi will chair a group of 12 faculty, selected by the Senate Executive Committee from nominations from governing units, who will serve terms of one to three years' duration. The Committee is charged to develop a format for submission of courses for the new, 42-credit general education curriculum whose pilot year is scheduled to begin next fall.

Members of the committee and their disciplines are: Kenneth Adams, earth and environmental science; Janet Alexander, nursing; Bruce Butterfield, English; Patricia Higgins, anthropology; John Kellermeier, mathematics; Jeanne Kissner, Canadian studies; Charles Kline, theatre; Charles List, philosophy; Michael Miranda, library; George Pasti, history; Charles Simpson, sociology; and William Teter, computer science.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 27 — THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 3

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the campus and public.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 27

10 am - 3 pm — Wellness Fair — Informational booths, physical fitness unit, exam demonstrations and more plus door prizes. Sponsored by the Student Health Center. Angell Center Ballroom.

noon - 3 pm — Club International's Food Booth is featured as part of Cultural Awareness Week. Sponsored by Campus Life. Angell Center Lobby.

12:15 - 1:15 pm — Women and Rural Politics in Quebec by Heather Keith-Ryan. Sponsored by Women's Studies Forum. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

3 - 4:30 pm — Intramural entries are due for floor hockey, volleyball, women's basketball and men's and women's racquetball. Sponsored by the Recreational Sports Office. Intramural Office, Memorial Hall.

3 pm — "Resumes and Cover Letters" — A workshop sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4 pm — Marketing Association meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:15 pm — "Finding Five References for Your Paper" — A workshop sponsored by Special Services Project. Open to the campus. Angell Center Blue Room.

4:30 pm — Improve Your Etiquette IQ: Cocktail Party Etiquette, third in a series of five seminars. Sponsored by Hospitality and Nutrition Services and the Marketing Club. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 pm — Benefit Concert for Freedom School featuring Roy Hurd (Poncho) and Kilimanjaro — "Jazz at its Best." Sponsored by AKWEKON. S.A. member tickets are $3, faculty/staff/public $5 and on sale at the Myers Box Office and at the door. E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

7 pm — Ames Department Store Information Session sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 - 9 pm — Cultural Awareness Week presents "Experience Our World" sponsored by Campus Life and Club International. Angell Center Orchard Room.

7 - 9 pm — Financial Planning for Your Child's College Education. Sponsored by the Center for Lifelong Learning. Call the Center for Lifelong Learning to pre-register at 2050. Yokum 205.

8 pm — Circle K meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room 3.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28

7 pm — Hillel Friday night service and get together. Angell Center Meeting Room 8.

7 - 9:30 pm — Drop-In Volleyball (men and women) sponsored by the Recreation Office. Open to the campus. Hawkins Hall Gymnasium.

7:30 pm — "Reggae Extravaganza 88" featuring the Wailers plus special guest. Sponsored by the Student Association. S.A. tickets are $5, faculty/staff/public $10 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Field House Arena.

8 pm — BACCHUS Halloween Costume Party. General admission tickets are $1 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Blue Room.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 29

6 am — Whitewater Rafting Trip on the Black River. Sponsored by Adirondack Experience Club. Leaving from the Angell College Center.

10 pm - 2 pm — AKEBA Halloween Party. S.A. members $1, faculty/staff/public $2. Tickets on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballroom.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 30

6:45 pm & 9:15 pm — Student Association Film Series presents: "Friday the 13th, Part 7." Open to the campus. S.A. members 50¢, faculty/staff $1. Tickets on sale at the Angell Center Desk. E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

7:30 pm — RAP Training sponsored by Campus Life — Residence Assistance Programming. Open to members only. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 31

10 am - 3 pm — U.S. Marine Officer Selection Program sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Angell Center Lobby.

noon - 2 pm — AIDS Awareness Week presents Anne D'Angelo speaking on, "AIDS from the Health Services' Perspective." Sponsored by Campus Life. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4 - 6 pm — Psychology Course Selection meeting for psychology majors and minors. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

6 - 7 pm — Peer Recruitment Training sponsored by the Admissions Office. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 pm — Student Nurses Association Halloween Party. Open to members only. Hawkins Hall Room 125.

7:30 - 9 pm — AIDS Awareness Week features Dr. Naomi McCormick: Presentation/Discussion of the Movie, "Male Couples Facing AIDS." Open to the campus and public. Angell Center Orchard Room.

8 pm — Visiting Poet and Writers' Series presents Eugenio de Andrade, poet, sponsored by College Auxiliary Services, Campus Life, Student Association and the Department of English and Foreign Languages. The author is the winner of Portugal's Critics Award for Poetry. (This is a bi-lingual reading.) Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8:30 pm — Greek Council meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

10 pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 1

10 am - 3 pm — U.S. Marine Officer Selection Program sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Angell Center Lobby.

10 am - 3 pm — Computer Fair sponsored by the Office of Academic Computing. Angell Center Lobby.

3 pm — "Interview Techniques" — A workshop sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4:15 pm — Tuesday Reflections presents: Dr. John Yardan, Philosophy Department, speaking on "God and the Problem of Evil: Ayn Rand — How Selfish Should One Be?" Sponsored by the Faculty of Arts and Science. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

6 - 7 pm — Peer Recruitment Training sponsored by the Admissions Office. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 - 9 pm — AIDS Awareness Week features Mr. Tim Palmer speaking on "General Information Regarding HIV and AIDS." Sponsored by Campus Life. Angell Center Orchard Room.

8 pm — Recital featuring Yenoin Guibbory and Kathryn Stuart. Sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre. E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 2

3 pm — "Cooperative Education and Internships" — A workshop sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4:15 pm — "Build a Better Term Paper — Without Plagiarism, Panic or Procrastination" — A workshop sponsored by Special Services Project. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

6 - 7 pm — Peer Recruitment Training sponsored by the Admissions Office. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 - 9 pm — AIDS Awareness Week Presentation/Discussion on the movie, "AIDS — Can I Get It." Discussion led by Keith Levatino, Patty Perillo and Dale Tuczinski. Sponsored by Campus Life. Angell Center Orchard Room.

7 pm — Club Canada meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 - 9:30 pm — Drop-In Volleyball (men and women) sponsored by the Recreation Office. Open to the campus. Hawkins Hall Gymnasium.

7:30 pm — Club International meeting. Open to members only. Angell Center Conference Room.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 3

10 am - 3 pm — U.S. Air Force Recruitment sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Angell Center Lobby.

12:15 pm — Women's Studies Forum presents, "Election '88 — An Open Forum" sponsored by Women's Studies Program and College Auxiliary Services. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

3 pm — "Targeting Your Job Search" — A workshop sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4:15 pm — "Build a Better Term Paper — Without Plagiarism, Panic or Procrastination" — A workshop sponsored by Special Services Project. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 pm — The Viewpoints Series presents a panel discussion on the "Economic and Political Issues in the '88 Presidential Election," featuring Professors Withington, Gandhi, Konda and Schantz. Sponsored by the Departments of Economics and Political Science. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 - 9 pm — AIDS Awareness Week features Lois Scoskie, Planned Parenthood speaking on "Safer Sex and AIDS." Sponsored by Campus Life. Angell Center Orchard Room.

8 pm — Circle K meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room 3.

NOTES

Do you feel stressed? The Psychological Services Center is running a Stress Management Clinic. Students will be taught on an individual basis to relax and control their tension using relaxation techniques and biofeedback equipment. The clinic services are open to all students and are free of charge. You may phone ahead for an appointment (564-3086) or further information. Walk-ins are welcome. The clinic is located at the Psychological Services Center in the Infirmary. Staff trainers are Patty Perillo and Judy Traynor under the supervision of Dr. Jacquelyn Connelly.

R.A. Applications for 1989-90 positions are available at the Angell Center Desk. There are currently no positions available for January. However, candidates who wish to be considered if vacancies occur should submit an application and indicate they wish to be considered for January 1989. The deadline for submitted applications is December 4.

The Departments of economics and political science will sponsor a panel discussion entitled "Economic and Political Issues in the 1988 Presidential Election" to be held on Thursday, November 3 at 7:00 pm in the Cardinal Lounge of the College Center. The participants will be Professors Withington and Prem Gandhi from the Economics Department and Professors Harvey Schantz and Tom Konda from the Political Science Department.

A Computer Fair will be held from 10 am to 3 pm on November 1, in the College Center Lobby. Representatives of IBM, Apple, and Zenith Data Systems will all be there, demonstrating their systems and helping people decide about purchasing a computer. Open to the entire college community.

PEER RECRUITERS WANTED — The Admissions Office is seeking student volunteers to serve as Peer Recruiters during Thanksgiving and Christmas vacations. The students will represent Plattsburgh State at their high schools and community colleges. Surveys completed by incoming students during orientation sessions indicate that current students are regarded as the best source of information about this college. Persons interested in participating in the program must attend one of three informational training sessions which are scheduled for 6 pm on Monday - October 31, Tuesday - November 1, and Wednesday - November 2, in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge. For further information, please contact Kim in the Admissions Office (2040).

Pianist Kathryn Stuart and violinist Yenoïn Guibbory will present an evening of music by Mendelssohn, Stravinsky, and Brahms at 8 pm on Tuesday, November 1 in the E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium. The program will open with the Sonata in F Major by Felix Mendelssohn. Displaying the energy and charm associate with the composer's music for A Midsummer Night's Dream, it was rediscovered after a period of neglect, by violinist Yehudi Menuhin. The Stravinsky Duo Concertant which follows combines the propulsive rhythms and austere harmonies characteristic of his neo-classical period with a profound lyricism unexpected in the work of a composer better known for his detached and objective style.

The recital will conclude with the third and last Sonata for Violin and Piano by Johannes Brahms. The musical ideas are of symphonic proportions, the emotional content intense and refined. The sonorities and harmonic colors exemplify the burnished, autumnal glow characteristic of mature romanticism.

The SUNY Plattsburgh Gallery Docents will sponsor a bus trip to the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts on Thursday, November 3, to view the work of Marc Chagall. The exhibition includes about 125 paintings, many drawings and watercolors, illustrations, and costumes. The $20 fee ($15 for SA members) includes round-trip bus fare, exhibit tickets and a guided tour. The bus will leave the Myers Building at 9:30 am and return at 4:30 pm. There will be some time for lunch and gallery-hopping. For reservations, call Phyllis Freedman at 564-2813 or send $20 to the PSUC art gallery docent program. Deadline for reservations is 2 pm, October 27.

THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS is compiled by the Office of Campus Life and published by the Office of College Relations and Development. Items to be listed in THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS must be received in the Office of Campus Life no later than noon on Thursday the week prior to publication.

SUNY Trustees Recommend 'Lean, Challenging' Budget for Campus

The proposed operating budget for SUNY Plattsburgh for fiscal 1989-90, approved last Wednesday by the University's Board of Trustees, contains an increase of nearly $1.9 million, but college officials are preparing for rough going in the weeks and months ahead.

College Controller John Homburger describes the college's proposed spending plan as "very conservative." President Charles O. Warren calls it "lean and challenging."

If approved as is, SUNY Plattsburgh's operating budget for the fiscal year beginning April 1 would total $27,650,100. The amount represents an increase of $1,892,100, but most of that ($1,652,700, or about 90 percent) would be consumed by negotiated salary increases and small hikes in "other than personnel service," which includes general supplies and expenses, temporary service, library acquisitions and contractual services.

Neither Homburger nor Warren expect the University budget to go to the State Legislature this winter unchanged after review by the governor's budget division.

"It is likely that we will lose positions," commented President Warren. "However, we don't presently intend to retrench positions. We intend to maintain strength in teaching power and in learning-related student services. In making decisions, we will refer to the college's five-year plan."

Warren said that having to release open positions in any area would be "hurtful to the college," pointing out that he would consult carefully with the Faculty Senate Resources and Planning Committee "to minimize the negative impact" of any such action. He added that attention will be given to making adjustments in administrative areas "that will be creative, economic and effective."

President Warren applauded the SUNY initiative requesting partial restoration of funds in support of the 17-campus computer procurement program and the

(Continued on following page)

Fall Semester Enrollment at 6,596; Increase of 148 Students

Final, official figures on fall semester enrollment may not become available for another month, but college staff in institutional research and analytical studies believe data on hand are close enough to report what those figures are expected to be.

According to Diana Green, director of institutional research and analytical studies, SUNY Plattsburgh had achieved a headcount enrollment of 6,596 students as of the end of the third week of classes. The total reflects an enrollment of 5,817 undergraduates (5,143 full-time and 674 part-time) and 779 graduate students (163 full-time and 616 part-time).

"We have enrolled 1,041 new freshmen," said Green, "and that's precisely the number we registered a year ago. However, our transfer enrollment decreased slightly this fall in comparison with 1987. The figure we're looking at now is 664 transfers, or 17 fewer than a year ago. We also re-admitted 128 students."

Green said that the college's enrollment goal for the fall term had been 6,283 students, based on targets of 5,658 undergraduates and 625 graduate students, but that it was revised upwards last spring at the request of SUNY officials. Overall, this year's fall semester enrollment shows an increase of 148 students — 63 undergraduates and 85 graduate students — in comparison with fall of 1987.

Wellness Fair

Several hundred faculty, staff and students took advantage of last week's Student Health Center-sponsored Wellness Fair whose multi-faceted screening services included (above) cholesterol checking by student nurses.

Phonothon Results Contribute to 1988 Parents' Fund Success

The contributions will continue to trickle in over the next few weeks, but it is apparent that the third Parents' Fund is headed for success.

Daniel Milliman, director of development, reports that 18 student solicitors generated $14,665 in pledges from 654 parents contacted by telephone during a six-evening phonothon campaign that ended last Tuesday. He said the phonothon consisted of calls to homes of 3,349 parents whose telephone numbers are on record.

"The phonothon response, combined with the results of a direct mail appeal to 5,500 parents of current undergraduates, should help put us over the top of our $15,000 goal," commented Milliman. "What the phonothon pledge total doesn't show is a substantial number of parents who said they would contribute but who would not disclose how much they would give."

Milliman praised the enthusiasm and effectiveness of the 1988 phonothon team. "The students were tremendous to work with, and the parents they talked to — even those who said they couldn't give — were cordial, receptive to the calls and generally support-tive of the campaign's purpose (to complete refurbishment of the late-night study room in Feinberg Library)."

The top five solicitors, Milliman said, all exceeded $1,000 in pledges "in friendly competition." Those five, and the amounts they generated in pledges, are: Joe Desalvo ($2,000), Jennifer Sturr ($1,520), Ericka Garcia ($1,470), Elizabeth VanSant ($1,075), and Colleen Farrell ($1,070).

Herman Durocher Calls It Quits After 41 Years in Maintenance

When Herman Durocher walked out of the college's service building last Friday, he walked away from a job that consumed 41 years of his adult life.

Herman Durocher and SUNY Plattsburgh matured together. Literally.

"Dr. (Charles) Ward was president when I joined the college as a janitor," recalls Durocher, whose retirement became effective on Friday. "That was in October of 1947, before the SUNY system was established. Hawkins Hall was the only campus building. It was exciting being part of and witness to the tremendous growth of this college."

Thirty-four permanent buildings were added to the campus during Durocher's tenure, and he points with pride to having served three full-time and four acting presidents, besides Ward. He retired as a maintenance supervisor, a title he had held since 1984, but he had served also as a plumber, steamfitter, an occasional bartender for college food service, and, for two decades, as the caretaker at the institution's Educational Conference Center at Valcour.

Durocher, whose immediate plans include travel to visit family living in a warmer climate, was quick to comment that he feels he was treated very well by the SUNY Plattsburgh administration, faculty, staff and the college's students throughout his term of service. He concluded, "Please say thanks for me to all the people of this college who made my career here a wonderful part of my life."

Security Takes Steps to Lock Field House Gates Each Night

Effective last Saturday evening, gates to the SUNY Plattsburgh Field House are being locked at night. Lawrence Lorch, director of security, said that continuing problems with vandalism on the property and neighborhood complaints about unauthorized vehicles led to the decision.

Lorch said that on evenings when an event open to the public is held at the field house, all gates will be locked shortly after the event's conclusion. On other evenings, the two Rugar Street gates will be locked at 8 p.m. and the Bowman Street gate will be locked when all field house activities are through.

College security personnel will continue to make routine checks of the field house environs.

'Lean' Budget (Continued from page 1)

library automation project. He was equally supportive of the SUNY budget proposal asking for $2 million to improve academic advisement, career planning and learning center student services on University campuses throughout the system.

The SUNY Trustees have asked Gov. Cuomo and the State Legislature to approve an 8.8 percent ($126.1 million) budget increase for the University system in the coming fiscal year. Citing a state budget deficit that some experts predict could top $2 million, Gov. Cuomo has directed all state agencies to hold the line on spending to 4.4 percent (the rate of inflation).

Kane, Dobert Earn All-State Honors; Hockey Cards Gain Split

Standout senior runner Kathy Kane crossed the line third among 90 competitors to lead the Cardinal women's cross country team to a third place finish in last weekend's New York State Women's College Athletic Association championships hosted by Fredonia State. Ithaca College and University of Rochester finished 1 - 2 in the meet.

Kane ran the course in 19 minutes, 35 seconds. Teammates Julie Dobert and Judy Serth finished seventh and 19th, respectively, well ahead of the remaining Cardinal team whose pace was slowed by a muddy course. By virtue of their positions in the field, Kane and Dobert earned All-State honors for 1989.

The Plattsburgh State hockey team split its first two games of the 1988-89 campaign in weekend action on the road. The Cardinals whipped SUNY Conference rival Fredonia 4 - 1 on Friday behind goals by veterans Bobby Hayden and Shane Ferras and freshmen Jim Duran and Bill Roche, with Roche's marker at 9:23 of the second period the game-winner. Plattsburgh's skaters peppered the Fredonia net with 58 shots.

On Saturday, Canisius took the measure of the Cards by capitalizing on six of 12 power plays and skating to an 8 - 4 triumph. Forty minutes in penalties spelled defeat for Plattsburgh. Sean Haggerty, Dave Matrona, Jim Duran and Dave Doucette scored for the Cardinals, who will open their home season this weekend as hosts to the annual Cardinal Pepsi Classic hockey tournament scheduled for Stafford Arena. Defending NCAA Division III national champion Wisconsin-River Falls meets Merrimack College in the tourney opener at 4 p.m. on Friday, with Plattsburgh taking on American International College at 8 p.m. Saturday's consolation and championship games are likewise scheduled for 4 and 8 p.m.

1st Grad from Mainland China Here to Pursue Joint Ventures

The first SUNY Plattsburgh graduate from the People's Republic of China has returned to campus for the fall semester.

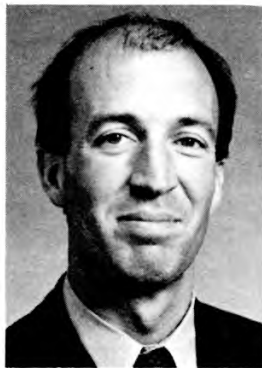

Wu Hong-Lin, who received a bachelor's degree in business/management science in 1984, is currently Vice-Chairman of the Policy Research Committee of the China National Democratic Construction Association of the People's Republic of China. The association has recently established a Research Center in Beijing to study joint ventures and other economic issues and Wu is vice-director of that center.

While in the United States, Wu is working out details for a cooperative research agreement between the center in China and the college's Center for the Study of Joint Ventures. He is also conducting research which may result in a proposal to the Chinese government to allow certain types of private enterprise in that country.

TAC Director Hyde to Leave College for Post at Bowdoin

Stephen T. Hyde, director of SUNY Plattsburgh's Economic Development and Technical Assistance Center (TAC), will leave the college next month to join the development staff at Bowdoin College in Brunswick, Me. He will assume the position of director for corporate and foundation development at Bowdoin, effective Nov. 25.

Hyde, who holds the J.D. degree from the University of Maine's School of Law, became director of TAC in April of 1985. Previously, he had served for six years as associate director of the New Enterprise Institute at the University of Southern Maine in Portland.

"I regret leaving friends and colleagues, but I am optimistic about the economic health and vitality of this area," commented Hyde. "Economic development and business assistance resources available in northern New York are substantial. An important key to their effective use, however, is sound service organization and delivery. There exists a much higher level of cooperation and mutual support among local, county and regional economic developers than when I arrived here nearly four years ago."

Comedy 'She Stoops to Conquer,' Next Up in Hartman Theatre

"She Stoops to Conquer," Oliver Goldsmith's ram-bunctious comedy, will be presented under the direction of Dr. Ruth Kline in the Hartman Theatre daily at 8 p.m. on November 9 - 12 and November 16 - 19.

Appearing in the production will be Amy Altobelli, Joseph Harding, Scott Burnam, Stefanie Lavine, Michael Wild, Amy Brown, Michael Farrelly, John Decker, Seth Moldow, Mark Sardow, Jeff Shaw and Charles Fitch. Tickets are on sale in the Hartman Theatre Box Office at $1 for SA members, $3 for faculty and staff, and $4 for the general public.

Dr. Donald D. Adams, professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, was invited recently to the Institute for the Study of Earth, Oceans and Space at the University of New Hampshire to present "Gas Cycling at the Sediment-Water Interface in Aquatic Freshwater Systems — Experiences in Europe and Lake Erie" at a special colloquium. . . Several faculty in the Department of Psychology have published recently, as follows: Margaret D. Anderson and Peter Hornby, "COMPSYCH — A computerized software information service," in Behavior Research Methods, Instruments, and Computers; Hornby and Anderson, "Using computers in teaching introductory psychology," in Behavior Research, Instruments and Computers; Theresa Jordon and Naomi B. McCormick, "Development of a measure of irrational beliefs about sex," in Journal of Sex Education and Therapy; Naomi McCormick and Andrew J. Jones (a graduate of both the BA and MA programs in psychology here), "Gender differences in nonverbal flirtation," in Journal of Sex Education and Therapy; Lawrence Shaffer, "New research on ability and performance," the title of an address to the regional conference of the New York State Association for Counseling and Development held in May in Canton, and "The psychological management of multiple sclerosis," an address given at the annual meeting of the Albany Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, held also in May; William Tooke and William Ickes, "A measure of adherence to conventional morality," in the Journal of Social and Clinical Psychology and "Naturalistic social cognition: Inter-subjectivity in same-sex dyads," in Journal of Non-Verbal Behavior. . . Paul K. Clare, associate professor of sociology, has been elected to the five-person Executive Board of the International Society for the Study of Organized Crime (ISSOC). Clare has authored ten articles, papers, and reviews on organized crime and conflict in the Irish Republic and Northern Ireland. His monograph, Racketeering in Northern Ireland: A New Version of the Patriot Game, is in press and scheduled for release in December by the University of Illinois at Chicago. . . Dr. Peter Gore, professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, recently attended the annual meeting of the American Evaluation Association, held in New Orleans, and presided over a paper session on "International Development Evaluation" . . . Diana Green, director of institutional research and analytical studies, and Jeanne Morlock, associate for institutional research, attended the recent 15th annual conference of the North East Association for Institutional Research held in Providence, R.I. Morlock presented a paper at the conference entitled "An Analysis of Factors Related to Student Learning Outcomes" that she wrote in collaboration with Green and Dr. Thomas Moran and Thomas Gonyea of the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs. . . Dr. Patricia J. Higgins, professor of anthropology, is the author of "Family History for Middle School Age Youth: A Multidisciplinary Enrichment Program," a lengthy article that appears in Practicing Anthropology, the career-oriented publication of the Society for Applied Anthropology, Vol. 10 No. 3-4, 1988. . . Dr. Kenneth E. Hoeltzel, professor in the Center for Human Resources, has received a computer software package entitled "Computer Linked Exploration of Careers and Training" from Chronicle Guidance Publications, Moravia, N.Y. The software, valued at $1,750 in leasing fees annually, will be used in the counselor education program to help counseling majors learn how to use a computerized career guidance system. A total of 21 disks make up the package, and they include modules in educational opportunities, occupational opportunities and financial aid. . . Cheryl Hogle, associate director of campus life, attended the recent 1988 National Orientation Directors Conference in Sacramento, Cal. where she presented a paper on the "SUNY Plattsburgh Freshman Mentor Network" and where she also was an invited Strategic Planning Trainer for Conference Participants. . . Karen B. Jorgensen, a 1988 Plattsburgh graduate cum laude with a degree in English/journalism, has joined the staff of the Career/Life Planning Center as coordinator of student employment. She replaces Barbara Hebert, who is on leave from the college, and her responsibilities will include coordination of all services dealing with part-time and summer employment for students both on- and off-campus. . . Dr. Ingrun Lafleur, associate vice president for academic affairs, participated in the Association for General and Liberal Studies National Conference in mid-October at Wilkes College in Wilkes-Barre, PA, where she presented a paper entitled "Beyond Structure: Injecting a New Vitality Into the General Education Curriculum". . . Dr. H.Z. Liu, dean of the Faculty of Arts and Science, has accepted an invitation to serve on an evaluation team of the Biology Department at the State University College at Potsdam. The visitation will take place on December 1 and 2. . . Dr. Joan Lynch, associate professor of nursing, has been elected vice president of the New York State Nurses Association. . . Dr. George Pasti Jr., professor of history, presented a paper entitled "Best and the Brightest? Why College Students Succeed in the People's Republic of China" at a recent meeting of the New York Conference on Asian Studies held in Albany. . . Vice President for Student Affairs Dr. Eldridge Roark, as National Vice President of Omicron Delta Kappa, the national leadership honor society, recently installed a circle of ODK at Villanova University. Sixty-eight faculty, staff, students and alumni were inducted into the society during the ceremony. Villanova became the 23rd campus to receive a charter from the society under Roark's guidance and direction as National Vice President of ODK.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 3 — THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 10
Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the campus and public.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 3

10 am - 3 pm — U.S. Air Force Recruitment sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Angell Center Lobby.

11 am - 3 pm — Sign up for Breakfast in Bed. Sponsored by Delta Phi Epsilon.

12:15 pm — Women's Studies Forum presents, "Election '88 — An Open Forum" sponsored by Women's Studies Program and College Auxiliary Services. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

3 pm — "Targeting Your Job Search" — A workshop sponsored by Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4 pm — Weekly meeting of the General Education Committee sponsored by the Faculty Senate. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4:15 pm — "Build a Better Term Paper — Without Plagiarism, Panic or Procrastination" — A workshop sponsored by Special Services Project. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 pm — The Viewpoints Series presents a panel discussion on the "Economic and Political Issues in the '88 Presidential Election," featuring Professors Withington, Gandhi, Konda and Schantz. Sponsored by the Departments of Economics and Political Science. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 - 9 pm — AIDS Awareness Week features Lois Scoskie, Planned Parenthood speaking on "Safer Sex and AIDS." Sponsored by Campus Life. Angell Center Orchard Room.

8 pm — Drug Debate featuring Dr. Timothy Leary and Peter Bensinger and sponsored by the Student Association Speakers Forum. Tickets for S.A. members are $1, public/faculty/staff $3 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

8 pm — Circle K meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room 3.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 4

11 am - 3 pm — Sign up for Breakfast in Bed. Sponsored by Delta Phi Epsilon. Angell Center Lobby.

4 pm — Professional Information Exchange: Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology. Sponsored by the Department of Hearing and Speech Science. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 pm — Hillel Friday Night Service and get-together. Angell Center Meeting Room 8.

7 - 9:30 pm — Drop-In Volleyball (men and women) sponsored by the Recreation Office. Open to the campus. Hawkins Hall Gymnasium.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 5

9 am — Mountain Biking Expedition to Point AuRoche State Park sponsored by the Adirondack Experience Club. Open to the campus. Student tickets are $1 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Meet in front of the Angell College Center.

7 pm — Cystic Fibrosis Fund Raiser — Dance-a-thon. Sponsored by Sigma Pi and Delta Phi Epsilon. General admission tickets are $5 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballroom.

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 6

6:45 pm & 9:15 pm — Student Association Film Series presents, "Crocodile Dundee II." Open to the campus. S.A. member tickets are 50c, faculty/staff $1 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 7

4 pm — Dr. Daniel Landis, professor of psychology University of Mississippi, will discuss "Equal Opportunity Climate: Development and Measurement." Angell Center Orchard Room. Sponsored by the Behavioral Science program.

7 pm — American Folklore and Folklorists by Martin F. Hasting. Sponsored by the Center for Lifelong Learning. Registration fee is $24. Contact the Center for Lifelong Learning, Hawkins Hall 106, phone 2050. Yokum 201.

10 pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 8

11:30 am — U.U.P. Executive Board meeting. Members welcome. Angell Center Conference Room.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 9

10 am — Walt Disney World College Program Information Session. Sponsored by the Center for Human Resources and Cooperative Education Program. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

11 am - 3 pm — CVPH Blood Drive sponsored by Alpha Phi Gamma. Angell Center Ballroom.

noon - 1:15 pm — Sociology Colloquium Series: "Student Criminal Victimization." Dr. John Tomlin will speak on this controversial issue with regard to publicity, mental health of the victim and restitution concerns. Open to the campus. Bring your lunch! Sponsored by the Sociology Department. Angell Center Conference Room.

noon — Richard Ratliff, fortepiano sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre. Myers Fine Arts Gallery.

7 - 9:30 pm — Drop-In Volleyball (men and women) sponsored by the Recreation Office. Open to the campus. Hawkins Hall Gymnasium.

7 - 9:30 pm — Film — "Elmer Gantry" sponsored by the History Department. Yokum 200.

7 pm — Right to Life presentation on Abortion sponsored by Campus Life. Open to the campus. Kent Hall Main Lounge.

7 - 8:30 pm — Club Canada weekly meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7 pm — American Folklore and Folklorists by Martin F. Hasting. Sponsored by the Center for Lifelong Learning. Registration fee is $24. Contact the Center for Lifelong Learning, Hawkins Hall 106, phone 2050. Yokum 201.

7:30 pm — Club International meeting. Open to members only. Angell Center Conference Room.

8 pm — Center for Art, Music and Theatre production, "She Stoops to Conquer" by Oliver Goldsmith. Tickets: S.A. members $1, faculty/staff $3, public $4 and on sale at the Hartman Box Office. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts.

9 pm — SASU Acquaintance Rape Forum. Angell Center Blue Room.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 10

12:15 pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Helena Madison and John Madison speaking on "Personal and Organizational Power for Women." Sponsored by the Women's Studies Program and College Auxiliary Services. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4 pm — Weekly meeting of the General Education Committee sponsored by the Faculty Senate. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4:30 pm — Improve Your Etiquette IQ: Meeting Manners and Banquet Etiquette. Fourth in the series. Program includes running a meeting, meeting behavior and guidelines for banquet planning and implementation. Sponsored by Hospitality and Nutrition Services and the Marketing Club. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7:15 pm — South Africa speaker sponsored by the Union of Concerned Students. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

8 pm — Circle K weekly meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room 3.

8 pm — On Alaska: Notes, Thoughts and Slides by Bill Crosby. Sponsored by the Art Department. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8 pm — Center for Art, Music and Theatre production, "She Stoops to Conquer" by Oliver Goldsmith. Tickets: S.A. members $1, faculty/staff $3, public $4 and on sale at the Hartman Box Office. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts.

NOTES

Do you feel stressed? The Psychological Services Center is running a Stress Management Clinic. Students will be taught on an individual basis to relax and control their tension using relaxation techniques and biofeedback equipment. The clinic services are open to all students and are free of charge. You may phone ahead for an appointment (564-3086) or further information. Walk-ins are welcome. The clinic is located at the Psychological Services Center in the Infirmary. Staff trainers are Patty Perillo and Judy Traynor under the supervision of Dr. Jacquelyn Connelly.

R.A. Applications for 1989-90 positions will be available at the Angell College Center Desk October 19 and the deadline is November 30. There are currently no positions available for January. However, candidates who wish to be considered if vacancies occur should submit an application and indicate they wish to be considered for January 1989.

The Counseling Department will be holding an Orientation Session for prospective counseling graduate students on Friday, November 11 from 10:30 - 11:30 am in Ward Hall 106. Open to the public. For more information call the Center for Human Resources at 564-2164.

The Annual Fall Arts and Crafts Fair is scheduled to Saturday and Sunday, November 12 and 13, 10 am - 5 pm at the Plattsburgh State Field House and featuring over 150 vendors. Admission in 50¢ at the door. For more information, call 564-3824.

The final bus to Montreal for the fall semester is scheduled for Saturday, November 12 from 9 am to 6 pm. The bus departs from the Angell Center. Tickets are $9.00 round trip and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Sponsored by the Office of Campus Life, 564-3824.

The Psychological Services Center is recruiting undergraduates from any discipline to become trainers in the Stress Management Program for the spring 1989 semester. Selected students will receive academic credit for four hours per week. Applications are available in Room 101 of the Health Services Center. The application deadline is Nov. 15.

CURRENT POSITION VACANCIES

Faculty

Anthropology (2) (Visiting Assistant Professor) F/T
Art, Music & Theatre

(Stage Carpenter) — Vita Bank P/T

Art, Music & Theatre — (Technical Director) —
Fall '89 F/T

Arts and Science — Vita Bank P/T

Communication (2) (Mass Comm. & Public Speaking) —
Fall '89 F/T

Computer Science (2) — Fall '89 F/T

English F/T — (Journalism) — Fall '89 F/T

Foreign Languages & Literature (Spanish) — '89 F/T

Mathematics (2) (Dept. Chair-Assoc. Prof/Prof.)
Fall '89 F/T

(Assistant Professor) — Fall '89 F/T

Philosophy — Fall '89 F/T

Professional Studies — Vita Bank P/T

Sociology — Fall '89 F/T

Professional

Senior Counselor (Psych. Services) — Spring '89
F/T Temp.

Civil Service

Maintenance Assistant F/T Temp.

Complete details are available in the Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action.

S.U.N.Y./Plattsburgh is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Weekly

Family and Friends
Does Not Struggle

Published by the Office of College Relations and Development for the Plattsburgh College Community • November 9, 1988

Lundine to Give Principal Address at Winter Commencement

Stan Lundine, Lt. Governor of the State of New York, has accepted an invitation to deliver the principal address at annual winter commencement exercises scheduled for 2 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 16.

In a departure from previous years' winter graduation programs, the 1988 ceremony will be held at the Field House. The switch (from Memorial Hall gymnasium) became expedient, said college President Charles O. Warren, because of the growing interest among mid-year degree recipients to take part in the ceremony.

"These students, and their families and friends, deserve no less consideration than our spring graduates," commented Warren. About 400 candidates for bachelor's and master's degrees and certificates of advanced study will become eligible to participate in winter commencement exercises.

Lundine, former mayor of his native Jamestown, was elected to Congress in 1976 to represent the state's Southern Tier. He gave up his seat ten years later to become Mario Cuomo's running mate in that duo's successful 1986 election campaign.

As Lt. Governor, Lundine is the State Senate's presiding officer. He also participates in developing the executive budget and in setting policy goals for
(Continued on last page)

Form Founder's Day Committee to Plan Centennial Observance

A committee to plan the special events surrounding Founder's Day has been formed by the college's Centennial Committee. Don Garrant, who will chair the committee, said that members will meet later this month to plan appropriate ceremonies to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the signing of the legislation which created the Plattsburgh Normal School.

The "Act to establish a normal and training school at the village of Plattsburgh, in the county of Clinton, and to make an appropriation therefore" was proposed in the New York State Legislature by retired General Stephen Moffitt early in the spring, 1889 term, was passed, and was signed into law by Governor Hill on June 15, 1889.

Governor Mario Cuomo has been invited to campus to recreate the signing of that bill in a ceremony slated for June 15, 1989. SUNY Chancellor D. Bruce Johnstone has also been invited to attend.

According to Garrant, a part of the ceremony will be the unveiling of a commemorative plaque to be erected on the lawn of Hawkins Hall, denoting the site of the original Normal School Building. He added that the committee will suggest a series of other programs to be held during that week in June.

Founder's Day Committee members are Garrant, Curt Shipman, Robert Garrow, Ruth Angell, Jackie Cianfrocco, Stacia Arcarese and Ray Domenico.

Forum on Campus-wide Smoking Regulations Set for Thursday

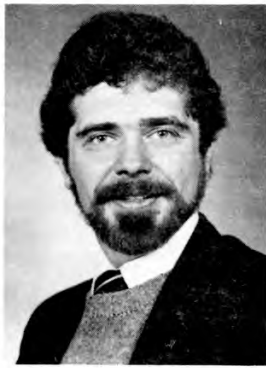

The Office of the President and the SUNY Plattsburgh chapter of United University Professions will co-coordinate an upcoming all-college forum on the campus-wide smoking policy proposed for implementation effective prior to the beginning of the 1989 spring semester. The forum will be held next Thursday (Nov. 19) from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the Blue Room of the Angell College Center.

The purpose of the forum will be to familiarize interested faculty, staff and students with the recommendations of a Labor/Management Committee on Smoking that recently filed a report culminating a six-month study of the issue. President Charles O. Warren will preside at the forum and he and committee chairperson Dr. J. Stallard Waterhouse, professor of biology and president of the campus UUP collective bargaining unit, will answer questions relative to the smoking policy proposal.

Copies of the committee report are available in advance in the President's Office.

Campbell Steps Down from Council to Accept SUNY Central Post

James J. Campbell, a 1976 graduate of the college and a member of his Alma Mater's College Council since 1985, will assume the position as director of governmental relations at SUNY Central Administration, effective later this week.

Campbell will assist Herb Gordon, SUNY vice chancellor for government and university relations, in coordinating university relations with the executive and legislative branches of state government. His appointment means he will have to resign from the SUNY Plattsburgh Council.

"That's a bittersweet aspect of changing jobs," commented Campbell. "I've enjoyed serving the College Council. Its members really care about Plattsburgh State, and I have come to appreciate their diverse talents as individuals." Campbell will leave a position as senior member of the staff of Assemblyman Alan Hevesi (D-Forest Hills) to accept

College Controller Homburger To Be TAC's Acting Director

John Homburger, the college controller since 1983, will assume duties as acting director of the Technical Assistance Center (TAC) as of the end of November. He is expected to divide his time between TAC and his current post.

Homburger served from 1975 to 1978 as assistant to the director of TAC and was involved in small business development work. He was named the college's budget control officer in 1978 and was promoted to his current position five years later. As controller, he is responsible for overseeing the campus budget and facilitating related business affairs.

Homburger has served for the past two years on TAC's advisory board and was recently appointed to represent SUNY on the Economic Development Regional Working Cabinet, a six-county task force under the auspices of the NYS Department of Economic Development. He earned his bachelor's degree in accounting from SUNY Plattsburgh in 1975 and is currently enrolled in a master's degree program.

The TAC directorship became open with the resignation of Stephen Hyde, who will leave the college later this month to become a member of the development staff at Bowdoin College.

the SUNY post. He served the Hevesi organization for the past 11 years, during which time he was director of the State Assembly Task Force on the Disabled.

Campbell, an anthropology major at Plattsburgh State, was president of the Student Association during 1975.

McCormick Among 5 Who Write 'Psychology of Adjustment' Text

Dr. Naomi McCormick, professor of psychology, is one of five authors of a new textbook, titled Exploring Choices: The Psychology of Adjustment.

The book, intended to be used in psychology of adjustment courses, is published by Scott/Foresman and is available from that company. It contains sections on "The Person: Choice and Challenge Through the Life Span," "Stress, Coping and Getting Help," "Relationships and Sexuality," and "Work and Social Influences."

The publisher calls the book "a practical, student-oriented text grounded in research," and says, "This new text shows students how psychology can help them make more effective choices in adjusting to life's challenges and stresses. It presents key theories and current research in a way that students can easily understand and provides many practical ideas for improving personal effectiveness. The authors emphasize the importance of a strong self-concept in successful adjustment and introduce students to the tools and techniques they can use to maximize self-esteem and personal success."

The co-authors are Donald Meichenbaum of the University of Waterloo; Richard Price, the University of Michigan; E. Jerry Phares, Kansas State University; and Janet Hyde, the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

McCormick came to SUNY Plattsburgh in 1976, after receiving a Ph.D. in clinical psychology from UCLA. Noted for her extensive research on sex roles, she is an editor of Changing Boundaries: Gender Roles and Sexual Behavior. During the 1983-84 academic year, she was a post doctoral fellow at the Institute for Rational Emotive Therapy in New York City. Last spring, McCormick received the 1988 Phi Eta Sigma Distinguished Faculty Award, which is presented annually to the person who, in the opinion of members of the national honorary society for freshmen, "contributed the most to the academic success of freshmen."

CAS to Invest $45,000 to $50,000 in Orchard Room Improvements

Patrons of the Angell Center Orchard Room will be in for a pleasant surprise when they return to campus in January following the semester break. College Auxiliary Services (CAS) is planning to invest between $45,000 and $50,000 to renovate and improve the facility during the holiday season vacation period.

"The changes will include new tables and chairs, new light fixtures, new carpeting and wall treatment," commented Stanley Supinski, executive director of CAS. "The room will also be enhanced with art works to become a part of the 'museum without walls' concept prevalent in the central area of the campus. Additionally, the space in the northeast corner of the room that is separated now from the adjoining conference room by a glass wall will take on the look of an indoor garden."

Renovation of the Orchard Room will begin December 16, the day the fall semester ends, said Supinski, and the timetable calls for it to be back in operation for lunch time and catering services when classes resume in mid-January.

Variety of Activities Planned for Adult Learning Week '88

November 14 -18 is Adult Learning Week on campus and a variety of activities has been planned, according to Bette Brohel, coordinator of Adult Learning Services.

"Our most exciting event will take place on Monday afternoon at 5:30," Brohel said. "The Adult Student Center, which is located on the second floor of the Angell College Center, has expanded and now has an extra room. President Warren and Dr. Roark will cut the ribbon to officially open the larger center." The Center will hold an Open House daily from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and the campus community is invited to drop in.

Patrick Lennahan of the Career/Life Center and several faculty members will meet with adult students on Tuesday to discuss graduate school and employment possibilities. On Wednesday, adult students will gather in an open forum to discuss common concerns and solutions. Thursday will feature several adult degree recipients talking about the rewards and demands of being an adult college student. The week will conclude on Friday with a reception from 4:30 -6:30 p.m. for adult students and the campus community. Dr. Ann Tracy, professor of English, will speak on the perspective that adult learners bring to the classroom.

Adult students, according to Brohel, are officially defined as students 25 years of age or older, and the college currently enrolls 711 undergraduate students in that age group. However, Brohel added, students who enter Plattsburgh as freshmen at 23 or 24 are also considered in that category.

CAS support for facilities improvement is nothing new. Auxiliary Services funded about $20,000 in renovations to the Angell Center snack bar and point area completed during the summer. Also, December will mark the first anniversary date of when the building's Sundowner Cafe and Atrium reopened with a new look following $650,000 in renovations. The Marriott Corp. paid for $500,000 in costs for that project, with CAS providing the balance.

"CAS is under no obligation to provide financial support to upgrade state facilities," remarked SUNY Plattsburgh President Charles O. Warren. "The organization, its leadership and its directors deserve to be commended for initiatives of this nature."

'71 Graduate Spofford Writes Book on Jackson State Tragedy

A 1971 Plattsburgh graduate has published a new book which pieces together the tragic events surrounding the killing of two people on the Jackson State University campus in 1970. Tim Spofford, who is now the education writer for the Albany "Times-Union," spent five years researching Lynch Street: The May 1970 Slayings at Jackson State College, which was published this summer by the Kent State University Press.

The Jackson State killings occurred ten days after the more publicized Kent State tragedy. Spofford is quoted in the "Chronicle of Higher Education" as saying, "I think people remember Kent State because white students were killed. We still don't value black lives as much as white lives."

Lynch Street was called "a scrupulously researched history of the events at Jackson State in May, 1970" by David Dawson of "Memphis" and referred to as "good, solid investigative reporting" by "Kirkus Reviews." "Publishers Weekly" says "Spofford successfully recalls the moment with primary sources." Howard Smead wrote in the "Times Union," "The incident at Jackson State now is preserved for posterity and not a minute too soon."

SPORTS REPORT

Pepsi Cardinal Hockey Classic

Friday (11/4)

Merrimack 4, Wisconsin-River Falls 2

Plattsburgh State 7, American International 4

Saturday (11/5) Consolation Game

American International 6, Wisconsin-River Falls 2

Championship Game

Merrimack 11, Plattsburgh State 2

Men's Swimming

Union 121, Plattsburgh State 57

Women's Swimming

Union 124, Plattsburgh State 82

Policy on Computer Software Copyright Observance Implemented

Following review by the college's Executive Staff, President Charles O. Warren has endorsed recommendation of a campus Information Systems Task Force and will implement a policy relative to the observance of computer software copyright.

The policy, according to Dr. W. Raney Ellis, director of academic computing, will meet a need to put a stop to deliberate or offhand copying of computer software. Without saying such practices are widespread on campus, illegal copying, he said, has occurred. "Except in certain circumstances, which are spelled out in the policy, software is like a book," he said. "It is the property of the author and may not be used unless it has been purchased."

The policy stipulates that "no person shall use or cause to be used on the college's computers (particularly microcomputers) any software which does not fall into (specific) categories." The categories of exception:

- It is in the public domain.
- It is covered by a licensing agreement with the software author, vendor, or developer, whichever is applicable.
- It has been donated to the college and a written record of a bona fide contribution exists.
- It has been purchased by the college and a record of a bona fide purchase exists and can be produced by the user upon demand.
- It is being reviewed or demonstrated by the users in order to reach a decision about possible future purchase or request for contribution or licensing.
- It has been written or developed by a college employee or student for the specific purpose of be-the governor's annual State-of-the-State message, and he assists in administering myriad state programs and functions.

Lundine To Speak (Continued from page 1)

While in Congress, Lundine was known for his strong support of federal aid to elementary, secondary and higher education. He earned recognition also for his expertise in issues related to economic development, science and technology, and housing. He was a member of the House Banking committee and chair of the Subcommittee on International Development. Lundine co-authored the omnibus trade bill passed in 1986 that provided leadership in financial deregulation, Third World debt and human rights.

Lundine, who practiced law and was a public defender before entering the political arena, is a graduate of Duke University and New York University's School of Law. His honors and awards include receipt of the SUNY Fredonia College Foundation's Distinguished Service Award and of Alfred University's honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

ing used on a college-owned computer.

- It has been written or developed by the user.

Other components of the policy cover regulations for copying for archival backup purposes and another governing copying of software acquired under a site or universal agreement.

"If academic computing personnel are called to help with a problem involving computer software, and it is found that the software has been pirated, the caller will receive no help from us," said Ellis. Questions or concerns about the policy may be referred to Ellis (564-4433).

Phi Kappa Chi, Alpha Chi Rho Claim Greek Scholastic Award

Phi Kappa Chi sorority and Alpha Chi Rho fraternity have claimed the Greek Scholastic Award for 1988.

The award is presented annually at Homecoming to the campus men's and women's Greek organizations that achieved the highest grade-point averages (gpa) in the previous academic year. The sisters of Phi Kappa Chi amassed a collective gpa of 2.80 during academic 1987-88 while the brothers of Alpha Chi Rho topped all fraternities at 2.60.

According to Ed Engelbride, assistant director of campus life, a record number of sororities and fraternities — five of the former and four of the latter — competed for the honor this year. Englebride pointed out that the gpa's of Greek organizations compare favorably to those of the general student population. He said that last year's all-women's gpa was 2.66, and that the gpa for all men was 2.40.

The sororities that finished behind Phi Kappa Chi in the competition, and their gpa's, are: Alpha Phi Gamma, 2.65; Alpha Delta Theta, 2.64; Theta Alpha Lambda, 2.61; and Alpha Kappa Phi, 2.49. Runners-up among fraternities were: Pi Alpha Nu, 2.57; Tau Kappa Epsilon, 2.53; and Alpha Sigma Phi, 2.52.

Fund Honors Schaffer's Memory

A Kathleen T. Schaffer Memorial Scholarship Fund is being established with the Plattsburgh College Foundation to provide a scholarship for a junior student majoring in math education.

Schaffer, who passed away last week after a lengthy illness, was an adjunct lecturer for the mathematics and computer science department and a math skills specialist for the Special Services Project. Contributions to the fund should be sent to the Foundation Office (Kehoe 806) and designated for the Kathleen T. Schaffer Memorial Scholarship Fund.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 10 — THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 17

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the campus and public.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 10

12:15 pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Helena Madison and John Madison speaking on "Personal and Organizational Power for Women." Sponsored by the Women's Studies Program and College Auxiliary Services. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4 pm — Weekly meeting of the General Education Committee sponsored by the Faculty Senate. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4:30 pm — Improve Your Etiquette IQ: Meeting Manners and Banquet Etiquette. Fourth in the series. Program includes running a meeting, meeting behavior and guidelines for banquet planning and implementation. Sponsored by Hospitality and Nutrition Services and the Marketing Club. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7:15 pm — South Africa speaker sponsored by the Union of Concerned Students. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

8 pm — Circle K weekly meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room 3.

8 pm — On Alaska: Notes, Thoughts and Slides by Bill Crosby. Sponsored by the Art Department. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8 pm — Center for Art, Music and Theatre production, "She Stoops to Conquer" by Oliver Goldsmith. Tickets: S.A. members $1, faculty/staff $3, public $4 and on sale at the Hartman Box Office. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 11

10:30 - 11:30 am — Orientation Session for prospective counseling graduate students. Sponsored by the Center for Human Resources. Ward Hall Room 106.

4 pm — Performance and sing-along of popular music from "The Great War" (World War I) to commemorate the 70th anniversary of "Armistice Day" (known and observed today as "Veterans' Day"). Organized by Professor Bruce Butterfield's class on Literature of World War I. Refreshments will be served. Sponsored by the English department and CAS. Angell Center Orchard Room.

7 - 9:30 pm — Drop-In Volleyball (men and women) sponsored by the Recreation Office. Open to the campus. Hawkins Hall Gymnasium.

7 pm — Friday night service and get-together sponsored by Hillel. Angell Center Meeting Room 7.

7:30 pm — Men's Hockey vs. Brockport. Tickets: S.A. members $1, public $3.50, under 18 $1.50 and on sale at the door. Stafford Ice Arena, Field House.

8 pm — Air Band Contest sponsored by Campus Life. General admission is $1, tickets are on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballroom.

8 pm — Center for Art, Music and Theatre production, "She Stoops to Conquer." See 8 pm Thursday, Nov. 10 for details.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 12

9 am - 6 pm — Bus to Montreal — last trip of the semester.

Sponsored by Campus Life. Round trip tickets are $9 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Bus departs from the Angell Center.

10 am - 5 pm — Annual Fall Arts and Crafts Fair sponsored by Campus Life. General admission is 50¢ at the door. (Under 12 is free). Field House.

11 am - 4 pm — Plattsburgh vs. Albany — Racquetball Competition sponsored by the Recreation Office. Memorial Hall.

noon — SASU Board of Directors meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

7:30 pm — Men's Hockey vs. Canisius. Tickets on sale at the door. Stafford Ice Arena, Field House.

8 pm — Formal Dinner and Talent Show sponsored by AKEBA. Dinner tickets must be purchased at the Angell Center Desk by November 4, 1988 and the price includes the talent show. Tickets for the show are only on sale until the evening of the event. Talent show is at 9:30 pm. Tickets for the show only are: S.A. members $1, faculty/staff/public $2 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballroom.

8 pm — Trio d'Arch di Roma — Violin, Viola, Viloncello. Sponsored by the Music Council and the Student Association Campus Arts Council. E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

8 pm — Center for Art, Music and Theatre production, "She Stoops to Conquer." See 8 pm Thursday, Nov. 10 for details.

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 13

10 am - 5 pm — Annual Fall Arts and Crafts Fair sponsored by Campus Life. General admission is 50¢ at the door. (Under 12 is free). Field House.

noon — SASU Board of Directors meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

6:34 & 9:15 pm — Student Association Film Series presents: "Willow." Open to the campus. Tickets for S.A. members are 50¢, faculty/staff $1 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 14

9 am - noon & 1 - 4:30 pm — Petitions for office of Student Association Elections may be picked up. Open to the campus. Student Association Office, Angell Center 203.

4 pm — Informational on Careers in Student Affairs sponsored by Career Life Planning Center, Center for Human Resources and the Office of Vice President for Student Affairs. Angell Center Orchard Room.

7 pm — American Folklore and Folklorists by Martin F. Hasting. Sponsored by the Center for Lifelong Learning. Registration fee is $24. Contact the Center for Lifelong Learning, Hawkins Hall 106, phone 2050. Yokum 201.

8 pm — Campus Poets Series presents Michael Carrino and Joseph Segrieff. Sponsored by the Department of Foreign Languages and Literature and Faculty of Arts and Science. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

10 pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 15

11:30 am — U.U.P. Executive Board meeting. Members welcome. Angell Center Conference Room.

12:15 pm — Brown Bag Recital featuring music students and faculty. Sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:15 pm — Faculty Senate meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Ballroom.

4:30 - 6 pm — Jim Kauffman of the Champlain Valley Management Club and Executive Director of the YMCA will be speaking on "Management Techniques and Styles." Sponsored by the Society for the Advancement of Management and ROTARACT. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

6:15 - 8 pm — Open House for Education Faculty and all Education Majors. Sponsored by the Organization for Education Majors. Open to members only. Sibley 100.

7:30 pm — Novelist Christopher Noel will be reading from his recent novel "Hazard and the Five Delights." Sponsored by the English Department. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8 pm — Flying Karamazov Brothers sponsored by the Student Association Campus Arts Council, College Theatre Association and the Council on the Arts of Clinton County. Tickets: S.A. members $1, faculty/staff $3. (Public tickets — contact COACC at 563-5222.) E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 16

10 am — Chris Schaw, editor of "Adirondack Life" magazine, will lecture on magazine article writing. Sponsored by CAS. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

5 pm — Asia Update: 1988. Sponsored by the Asian Studies Faculty Committie and the Center for International Education. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 - 8:30 pm — Club Canada meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7 - 9:30 pm — Drop-In Volleyball (men and women) sponsored by the Recreation Office. Open to the campus. Hawkins Hall Gymnasium.

7 pm — American Folklore and Folklorists by Martin F. Hasting. Sponsored by the Center for Lifelong Learning. Registration fee is $24. Contact the Center for Lifelong Learning, Hawkins Hall 106, phone 2050. Yokum 201.

7:30 pm — Club International meeting. Open to members only. Angell Center Conference Room.

8 pm — Center for Art, Music and Theatre production, "She Stoops to Conquer." See 8 pm Thursday, Nov. 10 for details.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 17

11 am - 2 pm — Tuck-ins! For $1, Phi Eta Sigma will have your favorite friend tucked in and will read him/her a story. Angell Center Lobby.

12:15 pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Gabrielle Tyrnauer, Ph.D., Concordia University, speaking on "Gypsy Women — Paradox of Power." Sponsored by the Women's Studies Program and College Auxiliary Services.

Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4 pm — Weekly meeting of the General Education Committee sponsored by the Faculty Senate. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

8 pm — Circle K meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room 3.

8 pm — Investment Association first general interest meeting. Anyone seeking to become a member should attend. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8 pm — Chamber Ensembles sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre and the Music Council. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8 pm — Center for Art, Music and Theatre production, "She Stoops to Conquer." See 8 pm Thursday, Nov. 10 for details.

NOTES

Do you feel stressed? The Psychological Services Center is running a Stress Management Clinic. Students will be taught on an individual basis to relax and control their tension using relaxation techniques and biofeedback equipment. The clinic services are open to all students and are free of charge. You may phone ahead for an appointment (564-3086) or further information. Walk-ins are welcome. The clinic is located at the Psychological Services Center in the Infirmary. Staff trainers are Patty Perillo and Judy Traynor under the supervision of Dr. Jacquelyn Connelly.

R.A. Applications for 1989-90 positions will be available at the Angell College Center Desk and the deadline is November 30. There are currently no positions available for January. However, candidates who wish to be considered if vacancies occur should submit an application and indicate they wish to be considered for January 1989.

The Annual Fall Arts and Crafts Fair is scheduled to Saturday and Sunday, November 12 and 13, 10 am - 5 pm at the Plattsburgh State Field House and featuring over 150 vendors. Admission is 50¢ at the door. For more information, call 564-3824. Sponsored by Campus Life.

The final bus to Montreal for the fall semester is scheduled for Saturday, November 12 from 9 am to 6 pm. The bus departs from the Angell Center. Tickets are $9.00 round trip and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Sponsored by the Office of Campus Life, 564-3824.

Trainers Wanted: The Psychological Services Center is recruiting undergraduates from any discipline to become trainers in the Stress Management Program for the spring 1989 semester. Selected students will receive academic credit for four hours per week. Applications are available at the Psychological Services Center, Room 101, College Health Center. Application deadline: November 15, 1988.

Feinberg Library Hours for Thanksgiving Break: Nov. 22 — 8 am - 11:30, Nov. 23 — 8 am - 4:30 pm, closed Nov. 24, 25, 26, reopen Nov. 27 — 2 pm - 11:30 pm. Regular hours begin Nov. 28.

NOTE: Tuesday's Election Day holiday required the editors to move up the deadline for THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS to meet the WEEKLY publication schedule. Therefore, items submitted for the calendar after the end of the working day last Wednesday may not be included herein.

Alzheimer's Center Receives Operating Funds, Equipment Grant

The Alzheimer's Disease Assistance Center (ADAC) has received good news from two sources, according to center director Taher Zandi.

First, the New York State Department of Health has approved an additional $38,000 in operating funds for the program. The funding, Zandi said, will allow the center to increase staff time, in some cases to full time. That means that community related activities (e.g. support groups for caregivers) will be expanded. Zandi added that the center's service area is also being extended to include Saratoga County and the northern area of St. Lawrence County.

Additionally, the Pyramid Corporation, through the Champlain Centres, has made a $3,500 gift to support the Alzheimer's Disease Assistance Center. The gift, which was accepted by the Plattsburgh College Foundation, has allowed the center to buy furniture and equipment for its expanded office space in Sibley Hall.

"This is the first gift we have received from the Pyramid Corporation," said Dan Milliman, director of development, "and we are extremely pleased by their generosity. Certainly, their gift will allow the center to provide even better service to clients throughout the area."

The Alzheimer's Disease Assistance Center opened on April 25, 1988 and provides assistance to those afflicted with Alzheimer's Disease, as well as to family members or friends who care for victims. The center currently serves 55 patients and has a small waiting list.

Center Director Taher Zandi shares information on Alzheimer's Disease with Amy Whitehead, director of marketing for the Champlain Centres. The furniture in the background was purchased with the gift from the Pyramid Corporation.

Zandi said the center recently expanded to four rooms in Sibley Hall. An Open House is being planned for December 5. Details will be announced at a later date.

To the Campus Community

As I mentioned approximately two weeks ago, the originally projected 1989-90 budget for our college was extremely lean and challenging. Since then, we have learned that the State's overall financial situation is much worse than previously projected. This is cause for serious concern. However, you can be assured that along with the Faculty Senate Resources and Planning Committee, we will approach our particular situation thoughtfully, carefully and sensitively.

At this time, we do not have specific information from SUNY Central Administration relative to additional 1988-89 mid-year reductions or 1989-90 projections; we expect to receive that information within one to two weeks.

We will hold an open campus-wide meeting on Tuesday, November 29 at 12:15 p.m. in the Angell Center Ballrooms. Our purpose will be to discuss our budgetary situation to the extent possible and to receive questions and recommendations from members of the campus community. Everyone is invited!

Due to your exceptional efforts and dedication, we do indeed have an outstanding institution committed to higher learning, scholarship and public service. It is essential that we work together and communicate effectively in order to meet this latest challenge with resolve and an unyielding commitment to quality. It is especially critical that we work actively with students, faculty and staff leaders, union officers, parents of students, alumni and friends to broadly convey with clarity and determination the gravity of the situation.

Thank you for your ongoing support and for your willingness to meet this unprecedented challenge with professionalism, dignity and dogged determination. If you have any particular questions between now and November 29, please do not hesitate to call me or any member of the Executive Staff directly.

Again, thank you very much.

Charles O. Warren

Meeting on Budget Situation • 12:15 pm, 11/29 • Ballrooms

Survey results show:

WEEKLY Rates Highly as a College Information Resource

WEEKLY is a valuable source of information to the college community and its readership believes it to be interesting, informative and accurate.

Those are conclusions that can be drawn from a campus and community response to a questionnaire circulated in late September by the Office of College Relations and Development and analyzed recently for results. About 1,100 questionnaires were inserted in the September 28 issue of the publication that was mailed internally to faculty, staff and selected students and externally to constituencies that include College Council, area news media, faculty emeriti, government leaders and College Foundation board members.

Two hundred individuals responded to the survey for a return rate of 17.5 percent. According to staff in the college's Economic Development and Technical Assistance Center, the return was "well within the range" whereby the survey results may be considered valid.

The survey's leading question asked respondents to say whether they consider WEEKLY to be a valuable source of information about the college, and 191 answered in the "yes" column while four checked "no" (five respondents didn't answer this question, and the numbers on all others similarly didn't add up to the total return). One hundred and sixty-five reported they generally read more than 50 percent of the publication, while 28 said they did not, and 115 take the publication home with them at least some of the time.

The publication's layout and design received good marks, as 186 respondents said they like it (with six disagreeing), and photos in WEEKLY are important as 154 reported they lead them to read the articles they accompany (with 40 saying photos are not a readership factor). WEEKLY is interesting (152-21), informative (176-4) and accurate (150-2). Its "Spotlight" feature is read (146-23) and is considered important (99-18), and the calendar insert ("this week on campus") has value (168 read it each week and 123 retain it for reference to campus events).

No WEEKLY Next Week

With classes ending next Tuesday (Nov. 22) for the Thanksgiving Day break, WEEKLY will not be published next week. The next issue is scheduled for publication on Wednesday, Nov. 30. Items or suggestions for news articles are welcome any time, and faculty, staff and students are encouraged to forward them to the Office of College Relations and Development (Kehoe, Room 810). The copy deadline for the Nov. 30th issue is noon on Monday, Nov. 28.

The survey left room for open-ended comments and for suggestions on how the publication might be improved, and many elected to do so. The editor of WEEKLY, Dennis Doyle, director of communications, said that a variety of positive, useful comments were received.

"Some respondents mis-interpret the purpose of the publication and others don't understand our limitations," said Doyle, "but by-and-large the suggestions were sound and the criticism was constructive. We intend to follow-up where possible. It would help immensely if individual faculty and staff would tell us routinely about their accomplishments and the exciting things they and their students are doing in scholarship, research and service to benefit the campus community and the community at-large."

Copies of the results of the survey are available in the Office of College Relations and Development. The completed questionnaires are also available for review on request.

Foundation at 85% of $335,000 Annual Giving Goal for 1988

With a little more than a month to go in calendar 1988, the Plattsburgh College Foundation has achieved about 85 percent of its $335,000 annual giving goal for the year. A report on the status of annual giving highlighted last Thursday's quarterly meeting of the Foundation's Board of Directors.

Don Garratt, assistant to the president for college relations and development and executive director of the Foundation, told the board that less than $60,000 is needed to meet the most-ambitious-ever annual giving goal. Annual giving comprises the Annual Alumni Fund, Cardinal Booster Club, Business Campaign, Faculty/Staff Drive, Friends and Parents', Campaigns, and contributions from foundations, trusts and organizations.

Other reports focused on a favorable audit of the College Foundation, as of June 30, 1988, by SUNY's Office of University Auditor, and on the status of the Stafford Arena advertising campaign. In respect to the latter, advertising is expected to yield more than $12,000 in income this year, and that, in turn, will swell that Foundation-held account to more than $34,000. Arena advertising revenue is earmarked for facility needs and improvements that cannot be funded by other resources, and the top priority is replacement of the 17-year-old ice resurfacer (Zamboni) which carries a price tag of about $44,000.

In other action, the Foundation approved a motion to hold the organization's annual meeting at 4 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 2, 1989 in the Cardinal Lounge of the Angell College Center.

TAC Receives ANCA Funding for VCN, 'Main Street' Projects

The Technical Assistance Center has received direct and indirect funding from the Adirondack North Country Association (ANCA) for two projects.

Claire Barnett, director of special projects for TAC, said the larger of the two grants, in the amount of $25,000, was awarded to the Venture Capital Network (VCN) of NY. However, TAC holds VCN's management services contract, so it indirectly receives the funding.

Barnett said the VCN 'dating service,' which introduces private investors to entrepreneurs looking for business capital, has been in operation since April of 1987. "We currently have 40 different business ventures," Barnett said, "which collectively have an equity capital need of about $24 million. On the other side of the coin, we have identified sources of at least $12 million in investor capital and have leads to about four dozen individual and corporate investors."

ANCA has also provided $5,000 to TAC to conduct a regional conference in the spring on a national economic development program called the National Main Street Center Program. Barnett said the Main Street program is aimed at downtown commercial revitalization in small cities and villages and is particularly relevant to this area of the country. "We hope to arrange a conference to present information materials to community development agencies, county planners, chambers of commerce, and merchant associations." Details will be announced as they become available.

Hatcher's Visit Here Will Be Marked Permanently by Art Work

The next Distinguished Visiting Professor to visit campus will leave a permanent reminder of his visit. Sculptor Brower Hatcher's visit will be, according to gallery director Edward Brohel, "many faceted, will touch various parts of the college's structure and functions and will result specifically in the creation of a public work of art on campus."

Hatcher's visit will be preceded by an exhibition of his works. The exhibition, which opens today (Nov. 16) in the Myers Gallery, will run through January 29. The exhibition features "gallery sculpture produced by the artist for private or museum use, a description through drawings of the artist's ideas and visions and a detailed analysis of public art projects created by Hatcher in several cities across the country." Brohel describes Hatcher's work, "The distinguishing characteristics of (his) sculpture are forms created by a solid element which holds or supports an open grid-work of wires which in turn hold various images."

Hatcher will lecture on his work on December 1 at 8 p.m. in the Cardinal Lounge. His visiting professorship is scheduled for December 4 through December 16. Hatcher will return to campus in April to complete the permanent installation of the "Adirondack Guide Monument." The sculpture, which will be located between Yokum and Beaumont Halls, is "a two-story high network of cables which realistically outlines the head of an Adirondack Guide . . . Suspended in the framework are objects connected with the Adirondacks, such as a guide boat, bear, cabin, fish, and many other elements." The work was originally constructed at Lake George under a grant from the New York State Council on the Arts and has been described as "sophisticated folk art."

Women/Minority Group to Offer Scholarship, Consultant Funds

The President's Commission on the Status of Women and the Minority Concerns Committee has made two announcements to the campus community.

First, five scholarships of $150 each are being offered to students who make the best original contributions to the integration of scholarship on women and minorities in courses in any discipline. Students should work with faculty sponsors on the design of new or revised courses developing content, bibliography, and appropriate teaching exercises. Entries should take the form of written proposals for new units, courses or seminars or revisions of existing course outlines and must be submitted prior to March 3.

Finally, funds are now available so that departments can bring in consultants to assist them with integrating scholarship on women and minorities in their respective courses and curricula. The funds may be used to pay travel, lodging and modest honoraria for brief visits.

Detailed information on both announcements is available from Suzann Buckley (3150), Mark Cohen (4007), or Keith Smith (2263).

CORRECTIONS

The all-college forum on the proposed campus smoking policy will be held today (Nov. 16) from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the Angell Center Blue Room, not as reported in last week's WEEKLY.

Also, the annual Greek Scholastic Award is presented to only one campus organization, not jointly to a fraternity and a sorority, and the 1988 winner was Phi Kappa Chi sorority (2.80 gpa).

Kimmage Cited for Contributions to CHOICE BCL Project

Dr. Dennis Kimmage, librarian and head of reference at Feinberg Library, has been cited for having made "an outstanding contribution to an important scholarly bibliographic project" of CHOICE Magazine and the Association of College and Research Libraries.

A recent letter from Virginia Clark, who edits the "Books for College Libraries" (BCL) project for CHOICE and the association, notes how Kimmage was invited to serve as a final referee for the project's Russian literature section. It states that referees are asked "to evaluate provisional listings for their subjects . . . to look at overall balance and the basic coverage necessary to a model collection . . . (and to) judge materials suitable for undergraduate use."

Clark wrote, "There could have been no finer referee than Mr. Kimmage. His seemingly effortless mastery of the entire span of Russian Literature was displayed in beautifully concise annotations supporting his recommendations for additions to the final list. His further concern for professional documentation led him to buttress some recommendations with additional critical opinions.

"Among (Kimmage's) several contributions of key titles missed by the round-one faculty selectors, and perhaps the best indication of the range of his inquiries, was his spotting the omission of Isaiah Berlin's The Hedgehog and the Fox. Presumably the previous history, literature, and philosophy selectors in Russian studies had all assumed it to be someone else's responsibility. Mr. Kimmage saved BCL from the great embarrassment of missing it altogether."

Kane Qualifies for NCAA's in St. Louis; Card Icers Win Three

Senior cross country star Kathy Kane added another accomplishment to her long list as a Cardinal distance runner Saturday by qualifying for this coming weekend's NCAA Division III championships to be held in St. Louis. Kane covered the five kilometer course in the regional NCAA qualifying race in Saratoga in 17:27 — her best time ever — to finish second in a field of 104 competitors. The Cardinal runners as a team finished fourth in the meet — one place away from making it into the national championship round. The men's cross country team finished 15th among 24 entries in the Saratoga meet. Andy Hill was 68th as the top Cardinal harrier.

Coach Steve Hoar's Cardinal hockey team posted three victories during the past week. Plattsburgh routed arch-rival Potsdam on Tuesday by a 10-3 margin; blasted Brockport State, 10-5, on Friday, and nipped Canisius on Saturday 4-3 to avenge an early season loss to the Ice Griffs in Buffalo.

In swimming, the Cardinal women finished sixth among 10 teams in Saturday's Great Dane Relays at Albany, while the men's team finished ninth.

The men's and women's basketball teams will open their seasons this weekend in tournament action. The men will host the annual Pepsi Cardinal Classic, scheduled for Friday and Saturday in Memorial Hall, while the women will travel to Oneonta to join Kings College and Cortland State in the Hartwick College tournament field. In the Pepsi event, Johnson State will meet the University of New England at 6 p.m. Friday with the Cardinals taking on Southern Vermont at 8 p.m. The tournament's consolation and championship games will be played at 1 p.m. and 3 p.m., respectively, on Saturday. The Cardinal women will meet Hartwick in their 1988-89 campaign debut on Friday.

'Detroit Free Press' Features College's Elderhostel Program

A recent edition of the "Detroit Free Press" carried a feature story on SUNY Plattsburgh's Elderhostel Program. David Moss wrote, "My wife and I had heard about the Elderhostel program from friends and had received their catalog last winter. . . We chose SUNY Plattsburgh."

The article continued, "An enthusiastic group of young people greeted us Sunday afternoon. . . Just like freshman students, we got a formal welcome to campus from the university president and, unlike the freshmen, then had an excellent dinner with wine."

Moss described the week-long session, which included classes on the meaning of life, death and the human condition, others on nutrition and still others on astronomy. He wrote, "For the first time in my life, I was exposed to the study of philosophy and I really got turned on. I have enrolled in Philosophy 101 at Wayne State next semester."

On the negative side, Moss mentioned the short residence hall beds and the fear of being "stuck with people with whom you are not compatible," but concluded, "I'm . . . positive that whatever negatives might exist, the positive will far outweigh them."

Payroll's Patricia Wood Latest to Move to Professional Ranks

Patricia Wood is the latest SUNY Plattsburgh employee to prove that performance eclipses credentials when it comes to getting ahead on the job.

Wood, the college's administrative assistant for finance, who has been handling the lion's share of payroll responsibilities here for nearly one-third of the institution's history, received a promotion a few months ago that enabled her to move up from the classified ranks to the professional staff. She is among a half-dozen employees who have assumed positions on the professional staff following service in the classified system, and one of three who have done so without first achieving a college degree.

"Patty's promotion is recognition of the important role she plays in the administration of the college, how well she plays that role, and how well she works with people," remarked William Woltjen assistant vice president for finance. "She had gone as far as she could go as a Civil Service employee, and it was our opinion, and President (Charles O.) Warren agreed, that her value is too great to restrict her eligibility for further advancement."

Wood joined the college in 1956, when most of the college occupied Hawkins Hall and when the business affairs staff, which now numbers 40, consisted of four persons. Her position has evolved to where her principal duties include supervision of the bi-weekly preparation of three payrolls for 925 faculty and staff, 350 work study and 250 temporary service students; oversight and administration of time and attendance rules and regulations for 350 classified service employees; and preparation of all personal service data required for drafting of the college's annual budget. She also administers and processes the salary compensation provisions in each of five negotiating unit contracts, and that, said Woltjen, wryly, "isn't the easiest job in the world."

Woltjen says his colleague is among "the best he's known" in working with numbers. "Patty can probably recite your Social Security number from memory."

Wood laughs at that, saying, "Not any longer. There was a time, though, when I could match such numbers through face recognition. But I don't see that many people anymore, and the college has grown so much. . ."

Besides Wood, the former classified personnel who now hold professional appointments are: Diana Akey, telecommunications manager; Martha Cashman, staff assistant in the Office of Sponsored Research and Programs; Beverly Forster, assistant to President Warren; Bernard Girard, staff assistant in Facilities, Maintenance and Operations; and Kathleen Kiernan, assistant facilities coordinator.

Williams Observes No. 25

WEEKLY salutes Jean Williams, principal clerk on the Feinberg Library staff, who recently observed her 25th anniversary in service to the college community. Williams joined SUNY Plattsburgh in October of 1963 as library clerk. She has since advanced to her current post — which is the highest rank attainable for classified library staff — where she is Feinberg's circulation supervisor, responsible for the accurate and efficient coordination of all services relating to the circulation of books and other library materials. According to Cerise Oberman, head librarian, Williams' duties include keeping nearly 250,000 open-stack books in correct classified order ("shelving," "re-shelving" and "shelf-reading" in the library world), maintaining up-to-date loan records, searching for missing material, preparing overdue notices, compiling statistics and handling countless telephone queries. "The many questions, problems and complaints which are part of the job are handled with unfailing courtesy and fairness by Jean Williams," commented Oberman. "Jean has been a familiar face to thousands of students and faculty who have walked through the front door of the library facing the circulation desk, and we hope she will be seen there for many more years."

Dr. Stewart Baum, professor of chemistry, presented a paper entitled "HDL, LDL, and Cholesterol — The Good, The Bad and the Ugly" at the recent annual convention of the New York State Science Teachers (STANYS) held at Ellenville. . . Dr. Suzann Buckley, associate dean of the Faculty of Arts and Science, and Mary Von Bargan, a special education major at SUNY Plattsburgh, participated in a conference on "Enriching the College Experience: addressing the needs of women students" held last week in Syracuse under sponsorship of SUNY's Office of Student Affairs and Special Programs. Buckley was a presenter at a workshop session on "Gender-Balancing the Curriculum," and Von Barga was a presenter at a session on "Child Care". . . Dr. Melvin Donaho, professor of communication, and Ruth Donaho, lecturer in nursing, conducted a recent "Leadership Workshop for Adult Leaders in Cub Scouting" held at Plattsburgh Air Force Base. The Donahos, who edited the Adirondacker, a monthly publication of the Adirondack Council of the Boy Scouts of America, also served with a team of Council instructors that presented a full-day's training session recently for more than 70 adult cub scouting leaders from Clinton, Essex and Franklin Counties. . . Mary M. Dossin, writing skills specialist with the Special Services Project, and two peer writing tutors, Ralph Risch and Rich Wisneski, recently attended the Fifth Annual Peer Tutoring in Writing Conference at Skidmore College. The theme of the conference was "Tutoring Writers Throughout the Disciplines". . . Edward Engelbride, assistant director of Campus Life — special programs, attended the recent 1988 East Coast Conference of the National Association of College Activities held in Lancaster, Pa. where he presented a paper entitled "Rethinking Campus Leadership Education Programs" with Stan Altschuler, executive director of Leadership America. . . "Vietnam Veterans and the Criminal Justice System" is the title of a research paper co-authored by Dr. Leonard Fontana, associate professor of sociology, and Adela Beckerman (Clinton Community College) that has been accepted for publication in the journal, Criminal Justice and Behavior. Dr. Jane Gore, associate professor in the Center for Human Resources, attended the recent national meetings of the American Evaluation Association in New Orleans, where she chaired the session on Evaluation in the Human Services. . . Dr. Padi Gulai, associate professor in the Center for Human Resources, and Dr. Geoffrey Guest, assistant professor in the Center for Human Resources, will present a paper titled "The Community Approach — Old Wine in New Bottles, or a Radical New Approach to Community Practice" at the upcoming annual meeting of the Council of Social Work Education. . . Dr. Kenneth E. Hoeltzel, professor in the Center for Human Resources, has been selected by the New York State Education Department to serve on three sequential committees that will develop a program improvement model for the high school trade and industrial programs in the state. This is a part of the Regents Action Plan that mandates that each occupational high school curriculum have a testing or evaluation component in place by 1991. The three committees that Hoeltzel will serve are: (1) committee to develop data forms for trade and industrial program improvement (Oct.), (2) committee to review and refine the "T" and "I" educational program improvement model (Nov.) and (3) committee to develop the actual survey instruments to be used in the T and I program evaluation in New York State schools (Dec.). . . Dr. Ralph Hunkins, professor in the Center for Teacher Education and Educational Services, presented a paper, accompanied by slides, on "The Youth of John Dewey in Burlington, Vermont," to the American Educational Studies Association (AESA) during its recent annual meeting in Toronto. . . Dr. Charles Kline, professor of theatre arts, served recently as the chair of a panel titled "The Emperor Jones," and "Long Day's Journey Into Night," for the Eugene O'Neill Centennial Celebrations 1889-1988, sponsored by the Department of Theatre at SUNY Brockport. . . Dr. Richard F. Lamb, associate professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, is the author of a review of a book entitled Vermont Townscapes that appears in the November issue of "The Professional Geographer". . . A lifesize, floating confidence decoy of a loon carved by Dr. Charles Mitchell, professor of education, earned both first-place and "best-in-class" ribbons at the recent Northeast Wildlife Exposition held in Northford, Conn. . . Works by Don Oborn, associate professor of art, are included in an invitational exhibition, "Contemporary Sculptors/Drawings & Maquettes," showing currently at Calkins Gallery, Hofstra University. . . Dr. Thomas Rumney, associate professor of geography, recently published a review of The Wines of Bordeaux and Western France by John Baxevanis that appear in the The Journal of Geography, Vol. 87, No. 5 (1988). . . Professional Studies Dean Nicholas F. Troisi, Arthur Momot, superintendent of schools, Plattsburgh City School District, Mrs. Judith L. Duken, director of North Country Teacher Resource Center and Dr. Helen Hartle, coordinator of the New York State Teacher Resource Center Program Office, will be on the program at the Thirteenth Annual National Council of States on In-service Education to be held in New Orleans from November 18 - 21 as representative of the New York State Education Department. Their topic, "School Districts, Colleges, Teacher Centers and State Education Department Working Collaboratively to Provide In-service Education in New York State," will be a three-hour cluster session. Each session will deal with identified values with collaboration, reaching consensus on benefits, barriers and strategies for successful collaboration and work characteristics (strategies/leadership styles) for maximizing success.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 17 — THURSDAY, DECEMBER 1
Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the campus and public.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 17

11 am - 2 pm — Tuck-ins! For $1, Phi Eta Sigma will have your favorite friend tucked in and will read him/her a story. Angell Center Lobby.

12:15 pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Gabrielle Tyrnauer, PhD., Concordia University, speaking on "Gypsy Women — Paradox of Power." Sponsored by the Women's Studies Program and College Auxiliary Services. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4 pm — Weekly meeting of the General Education Committee sponsored by the Faculty Senate. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

8 pm — Circle K meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room 3.

8 pm — Investment Association first general interest meeting. Anyone seeking to become a member should attend. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8 pm — Chamber Ensembles sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre and the Music Council Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8 pm — Center for Art, Music and Theatre production, "She Stoops to Conquer" by Oliver Goldsmith. Tickets: S.A. members $1, faculty/staff $3, public $4 and on sale at the Hartman Box Office. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 18

8 am - 4:30 pm — C.H.P. — Health Maintenance Organization sponsored by the Personnel Office. Open to the campus. Angell Center Lobby.

11 am - 2 pm — Tuck-ins! For $1, Phi Eta Sigma will have your favorite friend tucked in and will read him/her a story. Angell Center Lobby.

1 - 2 pm — Acid rain Presentation sponsored by Environmental Action Committee. Open to the campus. Angell Center Ballroom A.

6 pm — Cardinal Basketball Classic. Opening round: Johnson State vs. University of New England. Sponsored by the Pepsi Cola Bottling Co. of Keeseville. Tickets: Adults $3, students $2, Plattsburgh students (with I.D.) $1.50. Memorial Hall.

7 - 9:30 pm — Drop-In Volleyball (men and women) sponsored by the Recreation Office. Open to the campus. Hawkins Hall Gymnasium.

7 - 9 pm — Friday night service and get-together sponsored by Hillel. Angell Center Meeting Room 8.

8 pm — Pepsi Cardinal Basketball Classic. Opening round, game 2: Plattsburgh State vs. Southern Vermont. See 6 pm above for details and ticket information (tickets good for both games).

8 pm — Center for Art, Music and Theatre production, "She Stoops to Conquer." See 8 pm Thursday, Nov. 17 for details.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 19

8:30 am - 3 pm — Writing Across the Curriculum Workshop. Open to members only. Angell Center Orchard Room.

1 pm — Men's and Women's Swimming and Diving vs. St. Michael's College. Memorial Hall.

1 pm — Pepsi Cardinal Basketball Classic. Consolation game. See Friday, 6 pm and 8 pm for details.

3 pm — Pepsi Cardinal Basketball Classic. Championship game.

7:30 pm — Men's Ice Hockey vs. R.I.T. Tickets: S.A. members $1, public $3.50, under 18 $1.50 and on sale at the door. Field House.

8 pm — Plattsburgh Little Theatre presents "Social Security," a comedy by Andrew Bergman. Sponsored by Campus Life. General admission tickets are $4 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballroom.

8 pm — Center for Art, Music and Theatre production, "She Stoops to Conquer." See 8 pm Thursday, Nov. 17 for details.

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 20

6:45 & 9:15 pm — Student Association Film Series presents: "Big." Tickets: S.A. members 50¢, faculty/staff $1 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

8 pm — Plattsburgh Little Theatre presents "Social Security" a comedy by Andrew Bergman. Sponsored by Campus Life. General admission tickets are $4 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballroom.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 21

10 pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 22

11:30 — U.U.P. Executive Board meeting. Members welcome. Angell Center Conference Room.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 26

7:30 pm — Men's Ice Hockey vs. Mercyhurst. Tickets: S.A. members $1, public $3.50, under 18 $1.50 and on sale at the door. Field House.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 28

8:30 pm — Greek Council meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

10 pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 29

11:30 am — U.U.P. Executive Board meeting. Members welcome. Angell Center Conference Room.

4:15 pm — Tuesday Reflections presents Dr. Charles Herod speaking on, "Civil Rights Legislations, Past and Present." Sponsored by the Faculty of Arts and Science. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 30

noon - 5 pm — Nursing Career Day sponsored by Career Life Planning. Hawkins Hall Gymnasium, Room 153.

5:45 pm — Women's Basketball vs. Keuka College. Memorial Hall.

7 pm — Right to Life presentation on Abortion sponsored by Campus Life. Open to the campus. Mason Hall Main Lounge.

7 pm — Club Canada meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7 - 9:30 pm — Drop-In Volleyball (men and women) sponsored by the Recreation Office. Open to the campus. Hawkins Hall Gymnasium.

7:30 pm — Club International meeting. Open to members only. Angell Center Conference Room.

8 pm — Sinfonia, Yenoin Guibbory, Conductor, sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre/Music Council. Hawkins Hall Small Auditorium.

8 pm — Dr. Nicholas Lang Rebolli lectures on Michelangelo and Leonardo da Vinci. Sponsored by the Center for Lifelong Learning. Registration fee is $8 and can be arranged at the Center for Lifelong Learning, Hawkins Hall 106, (ph 2050). Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 1

12:15 pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Susan Fernandez, PhD. speaking on "The Origins and Future of Machismo in Latin America." Sponsored by the Women's Studies Program and College Auxiliary Services. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4 pm — Weekly meeting of the General Education Committee sponsored by the Faculty Senate. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4:30 pm — Improve Your Etiquette IQ: Travel and Hotel Etiquette Program includes tips on tipping, packing, hosting an out-of-town guest and being a gracious out-of-town guest. Sponsored by Hospitality and Nutrition Services and the Marketing Club. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8 pm — Brower Hatcher, Sculptor — Lecture sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre/Art Resources and Campus Arts Council. Angell Center Ballroom.

8 pm — Circle K meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room 3.

NOTES

Do you feel stressed? The Psychological Services Center is running a Stress Management Clinic. Students will be taught on an individual basis to relax and control their tension using relaxation techniques and biofeedback equipment. The clinic services are open to all students and are free of charge. You may phone ahead for an appointment (564-3086) or further information. Walk-ins are welcome. The clinic is located at the Psychological Services Center in the Infirmary. Staff trainers are Patty Perillo and Judy Traynor under the supervision of Dr. Jacquelyn Connelly.

R.A. Applications for 1989-90 positions will be available at the Angell College Center Desk and the deadline is November 30. There are currently no positions available for January. However, candidates who wish to be considered if vacancies occur should submit an application and indicate they wish to be considered for January 1989.

The 7th Annual Campus Life Holiday Talent Show is rapidly approaching — Friday, December 9th. We are looking for participants with a talent and who are willing to perform! Whatever your talent is — we are interested: pantomime, juggling, musical, comedy, magic, poetry, dance. If interested, call Campus Life, 564-3824 to sign up. Open to students, faculty, staff and community.

The New York State Board of Regents offers the Empire State Challenger Scholarships and Fellowships for Teachers for both undergraduate and graduate students. These awards are for amounts up to $3000 ($1375 at SUNY schools — undergraduates) or $4000 (graduates) per year. The Paul Douglas Scholarships for Teachers are awarded to undergraduate students and are up to $5000 per year. These awards are for teachers of: mathematics, bilingual education, children with handicapping conditions, English to speakers of other languages, science, foreign language, and occupational education (including home economics). Graduate programs include: school counselor, school media specialist (including library), and school psychologist. Applications are available in the Financial Aid Office, fourth floor Kehoe. The deadline for application is February 28, 1989.

Attention juniors, seniors, graduate students. The Faculty Women's Organization is offering a $500 scholarship for the Spring 1989 semester. To apply, a student must be attending the college on a full-time basis and have already achieved the junior, senior, or graduate level of study. Furthermore, applicants must have a current g.p.a. of at least a 3.0 as an undergraduate or 3.5 as a graduate student, and have financial need as determined by the Financial Aid Office. The Financial Aid Form, two letters of recommendation, and a formal letter describing career objectives, academic progress to date, and financial need must be submitted together with the application form to the Financial Aid Office no later than December 2, 1988. The scholarship recipient will be determined by December 31, 1988. The basic scholarship application form is available NOW in the campus Financial Aid Office, Kehoe 407.

CURRENT POSITION VACANCIES

Faculty

Anthropology (2) (Visiting Assistant Professor) F/T
Art, Music & Theatre

(Stage Carpenter) — Vita Bank P/T

Art, Music & Theatre — (Technical Director) —
Fall '89 F/T

Arts and Science — Vita Bank P/T

Sociology (Soc. of Law, Constitutions & Prisons)

Women's Studies (Introductory Course)

Center for Lifelong Learning (Adjunct Faculty)
Fall '89 P/T

Communication (2) (Mass Comm. & Public Speaking) —
Fall '89 F/T

Computer Science (2) — Fall '89 F/T

Foreign Languages & Literature (Spanish) — '89 F/T

Mathematics (2) (Dept. Chair-Assoc. Prof/Prof.)
Fall '89 F/T

(Assistant Professor) — Fall '89 F/T

Philosophy — Fall '89 F/T

Professional Studies — Vita Bank P/T

Sociology — Fall '89 F/T

Professional

Senior Counselor (Psych. Services) — Spring '89
F/T Temp.

Staff Assistant (Maintenance & Operations) F/T

Civil Service

Maintenance Assistant F/T Temp.

Laborer (2) F/T Temp.

General Mechanic (Plumber) F/T Temp.

Complete details are available in the Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action.

S.U.N.Y./Plattsburgh is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS is compiled by the Office of Campus Life and published by the Office of College Relations and Development. Items to be listed in THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS must be received in the Office of Campus Life no later than noon on Thursday the week prior to publication.

ACT Survey: Students Here Satisfied With College and Services

SUNY Plattsburgh students are very satisfied with the college and its services, according to Dr. Thomas Moran, assistant vice president for academic affairs. Moran based his comment on the outcome of an ACT Student Opinion Survey conducted last spring on this campus, as well as at 46 other SUNY institutions and a total of 215 public and private colleges in 42 states.

Michael Valiga, director of survey services for ACT, wrote in a letter to Moran, "In general, your respondents were much more satisfied with most of the services provided by and characteristics of their college than were respondents from other SUNY Colleges of Arts and Science and other four-year colleges."

This was the third time that Plattsburgh students have participated in the survey, but the outcome represents the best comparison with other SUNY institutions because of the number of units participating. "What's most important about these results," Moran said, "is that they corroborate our earlier studies. The very high degree of satisfaction reflected here confirms that there is a real stability to those impressions over time." The earlier surveys were conducted in 1985 and 1987.

Of the 47 SUNY institutions participating, 25 were four-year units, including university centers, colleges of arts and science, colleges of technology, health science centers and specialized colleges.

Plattsburgh students ranked this college as tops among the 25 units (and significantly above the national average) in four areas:

- accuracy of college information received before enrolling,
- availability of advisor,
- college catalog/admissions publications, and
- campus media.

The college was ranked above the other 10 arts and science colleges (and well above the national average) in the following categories:

- concern for the student as an individual,
- attitude of the non-teaching staff,
- racial harmony,
- opportunities for student employment,
- cultural programs,
- college orientation program,
- honors programs,
- variety of courses offered,
- value of information provided by advisor,
- preparation for future occupation,
- college admissions procedures,
- availability of financial aid information before enrolling,
- purposes for which activity fees are used,
- academic advising services,
- financial aid services,
- student employment services, and
- college transit services.

Plattsburgh students rated their college in the top five units in numerous other categories. Only two items on the survey received significantly lower responses from Plattsburgh students — parking facilities and services, and the college's academic calendar.

The data is currently being studied and further information will be available in the near future.

All-American Kane Earns SUNY Conference Top Athlete Award

The laurels keep piling up for Kathy Kane, the senior cross country and track standout from Elmira.

Two weekends ago, at the NCAA Division III cross country championships in St. Louis, Kane finished 12th in a field of 133 runners to become the first woman athlete in SUNY Plattsburgh history to earn All-America honors in any sport (the top 25 competitors at St. Louis qualified for All-America recognition). This week, she was selected as the State University of New York Athletic Conference woman athlete of the year for 1987-88. The award is presented to the junior or senior student who has the best combination of academic and athletic ability in the conference.

"The type of recognition that Kathy has earned enhances the Division III philosophy and the way our program is viewed throughout the nation," said Brett Hull, head coach of cross country and track at the college. "We're all very proud of her and the leader-

(Continued on page 3)

University of Kentucky Press Publishes Henning Book on Beckett

The University Press of Kentucky has published "Beckett's Critical Complicity: Carnival, Contestation and Tradition," a 230-page book by SUNY Plattsburgh's Dr. Sylvie Debevec Henning that won the Midwest Modern Language Association Book Award for 1987.

Henning is associate professor of French in the college's Department of Foreign Language and Literature.

According to the publisher, "... Henning's award-winning study reveals an important countertendency (in Beckett's work). In examining Beckett's art and literary criticism, his novel Murphy, his plays Krapp's Last Tape and Endgame, his only film venture, and the late story The Lost Ones, she shows that through a variety of double-voiced techniques — irony, parody, and satire — Beckett also brings a powerful critical light to bear upon our culture's repeated attempts to reduce or eliminate the more problematic aspects of existence and even mocks our desire to do so."

The publisher continues, "(Beckett's) disquieting and occasionally uproarious interweaving of contradictory perspectives — somber and carnivalized, established and contestatory — suggests that suffering and anguish are fundamental to life, while it affirms their relations to playful laughter and creative vigor within a richer, if less settled, cultural context. Drawing upon the work of Nietzsche, Heidegger, Foucault, Derrida, and particularly Bakhtin, Henning argues that Beckett's profound critique of the Western intellectual tradition does not necessarily entail the loss of all positive values and beliefs. On the contrary, his use of carnivalesque and dialogized modes signals a revitalizing capacity that has not been fully appreciated."

Henning joined the SUNY Plattsburgh faculty in 1985 following eight years of teaching at the University of Rochester. She is the author, also, of the monograph Genet's Ritual Play, of numerous articles, reviews and scholarly papers. In the spring of 1987 she won the Distinguished Faculty Award presented by the college's chapter of Phi Eta Sigma, the national academic honorary society for freshmen. The award recognizes the person who, in the past year, "... has contributed the most to the academic success of freshmen, who was the most effective teacher of freshmen and who showed the greatest concern for the academic welfare of freshmen."

Dr. Sylvie Debevec Henning (2nd from left) with students.

Smoking Forum Scheduled

A second all-college forum on the proposed smoking policy for the campus will be held next Wednesday (Dec. 7) from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the Blue Room of the Angell College Center. President Charles O. Warren and Dr. J. Stallard Waterhouse, professor of biology and chair of the labor/management committee that developed the preliminary smoking policy proposal, will be present to answer questions and discuss the issue in depth.

President Warren has announced that a campus-wide smoking policy will be implemented prior to the beginning of the 1989 spring semester. Copies of the labor/management report that is the basis for the proposed policy are available in the President's Office.

Art Educator of the Year

WEEKLY salutes Lendall "Bud" Haskell, associate professor in the Center for Teacher Education and Educational Services, who was cited recently by Section 5 of the New York State Art Teacher's Association as "Art Educator of the Year." The award, which honors leadership, recognizes Haskell's service as chairperson of the association section (comprising Clinton, Essex and Franklin Counties) for the past 31 years — a post he recently vacated. Haskell has been a member of the SUNY Plattsburgh education faculty since 1960. Besides the state organization, he has been a member of the National Art Association since 1957. He is the author of the book, "Art in the Early Childhood Years," published in 1979 by Charles Merrill Publications of Columbus, OH.

'Conversation' to Focus on New Vitality in General Education

Faculty are invited to participate in a "conversation" on "A New Vitality in General Education" scheduled for 2 p.m. on Friday (Dec. 2) in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

The program, said its organizer, Dr. Ingrun Lafleur, associate vice president for academic affairs, is designed for faculty here who have questions, problems or concerns about the college's new general education curriculum, particularly its emphases on active learning and scholarship on women, and who would enjoy the opportunity to exchange ideas about content, assignments and course design in the curriculum's skills, distributive and perspectives category. Lafleur encourages faculty to bring to the program their ideas about teaching and learning and about the "common knowledge" all students should have.

The conversation will begin with opening remarks by Dr. Nancy Hoffman of the University of Massachusetts at Boston, who is currently the assistant dean of the Graduate School of Education at Harvard University. Hoffman, one of the authors of the Association of American Colleges' "A New Vitality in General Education," the most recent national report on the subject, will briefly examine some of the report's main emphases. She will then ask Plattsburgh faculty to test their perspectives and experiences against those in the report, and invite them to share ideas on the progress of their work at the college with respect to the new general education curriculum and the Freshman Mentor Program.

Santora, Weinstein Vie for SA Presidency; SASU Up for Vote

Tuesday, December 6 is Election Day on campus and students will not only vote for senators and executive board members, but will determine whether Plattsburgh will continue as a member of the Student Association of the State University (SASU). The SASU question has been a major and controversial issue among students since the Board of Evaluations of Existing Organizations issued a report critical of the organization. Plattsburgh has been a member of SASU since 1979.

The actual referendum has several parts. A "No" vote means Plattsburgh should remain a member of SASU. A "Yes" vote supports four items: the creation of a vice president of central affairs, the withdrawal of Plattsburgh from SASU, a requirement of approval by the Senate and a referendum vote in order to join SASU or a similar group in future years, and the non-payment of SASU dues for this year.

Running for SA President this year are Michael Santora, the current vice president for activities, and Jack Weinstein, the current SASU delegate. David Hellman and Bill Sherman are vying for the post of executive vice president. Other offices and candidates include: vice president for finances — Joe Johnston (uncontested); vice president for activities — Hezron Gurley (uncontested); vice president for services — Sage Doolittle (uncontested); vice president for academics — Deborah Hoffman and Michael Jette; vice president for the arts — Paul Sotille (uncontested); and vice president for athletics (a newly created position) — John Alden, Edward Lenane and Ron Messera. Doug McManus is unopposed for chief justice, Eileen McShane is unopposed for SASU delegate. Julianna Bilello, Mark Dennis, Richard Krissel and Paul Nichols are running for associate justice positions. Fifteen Senate seats will be filled from the following 25 candidates: Irene Alderisio, "Clockwork" Bailey, Shaun Cooper, Sheri-Ann Cowie, Timothy Darcy, Rich Fortunato, Lara Froehlich, Stefanie Ibanez, Kelly Gates, Sari Gordon, James LaRose, Rob Lattarulo, Rebecca Liberman, Benjamin Leonard, Leif Loheide, Scott Longendyke, Larry Magner, Stephen Mendel, Brian Olson, Mike Roy, Sonya Stanley, Lynne Tighe, Gregg Turek, Mark VanSchaick and Gina Vecchiarello.

Kane Earns More Laurels (Continued from page 1)

ship she has demonstrated by example."

What Hull didn't say, however, is that his star runner has another chance to pick up still a second All-America certificate before she graduates in May. Last spring she qualified for the nationals in track in both the 1,500-meter and 3,000-meter events and elected to compete in the former, finishing ninth to miss All-America honors by .001 seconds. Barring injury, she should have a solid chance to become the first Plattsburgh State athlete, male or female, to earn All-America recognition in two sports — and in the same academic year.

An accounting major with a 3.83 cumulative grade-point average going into the current academic year, Kane is a Cardinal record-holder in three indoor and one outdoor track events. Elected to the SUNYAC

Cross Country Hall of Fame as a sophomore, she was the recipient last year of both the New York State Women's Collegiate Athletic Association's Athlete of the Year Award and the GTE/College Sports Information Directors of America's Scholar-Athlete Award.

Academically, Kane is a Presidential Scholar; a member of Phi Eta Sigma, the honor society for freshmen; president of Omicron Delta Epsilon, the economics honorary society; Student Association vice president for academic affairs; and a member of the SUNY Plattsburgh All-Academic Team for 1987-88. In campus service and leadership endeavors, she is a resident assistant, a campus tour guide, a former Student Association senator, cross country captain, and a member of Delta Phi Epsilon Sorority.

Cards Stop Mercyhurst, 6-3; Meet Oswego, Geneseo This Weekend

The Plattsburgh State hockey team improved its record to 6-3 on the season with a 6-3 victory over Mercyhurst College on Saturday. With the game tied at 3-3 after two periods, the Cardinals ripped the nets three times in the third as Bobby Hayden tallied a short-handed, unassisted goal for the game winner and Shane Ferras potted two to put the contest out of reach for the visiting Lakers.

Coach Steve Hoar's skaters, 3-0 in SUNY Conference play, face their severest test of the young season against league competition in road games this weekend versus arch-rival Oswego (Friday) and Geneseo (Saturday).

SPOTLIGHT

Dr. William A. Ahroon, senior research associate in the college's Auditory Research Laboratory, presented a poster at the 116th meeting of The Acoustical Society of America held in Honolulu, Hawaii on November 14-18. The poster, titled "Effects of high-level impulse noise intensity, number and rate on hearing," was co-authored by Dr. Roger P. Hamernik, professor in the hearing and speech science and physics departments. . . Dr. Melvin W. Donaho, professor of communication was the guest speaker at a recent "Hospitality Lecture Series" for more than 400 students and faculty held at Paul Smith's College. His topic was "Motivating Employees." Also, Donaho and Communication Professor Dr. John L. Meyer conducted a November 22 "Resume Revision Workshop" for the college's chapter of the Society for Advancement of Management. . . Student Senators Dennis Dufrense and Craig Chippendale, and Ed Engelbride, assistant director of campus life — special programs, attended the recent New York State Conference of Mayors, held in White Plains, where they provided insight into "improving college community relations for other colleges and municipalities." . . Robert Hall, lecturer in the Center for Art, Music and Theatre, recently attended a conference at Wilfrid Laurier University in Waterloo, Ontario on "CPE Bach: His Music and His Influence." Hall presented a paper entitled "The Anomalous Litanies of CPE Bach" which was accompanied by a performance, under his direction, of one of the Litanies by the Laurier Singers. . . Suzanne Sokolowski, director of financial aid, was guest presenter at two recent workshops on financing a college education sponsored by the college's Center for Lifelong Learning. She also was a participant in a panel discussion on "Alternate Methods of College Financing" held recently in Albany under sponsorship of the SUNY Bursars Association.

The men's and women's basketball teams, idle last week, return to action with encounters tonight and Saturday against two of SUNYAC's leading contenders. The Cardinals meet Potsdam's Bears today at Potsdam, with the women's game scheduled for 5:45 p.m. and the men at 8 p.m. Both teams return home Saturday to entertain Brockport at 2 and 4 p.m., respectively.

The men's and women's swimming and diving teams travel to Norwich for a meet on Saturday.

ADAC Schedules Speaker, Open House Program for Monday

"Models of Longterm Care" is the topic for discussion in the next Alzheimer's Disease Assistance Center (ADAC) Nexus Speakers Series presentation scheduled for Monday (Dec. 5) from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in the Angell Center ballroom. Dr. Raymond Vickers, project director at the Oxford Gerontology Center, will make the presentation.

Also, the Center will hold an open house program from 2 to 4:30 p.m. on Monday at its headquarters in Room 227 of Sibley Hall. Dr. Taher Zandi, director of ADAC, will be available to describe the Center's function and answer questions. Both the Nexus presentation and the open house event are free of charge and open to the public. Additional information may be obtained from Center staff at 564-3377.

Cardinal Singers and Chorale in Concert at St. John's Church

SUNY Plattsburgh's Cardinal Singers and its College Chorale will join voices to present a Christmas concert next Wednesday (Dec. 7) at 8 p.m. at St. John's Church, Broad and Oak Streets in Plattsburgh. The program will feature English music of the holiday season.

According to Robert Hall, lecturer in the Center for Art, Music and Theatre and director of both groups, several sing-along carols have been planned to encourage audience participation. Guest artist for the concert will be baritone Paul Kibler, who will perform with the choral groups in the Gerald Finzi work, And On Earth Peace.

Admission to the concert is free, and all are welcome to attend. It is being presented under auspices of the Center for Art, Music and Theatre and the Campus Arts Council.

Survey Results: '88 Freshmen Confident of Academic Success

SUNY Plattsburgh's freshmen come from reasonably affluent and well-educated families, and they are confident they will survive their first year here in spite of the likelihood they will face stiff challenges intellectually.

These are some of the conclusions that can be drawn from a "Summary of 1988 Freshmen Survey Data" compiled by the college's Office of Institutional Research. They are based on results gleaned from 841 freshman surveys collected during orientation last summer. The number represents 80.8 percent of the 1,041 new freshmen who enrolled here in the fall.

A "demographic" summary points out that 69 percent of the fathers and 64 percent of the mothers of the college's freshmen have an educational level past high school. Eighteen percent have other family members who attended SUNY Plattsburgh, while five percent reported that one or both parents attended the college. The joint gross family income exceeds $40,000 annually in 60 percent of the freshmen homes, and 57 percent of their mothers work full-time while 23 percent are employed part-time.

Sixty-six percent of the freshmen say they will pursue a master's or higher degree; 59 percent are sure or very sure of their choice of a major (22% are undeclared); and 63 percent come from communities with populations under 20,000. Ninety-six percent say they are likely to make it through the first year at Plattsburgh; 77 percent believe they will graduate from the college; and 73 percent expect to earn at least a B average.

Compared to last year's freshmen, the 1988 freshmen say they are likely to be challenged by instructors and peers. Seventy-eight percent say it is very likely they will be challenged intellectually by their professors.

Other parts of the survey asked freshmen about their decisions to come to Plattsburgh, perceptions of institutional strengths and weaknesses and other colleges they considered attending. The most influential factors in their decision to come to this college are distance from home, friendliness and favorable costs. Academic programs, the college's friendly atmosphere and people and its locations rank as the institution's greatest strengths. However, "location" shows up also as its principal weakness, with "weather" in second place.

More than 220 of the survey respondents reported they considered attending private institutions, the majority of them located in New York State. Another 377 said they looked at other SUNY schools, with Oswego heading the list with 58 responses.

Foundation Allots Record $399,639 for Student Aid Program

Before academic 1988-89 ends in May, the Plattsburgh College Foundation will mark a record year in dollars provided for financial aid for SUNY Plattsburgh students.

According to a recent report to the Foundation's Board of Directors, the campus-based philanthropic organization has allocated $399,639 in support of the college's financial aid program for the current academic year. More than 750 undergraduates — also a record high — qualified for the awards on the basis of financial need, superior scholarship or a combination of the two.

"The total represents an increase of more than $107,500 in the amount we were able to provide in scholarship and grant money a year ago," commented Don Garrant, assistant to the president for college relations and development, and executive director of the Foundation. "Moreover," he added, "we've helped roughly 750 students get through 1988-89 financially, with the average award at about $530, and both figures are substantially higher than in any previous year."

The scholarship and grant program is dependent upon the outcome of the Foundation's comprehensive fund-raising effort, primarily its annual giving campaign among alumni, faculty and staff, community friends, businesses, organizations and other foundations. Virtually all awards are administered through the college's Financial Aid Office.

Suzanne Sokolowski, the college's director of financial aid, acknowledged the importance of the Foundation. "Many students wouldn't be here if we couldn't provide this extra financial help," she said. "I realize that we're a leader in the University in this regard, but it's plain fact that we could double the allocation and still not meet all the need."

Tracy Publishes Book on History of Private Academy in Maine

Dr. Ann Tracy, professor of English, is the author of a newly published book, Higher Ground: A Memoir of Higgins Classical Institute. The book, published by Down East Books, is a social history of Higgins, a "local, private academy in northern Maine."

Tracy was well qualified to write the history of the school, since her father, William Tracy, served as its principal longer than anyone and she was herself a Higgins graduate. John J. Pullen, author of The Twentieth Maine, describes the book. "(Tracy's) memories, combined with those of more than 200 other alumni, give us a comprehensive picture of the school from its founding in 1891 to its last days in 1975, when educational changes mandated by Maine law made its demise unavoidable. If you attended Higgins — or Ricker or Coburn, the other Maine 'classical institutes' so similar to Higgins — you'll relive some of your happiest days in this book. As educational and cultural history, it has even wider dimensions, for in many ways, Higgins was a microcosm of America growing up in the 20th century."

Robert Strider, president emeritus of Colby College, wrote, "The style is smooth and graceful, sharpened by a highly original wit, enlivened but never burdened by a wide range of literary allusion." Jay Macpherson of Victoria University called Higher Ground "a most attractive account — personal, humorous and convincing," and its author "a very skillful writer."

Tracy joined the Plattsburgh faculty in 1970 as an instructor in the English department and has been promoted through the ranks to professor. She has chaired the department, served as a member of the Faculty Senate, and been a member of various other campus committees.

Tracy is also the author of The Gothic Novel, 1790-1830 (University Press of Kentucky), and of several journal articles on gothic and supernatural fiction. She has completed two novels that are currently under consideration for publication, and has co-authored, with Patricia Hoffman, a play and two writing-across-the-curriculum texts.

Tracy has a bachelor's degree from Colby College, a master's degree from Brown University and a Ph.D. from the University of Toronto.

Campus SEFA Campaign Surpasses Goal; 345 Make Contributions

The campus drive in support of the State Employees Federated Appeal (SEFA) has exceeded its goal for the year, but there is still time to push the total even higher.

According to Clara LaRose, senior account clerk in telecommunications who is serving as "loaned executive" for the 1989 campaign, contributions to date from college employees total $26,971.78. "We set the goal at $26,000, which was ambitious since donations from the college community totaled less than $22,500 a year ago," said LaRose. "The 19 percent increase is the direct result of tremendous cooperation of our team of volunteer solicitors."

LaRose said that 345 SUNY Plattsburgh employees had turned in pledge cards or cash contributions as of the first part of this week, with 265 electing to use payroll deduction as the method of giving. "We believe that there are many others who intended to participate but who have simply forgotten about the drive. If they will contact me (7975), I'll be happy to send them another pledge card. Payroll deduction for this campaign doesn't begin until the first pay period in 1989."

LaRose couldn't say how much of the total in contributions has been designated for local agencies, including those under the United Way umbrella, but she expects it will equal or surpass last year's 85 percent figure. "We received some gifts that have no designation whatsoever. These monies will be distributed by committee unless the contributors call to let me know which agencies they prefer to support."

SEFA is the only authorized fund-raising campaign among state employees.

Poem by College Senior Segriff Wins Top Prize Nationally

Senior Joseph Segriff has been notified that his poem, "You Are the Snowman," has won first prize in the National Collegiate Poetry competition.

Segriff's poem was chosen, according to Dr. Val Churillo, from among thousands of manuscripts entered from every state in the nation. The poem will be published in the semiannual anthology American Collegiate Poets, a collection of the best contemporary poetry written by college men and women in America.

Segriff, an English/anthropology major, has published four chapbooks of his poetry, the latest of which is entitled "Strange Vignettes of Hometown Scenes." His poetry has also appeared in a number of small press publications and he has given several readings at the Campus Poets Series.

Forty-seven students, Buncab Inducted to Omicron Delta Kappa

Forty-seven students and one faculty member were inducted into the campus chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa, the national leadership honor society, on December 3.

Faculty secretary Cheryl Hogle said that membership in ODK is granted primarily to junior and senior students based on exemplary character, responsible leadership, service in campus life and outstanding scholarship. The students inducted in the most recent ceremony have a mean grade point average of 3.39.

Dr. Caridad Buncab, associate professor in the nursing department, was the sole faculty member inducted this year. New student members, their major fields of study and hometowns are:

Gina Abbruzzi, biology, Plattsburgh; Amy F. Altobelli, art/theatre, Patchogue; Stephanie K. Beigel, chemical engineering, Albany; Cassandra D. Belair, biochemistry, Allegany; Mark David Boudreau, anthropology/French, Plattsburgh; David Brousseau, computer science, Albany; Raymond J. Cavallo, communication arts, Mahopac; Michael B. Cornell, business/marketing, Rochester; Carolyn Cross, psychology, Slingerlands; Richard A. Davino, communication arts, Sea Cliff; Kevin Michael Days, history, Old Chatham; Julie Dobert, accounting, Rensselaer; Denis Dufresne, international business, Glens Falls; and Bonnie M. Galinski, communication arts, Clinton.

Also, Aaron Glascock, computer science/mathematics, Mooers Forks; Aimee C. Gomlak, international business, Buffalo; Ann Marie Greco, speech and hearing education, Carmel; Hezron A. Gurley, business/management, Brooklyn; Melissa Hammond, nursing, Flushing; Carol Ann Harrington, psychology, Gouverneur; Joseph E. Johnston, business/administration, Kings Park; Mary A. King, counseling, Norfolk; Anne M. Kohler, special education, Franklin Square; Patricia M. Landry, counseling, Clifton Park; Lorna R. Liganor, nursing, Montreal, Canada; Mark J. Migliaccio, political science, New Windsor; and Patricia C. Millar, business/management, Hamburg.

Also, James K. Miller, chemistry, Norwich; Matthew J. Moore, special education, Waterford;

Council to Meet December 16

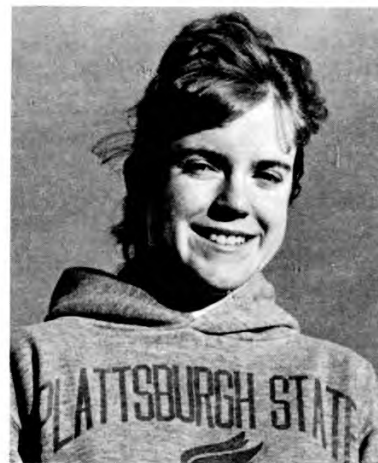

The next regular meeting of the Plattsburgh College Council will be held at 11 a.m. on Friday, December 16 in the sixth floor boardroom of the Kehoe Administration Building.

Agenda items will include the appointment of community members to the Plattsburgh College Foundation, appointment of a College Council member to serve on the Foundation Board of Directors, the college's smoking policy, and endorsement of the Cooperative Education Administrative Project.

Lynn Marie Morris, nursing, Bay Shore; Kimmarie A. Murphy, anthropology, Central Square; Paul L. Nichols, business/management, Voorheesville; Tina M. Nicholson, special education, Glens Falls; Christine Ann Poupore, counseling, Plattsburgh; Mary J. Procopio, music/special education, Chadwicks; Michael Robbins, chemistry, Plattsburgh; Judith A. Serth, chemistry/studio art, New Hartford; Christopher T. Sperl, special education, Shoreham; Raymond W. Stalter, Jr., history/political science, Mechanicville; Cheryl A. Straut, secondary education mathematics, Glens Falls; Dale M. Tuczinski, counseling, Chatham; Scott W. Tuller, educational administration, Peru; Marc Turenne, psychology, Beacon; Lori Kristine VanAllen, elementary education/English, Massapequa Park; David M. VanSlyke, economics, Beacon; Eileen F. Willauer, elementary education, Plattsburgh; and Lorraine M. Woytowich, Spanish/business, Malone.

The Plattsburgh chapter of ODK was founded in 1981 and remains the only chapter in the SUNY system. The latest induction brought the membership to 467 students, faculty, staff and alumni. Additionally, nine persons hold honoris causa membership.

ODK Leader of the Year

WEEKLY salutes Kathy Kane, who was selected last week as Omicron Delta Kappa's Leader of the Year. Kane, a senior accounting major, is a cross-country All-American, SUNYAC Scholar Athlete of the Year, a Presidential Scholar, a member of the SUNYAC Cross Country Hall of Fame, last year's New York State Women's Collegiate Athletic Association's Scholar Athlete, and winner of the 1987-88 GTE/College Sports Information Directors of America Scholar Athlete Award. She will now represent Plattsburgh in the Province I Leader of the Year competition. Province I includes 23 circles in six states and the District of Columbia.

Card Cagers Improve Records; Kane Qualifies for Nationals

The men's and women's basketball teams showed signs of turning things around last weekend with impressive victories at home. The Cardinal men, soundly thrashed on Wednesday by arch-rival Potsdam State and plagued by poor shooting in their last two outings, rebounded Saturday with a solid 108-88 triumph over SUNYAC foe Brockport State. Sophomore Mark Cassier led the Cardinal scoring parade against the Eagles with 24 points, and freshman Todd Wright chipped in with 23 markers.

The Plattsburgh State women, beaten at the buzzer from three-point range at Potsdam on Wednesday, won their first game of the season Saturday, 61-51 over Brockport. T.J. Cornwhight, who scored 21 points and grabbed 10 rebounds against Potsdam, led all scorers in Saturday's contest with 19.

In hockey, the Cardinals split a pair of conference games on the road over the weekend, losing to Oswego State 6-3 on Friday but winning at Geneseo the following night by a 6-4 margin. Freshman Colin Hahnfeld scored a goal and assisted on three others against the Ice Knights and goalie Craig Barnett turned aside 47 shots on the Cardinal net.

SPOTLIGHT

Dr. J. Justin Gustainis, associate professor of communication, presented three papers at the recent annual meeting of the Speech Communication Association, held in New Orleans: "There He Goes Again: Ronald Reagan's Use of Humor in Debates Against Carter and Mondale," "Gary Hart Has Risen From the Grave: Responses to the Donna Rice Affair," and "Waist Deep in the Big Muddy: Rhetorical Dimensions of the Tet Offensive." At the convention, he was elected Chairperson of the Task Force on Presidential Communication. . . Dr. Phil Reines, associate professor of communication, has accepted an invitation from the Association of Canadian Studies in Ireland to present his paper "The Message of Quebec Cinema" at its annual conference in Galway, May 10 - 13, 1988. Dr. Reines is also a CESCA Associate of the Center for the Study of Canada. . . Two members of the psychology faculty are authors of book reviews. Dr. Lawrence Shaffer, associate professor, wrote "Achievers and Deceivers," a review of An Urchin in the Storm: Essays about Books and Ideas by S. Gould, and "Dominant Ideas," a review of Almost Human: A Journey into the World of Baboons by S. Strum, both of which appeared in the London Times Literary Supplement, and Dr. Noel Smith, professor, reviewed From AI to Zeitgeist: A Philosophical Guide for the Skeptical Psychologist by N.H. Pronko for the Psychological Record. Smith also referred an article for that publication.

Senior Kathy Kane continues her assault on the Plattsburgh State track record book. During Saturday's season-opening Vermont Invitational Christmas Tournament, Kane won the 1500-meter run in 4:39.8 to break her own record in the event by nearly three seconds. Her performance qualifies her for the SUNYAC, ECAC, NYSWCAA and NCAA indoor championships and for the NCAA outdoor championships next May. Besides Kane, Plattsburgh State qualifiers included Rhonda Rhumel and Zadine Richardson (ECAC and SUNYAC championships), who finished third and fourth, respectively, in the 50-meter run; Desiree Peart (ECAC, SUNYAC and NYSWCAA championships), whose shotput toss of 35'6" was good enough for second place in the meet; and Farole Northrup, whose shotput throw of 33'7" placed her in the conference championship picture.

The top men's track performer at Vermont was Matt Nephew, who took second place in the 800-meter event with a time of 2:04.1. Pat Clear finished third behind Nephew.

The women's swimming and diving team won a triangular meet at Norwich on Saturday, drubbing both the host Cadets, 88-23, and St. Rose, 67-46. Lynn Schultz and Kelly Kreuzer both won three events, with Schultz setting a new Norwich pool record in the breaststroke with a time of 1:12.53.

The Cardinal men fared poorly in their dual meet at Norwich, losing 129-99, but Art Lamarche was outstanding in defeat with first place finishes in both the 100 and 200 freestyle events. LaMarche also swam a leg for the winning 200-year freestyle relay team.

College Functions in Spotlight in Two National Magazines

SUNY Plattsburgh has been featured prominently recently in two national magazines.

"Cooperative Education — Bridging the Gap" is the title of the lead article in the fall issue of College Outlook & Career Opportunities, a biannual publication targeted for high school seniors and transfer students. The article by-line belongs to Dr. Ann C. Hasting, associate vice president for student affairs here.

"The Convenience of Snack Foods" is the title of an article about the college's mini-store in Saranac Hall that appears in the October issue of the bi-weekly trade journal, College Store Executive. The mini-store (located in Saranac Hall adjacent to the College Store) concept was developed on this campus and is operated by College Auxiliary Services.

Budget Bulletin

Plattsburgh President Charles O. Warren issued the following statement this morning relative to the college's current budget situation.

"The State University of New York College at Plattsburgh learned yesterday that it must absorb an additional 1988-89 budget reduction of $65,700 in response to the most recent projection of a state-wide revenue shortfall. This brings the college's total budget reduction for this year to more than $731,000. The adjustment will result in the cancellation of plans to purchase greatly needed instructional supplies, academic equipment and maintenance supplies and equipment. Due to a carefully managed reserve fund, however, we are pleased to announce that personnel reductions will not be necessary.

SUNY Chancellor D. Bruce Johnstone also announced that the University-wide reduction this time around totals $6.2 million, bringing the total adjustment for the year to $16.8 million. He further indicated that the freeze on hiring and purchasing he initiated approximately three weeks ago will be lifted, effective December 8, 1988."

this week on campus

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 8 — THURSDAY, DECEMBER 15

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the campus and public.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 8

4 pm — Weekly meeting of the General Education Committee sponsored by the Faculty Senate. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4 pm — Holiday Sing-a-long sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre/Music Council and Campus Arts Council. Myers Fine Arts Lobby.

8 pm — Circle K meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room 3.

8 pm — Slide show and talk on "Nocturnal and Diurnal Raptors" (Adirondack predatory birds) by Mr. Ed Gardephe, Department of Environmental Conservation's Senior Wildlife Biologist. Sponsored by Adirondack Experience Club. Open to the campus and public, no charge. Yokum 206.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 9

7 - 9:30 pm — Drop-In Volleyball (men and women) sponsored by the Recreation Office. Open to the campus. Hawkins Hall Gymnasium.

7 pm — Intervarsity Christian Fellowship meeting. Open to the campus and public. Angell Center Conference Room.

7:30 pm — Men's Ice Hockey vs. Binghamton. Open to the campus and public. Tickets: S.A. members $1, public $3.50, under 18 $1.50 and on sale at the door. Field House.

8 pm — Annual Campus Life Holiday Talent Show. Open to the campus and public. General admission tickets are 50¢ and on sale at the Angell Center Desk and at the door. Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

8 pm — Greek Christmas Party sponsored by the Greek Council. Student tickets are $7.95 with meal card, $9.95 without meal card and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Open to members only. Angell Center Ballroom.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 10

7:30 pm — Men's Ice Hockey vs. North Adams State. Open to the campus and public. Tickets: S.A. members $1, public $3.50, under 18 $1.50 and on sale at the door. Field House.

10 pm — KWANZA Dance sponsored by AKEBA. Open to the campus and public. Tickets: S.A. members $1, public $2 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballroom.

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 11

6:45 & 9:15 pm — Student Association Film Series presents: "The Presidio." Open to the campus. Tickets: S.A. members 50¢, faculty/staff $1 and on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 12

10 pm — Student Association Senate meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 13

11:30 am — U.U.P. Executive Board meeting. Members welcome. Angell Center Conference Room.

4:15 pm — Tuesday Reflections sponsored by the Faculty of Arts and Science. Open to the campus and public, no charge. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 14

7 pm — Club Canada meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

7 pm — Drop-In Volleyball (men and women) sponsored by the Recreation Office. Open to the campus. Hawkins Hall Gymnasium.

7:30 - 9:30 pm — Desire a special summer in New York State campgrounds? The New York State Department of Conservation in cooperation with the Field Based Learning Center, Cooperative Education (SUCP) announces both staffing and internships for the 1988 summer. This summer recreation program provides an ideal learning, fun experience working with the general public in campgrounds. Be sure to attend this meeting for information and to sign up. All staffing will be completed by February 15 and Internships by March 1, 1988. A slide presentation, discussions with former interns and staff and materials will be distributed. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 15

4 pm — Weekly meeting of the General Education Committee sponsored by the Faculty Senate. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

8 pm — Circle K meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room 3.

NOTES

Orientation Leader Applications for Parent and Student Orientation Leader positions for summer 1989 are now available at the Angell Center Desk. The deadline is January 25. R.A.s and Directors are encouraged to apply!

The 7th Annual Campus Life Holiday Talent Show is rapidly approaching — Friday, December 9th. We are looking for participants with a talent and who are willing to perform! Whatever your talent is — we are interested: pantomime, juggling, musical, comedy, magic, poetry, dance. If interested, call Campus Life, 564-3824 to sign up. Open to students, faculty, staff and community.

CURRENT POSITION VACANCIES

Faculty

Anthropology (2) (Visiting Assistant Professor) F/T
Art, Music & Theatre

(Stage Carpenter) — Vita Bank P/T

Art, Music & Theatre — (Technical Director) —
Fall '89 F/T

Art, Music & Theatre — Fall '89 P/T

Arts and Science — Vita Bank P/T

Biology — Fall '89 P/T

Center for Lifelong Learning (Adjunct Faculty) —
Fall '89 P/T

Communication (2) (Mass Comm. & Public Speaking) —
Fall '89 F/T

Computer Science (2) — Fall '89 F/T

English — Fall '89 P/T

Foreign Languages & Literature (Spanish) —
Fall '89 F/T

Mathematics (2) (Dept. Chair-Assoc. Prof./Prof.) —
Fall '89 F/T

(Assistant Professor) — Fall '89 F/T

Philosophy — Fall '89 F/T

Professional Studies — Vita Bank P/T

Sociology — Fall '89 F/T

Complete details are available in the Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action.

S.U.N.Y./Plattsburgh is an Equal Opportunity Employer. It is the policy of this College to provide equal opportunity in employment for all qualified persons without regard to race, color, national origin, age, sex, handicap, or veteran status.

Weekly

Special Collections
Feinberg Lib., PSUC
Does Not Circulate

Published by the Office of College Relations and Development for the Plattsburgh College Community • December 14, 1988

About 400 Eligible for December Graduation; Lundine to Speak

Approximately 400 students are eligible to receive bachelor's or master's degrees or certificates of advanced study during the annual Winter Commencement ceremony scheduled for 2 p.m. on Friday, December 16. Because of the increasing number of students participating in the winter ceremony, this year's commencement will be held in the Field House.

Lt. Governor Stan Lundine will deliver the commencement address. Lundine, a former member of Congress from the Southern Tier, was elected to his current post in 1986.

Six students will receive their degrees summa cum laude, having earned a grade point average of 3.9 - 4.0. They are: Roberta Rouleau DeShaw, individualized studies, Huntington, Quebec; Karen Glushko, behavioral science, Peru; Cindy Hoff, psychology, Ellenburg Center; Robert Lavoie, secondary education, Ellenburg Center; Sue McCarthy, accounting, Fredonia, PA; and Stacy Scardefield, food and nutrition, New Hamburg.

Thirteen students have earned grade point averages between 3.7 and 3.89 and will receive their degrees magna cum laude. They are: Spelman Beaubrun, music, Queens; Ann Bishop, elementary education, Glens Falls; Mariette Dupras, special education, Saranac; Ellen Dwyer, special education, Rensselaer; Leslie Fredette, computer science, Plattsburgh; Margaret Kells, English, Keeseville; Julie Lamy, home economics education, Saranac Lake; Diane Bidwell Lorente, human services, Bloomingdale; Marilyn Meeks, accounting, Newfane; Pamela Pearson, secondary education, Minerva, OH; Joseph Quinlan, criminal justice, Granville; Penny Schnee, elementary education, Massapequa; and Cedric Schoot, secondary education, Plattsburgh.

Graduating cum laude (with grade point averages between 3.4 and 3.69 are: Lynne Barbell, sociology, Lyon Mountain; Carole Davies, special education, Cortland; Bonnie Derby, accounting, Hudson Falls; Tamara Sutin Duniho, sociology, West Chazy; Judith Guilbo, mathematics, Willsboro; Christina Hansen, geography, Springvale, ME; Martha Hohorst, elementary education, Westbrook, ME; Cathleen Murray Hyatt, accounting, Morrisonville; Kenneth Johansen, individualized studies, Plattsburgh; Mary King, health education, Keeseville; Vasso LaForest, accounting, Cadyville; Katja Lapar, psychology, Wappingers Falls; Julie Lawrence, elementary & secondary education, North Creek; Diane LaRock, accounting, Bronx, Mary Lonigro, psychology, Yankton, SD; Susan McLaughlin, psychology, DuBois, PA; Alejandro Pruitt, biology, Tampa, FL; Cheryl Smith, food and nutrition, Rochester; and Elizabeth Toscano, health education, Saranac Lake.

Final WEEKLY of Fall Term

This is the final issue of WEEKLY for the fall semester 1988. Publication will resume on January 18. News items or suggestions for articles for that issue will be welcome at any time during the semester break. The deadline for the January 18 issue is noon on Monday, January 16.

The editors and the staff wish to express their appreciation to all members of the college community whose interest and cooperation are essential to the publication of WEEKLY. We are especially indebted to the management and staff of the college's Printing and Duplicating Center.

Best wishes to all for a happy and safe holiday season!

A Holiday Message to the College Community:

Please accept my deepest gratitude for your excellent contributions and for your continuing support throughout the past year. In anticipation of an even more productive, progressive and exciting 1989 — to be highlighted by our college's Centennial Celebration — you have my best wishes for a wonderful holiday season and for a healthy and prosperous New Year.

Charles O. Warren
President

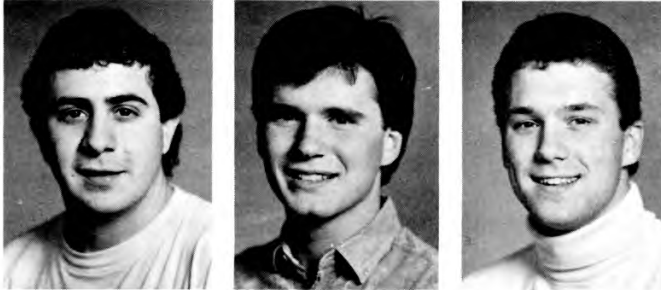

Greetings of the Holiday Season

Santora Wins SA Presidency Decisively; SASU Measure Rejected

Michael Santora, a senior double-major in economics and mathematics from Saratoga Springs, will assume the presidency of the Student Association on January 1.

Santora, a former SA senator and the association's vice president for activities during the current year, defeated Jack Weinstein by greater than a 2-1 margin (1,282-610) in elections held on Dec. 6. Ballots were cast by 1,948 students, or about one-third of the total eligible to vote.

L-R: Michael Santora, Bill Sherman and Ron Masera, who becomes the Student Association's first vice president for athletics.

In other contested races, Bill Sherman edged David Helman, 900 to 824, to win the SA's second highest office, that as executive vice president; Deborah Hoffman garnered 1,003 votes to Michael Jette's 708 to take the post as vice president for academics; and Ron Masera, with 950 votes, was the clear-cut winner in a three-way race for the newly created office of vice president for athletics. Sherman is an applied sociology major from Schenectady; Hoffman is a psychology major from Lockport; and Masera is a business (management) major from Hauppauge.

Elected unopposed to SA vice presidencies were:

Feinberg Selected as State Documents Research Depository

Feinberg Library has been selected by the New York State Library as a New York State Documents Research Depository Library.

"This is particularly significant," commented Cerise Oberman, director of libraries, "since only two libraries in the North Country Reference and Research Resources Council could be so designated. As a research depository library, Feinberg's documents collection will now receive indexes to all New York State documents, a core list of state documents in paper format, and a complete microfiche set of the documents listed in the Dictionary Catalog of Official Publications of the State of New York. This will substantially expand direct access to New York State documents for students and faculty."

Sage Doolittle (Student Services), junior, education, Garden City; Joseph E. Johnston (Finances), junior, business (management), Kings Park; Hezron Gurley (Activities), junior, business (management), Brooklyn; and Paul Sottile (Arts), junior, anthropology, Smithtown.

Doug McManus, a senior double major in business (management) and Canadian Studies, was elected unopposed as chief justice of the court of appeals. Elected as associate justices were Paul Nichols, Mark Dennis, Julie Bilello and Richard Krissel. Successful in their bids for the 15 seats on the SA Senate, by order of their finish, were: Rich Fortunato, Brian Olson, Stephen J. Mendel, Gina Vecchiarelli, Kelly Gates, Larry Magner, Lynne C. Tighe, C. Sari Gordon, Sonya B. Stanley, Leif C. Loheide, Timothy Darcy, "Clockwork" Bailey, Shaun R. Cooper, Mark Van Schaick, and Lara Froehlich.

The referendum on whether SUNY Plattsburgh students would continue as a member of the Student Association of the State University (SASU) resulted in a sound defeat for the organization. The vote ending the SA's affiliation with SASU was 1,134 to 691.

'88 Parents' Fund Drive Over the Top by a Substantial Margin

The 1988 Parents' Fund campaign has been termed "an unqualified success," and it is likely to broaden further before it ends on Dec. 31.

Dan Milliman, director of development, reports that gifts totaling $17,487 had been received from 683 parents of SUNY Plattsburgh's undergraduates as of Dec. 12. The results to date show a 123 percent increase in dollars raised this year compared to 1987 and an increase in participation of greater than 100 percent. A year ago the Parents' Fund, a component of the annual giving campaign conducted by the Plattsburgh College Foundation, generated $7,833 from 340 contributors.

Milliman said that 5,500 parents were solicited by direct mail early in the fall semester, and that 3,349 were contacted by student solicitors during a follow-up phonethon held during late October. He added that he expects gifts will continue to flow to the fund through its end-of-the-year cutoff date. Income from the fund will support an ongoing project to refurbish the late-night study room in Feinberg Library, with the next objective being purchase of new furniture for the facility.

Co-chairpersons of the campaign are Mr. and Mrs. David Belair of Allegany, and Mr. and Mrs. Franklyn J. Bullis of Roscoe. They are the parents, respectively of junior Cassandra and sophomore Joanne Belair and of junior Michele Bullis.

'88-89 Who's Who to Include Names of 41 Plattsburgh Students

The 1988-89 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges will include the names of forty-one students from SUNY Plattsburgh.

The students were selected on the basis of a combination of qualities including academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extra-curricular activities, and potential for continued success. A committee consisting of faculty, staff and students made the selections from among those students who had been nominated for consideration

Days, Millea First to Receive Scholarship Honoring Dr. Link

Two of the first three recipients of the Eugene P. Link College Scholarship are SUNY Plattsburgh students. Kevin Michael Days and Marjorie Long Professor Emeritus of history Dr. Eugene Link is flanked by Link Scholarship winners Marjorie Long Millea and Kevin Michael Days.

Millea received the awards last week during a luncheon on campus.

The Link Scholarships were created by United University Professions (UUP) to recognize fifty years of devotion by Link, professor emeritus at SUNY Plattsburgh, to the pursuit of knowledge, service to youth and leadership in academic unionism. Applicants must be full-time undergraduate students at a state-operated SUNY campus with a grade point average of at least 3.75, exhibit dedication to the goals of the trade and labor union movement, and show evidence of good character and service to SUNY.

Days, a senior library major from Old Chatham, is a Presidential Scholar, a Redcay Honors Scholar, and a winner of the Feinberg History Award. He is a member of the college's Honors Council, Phi Eta Sigma, and Omicron Delta Kappa.

Millea, a junior art major, is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, a winner of a Winkel Scholarship, and a member of the Art Resources Council. Her work has been exhibited in two student shows. A Plattsburgh resident, Millea has four children, ranging in age from 8 to 15.

for the honor by faculty, staff, and student organization presidents.

The forty-one students from SUNY Plattsburgh join students from more than 1000 institutions of higher education in all fifty states, the District of Columbia, and several foreign countries who have also been selected for this honor. Outstanding college students have been honored by being listed in this annual publication since it was first published in 1934.

The SUNY Plattsburgh students who have been selected to appear in the 1988-89 edition, their majors and hometowns, are:

Gina Abbruzzi, biology, Plattsburgh; Amy Frances Altobelli, art and theatre, Patchogue; Timothy Ayrovainen, speech-language pathology, Lindenhurst; Michael Jon Bamdad, speech-hearing science, New Hartford; Lynne Barbell, sociology, Lyon Mountain; Brian Burke, communication arts, Chateaugay; Dina Marie Casey, psychology, Ausable Forks; Jacqueline A. Cianfrocco, special education, Rome; Kimberly S. Cotton, mass communications, Keen, NH; Shawn Gerard Daley, mass media, Oneonta; Richard Davino, communication arts, Sea Cliff; Denis Dufresne, international business, Glens Falls, and Daniel Eric Estrin, environmental science, Kingston.

Also, Steven G. Frederick, counseling, West Chazy; Elizabeth Fries, psychology, Loudonville; John Gagliardo, accounting, Dix Hills; Michael Galizio, marketing, Central Islip; Robert L. Hegeman, theatre/computer science, Oneonta; Michael R. Jette, secondary education/chemistry, West Sand Lake; Joseph E. Johnston, business management, Kings Park; Kathleen Kane, professional accounting, Elmira; Michael P. Kniffin, accounting, Hyde Park; Arthur LaMarche, biochemistry/biophysics, Plattsburgh; Patricia Landry, counseling/student personnel, Clifton Park; and Thomas M. Magee, business marketing/political science, Poughkeepsie.

Also, Maribeth Maslak, chemistry/math, Bayport; Arlene J. Mason, individualized studies, Willsboro; Douglas P. McManus, business marketing/Canadian studies, Bayville; Patricia C. Millar, business management, Hamburg; Matthew J. Moore, special education, Waterford; Tina Nicholson, special education, Glens Falls; Paul L. Pierce, Jr., history/political science, Amherst; Krista Roll, secondary education-English, Galway; Kim Scalzo, computer science, Fairport; Judith A. Serth, chemistry/studio art, New Hartford; Amy Shahon, psychology, Centereach; Dena Solomon, psychology, Garrison; Christopher T. Sperl, special education, Shoreham; Scott W. Tuller, educational administration, Peru; Kimberly M. Upshaw, business management, Yonkers; and Bruce VanSchaick, accounting, Cape Vincent.

Hockey Cards Rout Colonials, Mohawks; ECAC Cites Cornwright

Stafford Arena took on the look of a rookie camp last weekend as Plattsburgh State hockey coach Steve Hoar rested some veterans to go with a heavily freshmen lineup in back-to-back victories over hapless SUNY Binghamton and a more potent North Adams State. The strategy worked against Binghamton, as the Cardinals blasted the visiting Colonials, 16-1, on Friday, but it almost backfired against the Mohawks on Saturday. In Friday's laughter, freshman defenseman Martin Beliveau tallied three goals and assisted on five others to pace the Cardinal attack. Goaltender Dave Kocsis, also a freshman, was hardly tested as he turned aside only 11 shots on net in recording his first victory in a Cardinal uniform.

Several freshmen who excelled against Binghamton dressed for the North Adams encounter, and through the first 30 minutes it appeared that the Cardinals would rout the Mohawks as they raced to a 5-0 lead. North Adams, however, caught the Cardinals in a prolonged defensive lapse, scoring four times in seven minutes before the second period ended and tying the score at 5-all early in the third. Plattsburgh regrouped for the third stanza to record an 8 - 5 decision, with freshman Steven LeMay's goal at 5:25 of the period the game-winner.

Plattsburgh's men's basketball team won two of three on the road last week, toppling Johnson State on Monday, 99-89, and upsetting St. Lawrence on Wednesday, 74-60 before bowing to Union College, 93-84, on Friday. Plattsburgh demonstrated a balanced offense during the week as Mark Cassier pumped-in 24 points to lead the Cardinals over Johnson State; Todd Wright scored 17 in the win over the Larries at Canton; and Scott Randolph tallied 24 in a losing cause at Union.

In women's basketball, T.J. Cornwright hit the nets for 26 markers and pulled down 15 rebounds in leading the Cardinals past Johnson State, 62-53, in Monday's preliminary game. Cornwright went on to score 17 points and pound the boards for double-digit caroms in each of the next two Cardinal contests later in the week, both losses — to St. Lawrence (60-51) and Clarkson (76-60). For her 21-point and 19-point performances the previous week against Potsdam and Brockport, respectively, Cornwright, a senior nursing major from Elizabethtown, earned a spot on the ECAC North-South honor roll.

SPOTLIGHT

Dr. Nancy Church, assistant professor in the School of Business and Economics, is the author of "Twenty Tips for Better Customer Service," an article featured in the "Business Sense" column in the October-November issue of National Business Woman magazine. The magazine has a circulation of 125,000-plus. . . Dr. Geoffrey Guest, assistant professor in the Center for Human Resources, will be presenting a paper entitled "Petitioning for Poor Relief in British Colonial America" to the Social Welfare History Symposium at the upcoming annual program meeting of the Council on Social Work Education. . . Dr. Charles Herod, professor in the minority studies/Afro-American studies program, reviewed Cedric Robinson's "Black Marxism: The Making of the Black Radical Tradition" and an annotated bibliography, "Afro-American Nationalism" for the Canadian Review of Studies in Nationalism, Vol. XV, No. 1-2, 1988. . . Dr. Ralph Hunkins, professor in the Center for Teacher Education and Educational Services, presented a paper, accompanied by slides, on "Teacher Education Pioneers in Vermont and Northern New York," to the Clinton County Historical Association at its December meeting. . . Dr. Jin Kim, associate professor of communication, presented a paper entitled, "Images of South Korea as portrayed in The New York Times, 1945-1987," at the annual conference of the Korean American University Professors Association held in Los Angeles. He also reviewed Cross-Cultural Adap- tation: Current Approaches by Y. Kim and W. Gudykunst (eds.) in the most recent issue of International Journal of Intercultural Relations. . . Dr. Gerald F. Kokoszka, professor of chemistry and a member of the Board of Directors of the SUNY Research Foundation, has been appointed to the board's Employee Benefits Committee, which has been charged to review employee benefit programs and recommend changes to the full board. . . A chapter by Roy S. Malpass, professor of behavioral science, appears in the newly published book "The Cross-Cultural Challenge to Social Psychology," edited by Michael Bond. Malpass's chapter is entitled "Why not cross-cultural psychology? A characterization of some mainstream views." The book is published by Sage Publications, Inc. . . Dr. Naomi McCormick, professor of psychology, presented a workshop on "Coping with Interstitial Cystitis" at a meeting of the Midcontinent Region of the Society for the Scientific Study of Sex held in Chicago. She, Dr. Taher Zandi, assistant professor of psychology, and Vernon Bullough, were members of a panel that discussed "Sexuality: An Islamic Perspective" at a society meeting held in San Francisco. . . Dr. Tim Palkovic, associate professor of theatre, will present a paper, Scene Design as Virtual Space: A Challenging Architectural View, in January at the National Conference on Design Communication, The College of Architecture in Tucson, Arizona. The paper was selected from a national competition.